See the new Sport and Summer Hats just arrived. Highland-Holloway Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buechsenstein returned Monday from a trip to Omaha.

Results show that a great deal of thinking is done on things that are not worth the effort.

Another indication of an early summer is that the women are beginning to show their ears.

The man who has the reputation of being up to the minute has little time to watch the clock.

The louder a man proclaims his Americanism the more suspicious you are justified in being.

Men may have the brains to invent women's fashions, but not the build to show them off.

Hobo Taking a Rest of Thirty Days in the City's Bastille

Even the Sons of Rest don't get much rest these days. They come into Alliance riding the rods, and go out the same way within the shortest possible space of time if they realize what is good for them. Now and then, however, there is a leisurist who stands on his rights, and when the cops come across one who dallies when given the order to move on, he is allowed to rest in a cell at the city bastille and reflect.

Robert Carr is the only vag now in the city jail, and unless he evinces a sudden change of heart he is scheduled to remain there for fifteen weary days. Robert blew into town three or four weeks ago and was induced to leave by the police, who disliked the way he hung around and rested where everyone could see him. He had no money and subsisted largely on back door handouts. Robert finally left town, but he did it grumblingly. Last Friday night he returned. Alliance appeals to him. The cat came back.

For the second time, Mr. Carr was requested to pass on with the rest of the 'boes. He didn't exactly refuse, but he failed to do so and he failed so persistently and so publicly that he was arrested, charged with loitering, prowling and vagrancy, and drew a fine of $25 and costs. He immediately announced that he didn't propose to work during his incarceration. Judge Roberts reminded him that if he didn't work, he could expect pretty slim pickings in the way of grub. He didn't seem to care.

Twenty-five dollars and costs amounts to fifteen days in jail. To date, Robert has been getting along on one meal a day and has not volunteered even once to wield a shovel or push a lawnmower. Work doesn't appeal to him at all, and he's frank about it. He grumbles about the grub now and then, but seems to be satisfied with everything else. Aside from this tendency to complain about the food, he's one of the nicest guests the city ever entertained.

Real savings are to be had on our Suits of 1-3 to 1/2 less than actual values. Highland-Holloway Co.

CERTAIN CURE

Patient: "What shall I take to remove the redness from my nose?"
Doctor: "Take nothing—especially between meals."—The Bulletin (Sydney).

Now that the war is pretty well over the man who has not learned to spell trinitrotoluol may feel that he will not have to.

It may surprise Europe to learn that the United States lost more money in the war than anybody else, but they saw to it that we got least.

There are a lot of unemployed, but there are more vests with egg on them than there were a few months ago.

It is said the French know only by hearsay that the Americans are the greatest water drinking people.

There does not seem to be any immediate danger that the average man will take his job too seriously.

In the interest of international amity it might pay to bore a hole in the island of Yap and sink it.

The average reformer is sorry for what he used to do and is determined that others shall quit it.

It is hard to convince some persons that the earth was not created for their particular benefit.
