

HE BELIEVES IT'S GRANDDEST MADE

Clinton Man Tells of His Wife's Wonderful Recovery Since Taking Tanlac

"My wife is very enthusiastic over Tanlac, and we have good reason to think it is the grandest medicine in the world," said John Tesh, of 605 Tenth Ave., Clinton, Iowa.

"About a year ago she had a bilious attack and was in a very bad condition. Her stomach was in a fearful fix. She had severe pains in her back over her kidneys, and rheumatism in her arms and shoulders. We spent a lot of money trying to get her well but she kept getting worse.

"The first bottle of Tanlac made a wonderful improvement in her condition, and now she looks better and is in better health than in a long time. She has a splendid appetite, sleeps well and nothing seems to hurt her any more. We believe in 'safety first,' so she means to take several more bottles to clinch the good she has already received from it. We think it is the grandest medicine in the world."

A RURAL FINANCIER

Jobson, driving along a lonely road one morning, managed, in some way or other, to ditch his car. Fortunately a farmer hove in sight behind a pair of stout horses and Jobson appealed to him for help.

"Why, ya-as, I guess I kin help ye out, mister," said the farmer. "Let's see, what it'll come to—one day's use of the team, $5—"

"One day?" retorted Jobson. "Tisn't going to take a day to haul that machine out, is it?"

"Why, no," returned the farmer, "but arter I get the $5 I don't calculate to do any more work till tomorrow."—Boston Transcript.

DANGEROUS EXTREME

Mr. Gordon Selfridge declares that a day is coming when the aristocracy will have to work. Our pessimism goes considerably further; we foresee a time when even the working-classes will have to work.—Punch (London).

THE RIGHT PLACE

"I called for a little light on the financial question," said the man in the rural editor's sanctum.

"Well, you've struck the right place" returned the editor. "If there is anything we are light on, it is the finances."

AT THE MOVIES

"The Right to Love," with Mae Murray and David Powell in the leading roles, will be shown at the Imperial this evening. Miss Murray has the role of an American girl, who leads a wretched life with her husband, Sir Archibald Falkland, English director of the Ottoman Debt at Constantinople. In an effort to compromise his wife so he may marry another woman, Sir Archibald installs a Prince Stanislaus in his home. A Colonel Richard Loring, played by David Powell, arrives in time to rescue her from the prince, though in the resulting mix-up, Loring shoots Falkland dead. He is acquitted in the trial that follows, and he and Lady Falkland seek happiness together.

Jack Pickford is the attraction on Wednesday, in "Just Out of College," the rollicking comedy by George Ade. As Edward Worthington Swinger, he plunges from an irresponsible college career into the business world with $20,000 in his pocket, which he is resolved to double in sixty days. He hasn't the ghost of an idea how to do it. If he makes good, he gets the girl, daughter of a pickle king. If he doesn't make good, he loses the girl and the $20,000. It's a splendid picture.

"The Branded Woman," featuring Norma Talmadge, is the Thursday feature. It's one of those problem plays, with variations aplenty, from scenes in Hades, which are said to rival the most fanciful of Dore's drawings, to scenes in the Far East, where Norma, as a slave girl, is placed on the block and auctioned off. There must be a problem in a problem play, and in this case it is whether a girl can outlive the shame of her mother's past.

Foresight vs Hindsight

While it is not possible for all of us to have the foresight with which Thomas Jefferson was gifted when he made the purchase of that vast tract of land known as the Louisiana Purchase, nevertheless we can in our own way look into the future with much greater confidence if we are prepared to meet whatever conditions may arise.

And one of the best ways to prepare is to lay aside regularly a certain amount of your income, and then when opportunity does come you will thank your foresight for making it possible for you to take advantage of it.
