GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL AMENDING PROHIBITION LAW

MEASURE BECAME EFFECTIVE
IMMEDIATELY

Number of Restrictions in Regard to Advertising Articles Used in Making Hooch

Governor McKelvie has approved and signed S. F. 185, a bill revising the prohibitory law, introduced by Randall of Cedar at the request of anti-saloon workers and law enforcement officers. The bill became effective the moment it was approved by the governor. It has been described in legislative circles as being an enactment to abolish "stilly nights and sour mash."

Although the old prohibitory law was supposed to prohibit the use of stills by prohibiting manufacture of intoxicating liquors, the bill makes it plain that every device used for manufacturing liquors and even the process or formula or recipe for manufacturing hooch is unlawful. The old law prohibited the advertising of intoxicating liquors, but the bill makes it unlawful to advertise "any device, still, preparation, process, formulae or recipe for the purpose of manufacturing same" in any public place, or on any sign board or building or to circulate or display posters, price lists, newspapers, periodicals or other printed matter within this state. All these places of advertising intoxicants were mentioned in the old law, but such advertising now applies to stills, devices or recipes for manufacture. It is still unlawful to circulate price lists or order blanks for the purpose of securing liquors. The law adds a provision authorizing sheriffs and police officers to remove such advertisements from bill boards "or to seize and confiscate any printed matter containing such advertisement whenever the same comes to his notice."

A fine of from $20 to $100 for each violation of this section is provided in the old law.

Under the old law provision is made for persons or corporations to manufacture and sell in or out of the state ethyl alcohol for medicinal, mechanical, scientific and other non-beverage purposes, such sales to be made only to wholesale and retail druggists, scientific institutions and hospitals authorized under the law to handle such alcohol. The old law permits such sales upon permit issued by the governor. This provision is retained but a paragraph is added to the old law which says that except as permitted by this section it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture any intoxicating liquor or to own, maintain or have possession of any still, or equipment for the manufacture of alcohol or whiskey of any mash or intoxicating liquor in any stage of manufacture. Any one who shall violate this provision shall be subject to a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000 and imprisonment not less than thirty days nor more than one year in jail for such offense. None of the provisions of this section and none of its penalties shall apply to persons who have obtained a permit from the United States for the manufacture of ethyl alcohol, and who have filed a certified copy of the same with the governor as provided by the state law.

Volunteer Firemen in Western Nebraska Form an Association

Gering Midwest: The firemen of Gering, Scottsbluff, Mitchell, Morrill, Minotare, Bayard and Alliance have organized a district association. Later they expect to take in Chadron, Crawford and Sidney. The initial meeting was held in Scottsbluff last Tuesday night. J. S. Tarr of Morrill, was elected president, Earl Neeley of Gering, vice president and Clyde Leach of Bayard, secretary-treasurer. A committee was appointed to frame a constitution and by-laws and will report at a meeting in the near future, at which time a name will be selected.

Union Pacific Will Begin Construction in North Platte Valley

That the extension of the Union Pacific's North Platte valley line will be started inside of thirty days and pushed to completion in time to carry the 1921 crops of western Scottsbluff county and the Goshen Hole section of Wyoming is now a certainty, says a dispatch to the Omaha World-Herald. Ten of the largest railroad building contractors in the country returned to Gering Tuesday after having traveled by auto over the thirty-five-mile extension and the thirteen-mile Cherry creek spur. They took the train for Omaha to make out and submit their bids for construction.

There is comparatively little cutting or filling to be done and no rock work. Practically all of it is known as wheel-scraper work. Only one bridge of any considerable size will be required on the extension, that being across Horse creek in the extreme west end of the county.

The extension will tap an irrigated area of more than 75,000 acres and a vastly larger area of dry land territory that has been making remarkable wheat production records for several years. Engineers are now busy making cross sections of the survey for the use of the successful bidders. The material yards will be at Haig, the present end of the line.

Commissioners Are Inspecting Roads in Western Box Butte

The county commissioners closed a busy session this month with several days devoted to inspecting roads in the western part of Box Butte county, where complaints had been made by citizens that they were in bad repair. It is expected to begin an extensive road building program this summer by putting all the main roads in condition for travel and making repairs as fast as possible on other roads. The commissioners inspected roads near Hemingford Thursday and are up in Snake Creek precinct today.

Van Graven Studio Leased for Six Months By Walter J. Perry

This week sees a change in the management of the Van Graven studio. Walter J. Perry, for some time manager of Graves' Studio of Chadron, has leased the business of P. Van Graven of this city, and will assume management thereof for the next six months, while P. VanGraven takes an extended automobile trip through California and other points on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Perry has had considerable experience in artistic photography and, in another part of this issue of The Herald, assures patrons and prospective customers there will be no hint of lowering the quality of work turned out by the studio.

Early next week P. VanGraven will leave by automobile for Long Beach, Cal., where he will join Mrs. Van Graven. He expects to stop one month in Denver, and then take the northern route for California, provided the weather will permit.

Mr. Van Graven feels the need of a vacation and believes there is no time like the present to recuperate from the hard work he has been doing. An important feature of the trip will be the visiting of western studios, both motion and still, to learn the latest ideas regarding different effects to be produced in photography. He expects to come back to Alliance at the end of the six months greatly improved in "wim, wigon and vitality," ready to buckle into the rush of work that usually comes with the holidays.

Of course this is strictly confidential, but since you're such a good friend I think I'll tell you in great secret when I come to Alliance.
