

State President of Farmers Union Talks to Crowd at Berea

The farmers' union picnic held at Berea Tuesday was an all day gathering of the farmers of Box Butte county, the object of which was to perfect an organization of the farmers' unions of this county. There are eleven locals, but so far there has been no county organization. J. C. Osborn, the state president, was present and delivered an able address on "Co-operation," in which he told of the development of the minds and talents of the people by coming together as in a local union. The speaker said that the purpose of life was to improve life, and that this was one way, and a good one, to get the most out of life, for by the co-operation of the people and the blessing of God the loads of the people would be made lighter.

No organization has done so much for the farmer as the farmers' union, he said. The union has saved millions of dollars for the farmers of Nebraska and had only just got started. Mr. Osborn said that the livestock commission company, operated by the union, had $75,000 to turn back to the stock men of this state and that if all the commission firms had done as well, the stockmen would have twelve million dollars coming to them. He said that cities are built from the profits of the farmers. Agriculture is the source of all wealth, he declared, and when the farmer gets what was coming to him, he, too, can quit work at 4 o'clock and have some time to read and cool off.

In speaking of the farmers' union insurance, Mr. Osborn said that there are eighteen million dollars sent out of Nebraska every year. Some of it goes across to England and some even to China, but the most of it goes to Wall Street. He was afraid Wall Street had something to do with our hard times.

Mr. Osborn did not exactly approve of the plan of the national co-operative marketing bureau, for the reason it commenced at the top and worked down, and he thought they should commence at the bottom and work up—commence with the producer, then to the elevator, then to the terminal and consumer. He says that it would save five hundred million dollars if the grain was marketed right and when this organization is perfected it should save that much for the farmer.

In beginning his talk, Mr. Osborn told of getting out of the train this morning and breathing the fresh air that we have here and compared it with the hot air in the city of Omaha. Miss Elsie Harris gave a reading entitled, "St. Peter at the Gate." She was called back and gave another reading. Miss Hilda Haeffner gave two readings. She was followed by Miss Laurie Colmer, who gave "Deacon Brown Goes Courting."

After the program and speaking the following officers were elected:

President of the county organization, Alex T. Lee, Alliance; secretary, H. C. Click, Hemingford; vice president, E. A. Hann, Alliance; board of directors, Jasper Jaspersen, Anton Ustohol, Hemingford; Phillip Knapp, Alliance.

There was a splendid crowd of about six hundred people who came in one hundred and ten autos, and every one had a big time. There were loads of good eats and a whole barrel of free lemonade for the children as well as the grownups.

Two ball games, one before dinner and one after, completed the program.

Next Land Lottery Comes in September at the Goshen Hole

Uncle Sam's next land lottery will be held early in September, and 15,000 acres of land in the Goshen Hole country will be the prize sought, according to the Mitchell Index.

The exact date of the drawing has not yet been fixed, and will not be until the head officials at Washington and the reclamation officials at Denver get together and fix it. But the soldiers, sailors and marines of the great war will have preference rights. The effort to include the veterans of the Spanish-American war failed, but nobody seems to know the reason why. The rules and regulations will be similar to those in force at the previous drawing in that section.

Torrington was the place selected for filing at the former opening, and will undoubtedly be one of the two places for the coming filing. But it is probable there will be two places where applicants may register, Torrington, and one of the new towns on the Union Pacific extension. All the land to be filed upon is on the south side of the river, and if filing time is as late as September there is no reason to doubt that the Union Pacific will have transportation facilities into the section covered. This will make it doubly convenient to have a registration place near the center of the land to be filed upon.

It was first suggested that there be two openings, one this spring and one in the fall, but such a storm of protest arose that the spring opening was abandoned. At the first opening there were about as many applicants as there were acres, and this record bids fair to be exceeded at the coming opening. There is more land to be filed upon, and the land hunger has greatly increased during the past year and a half. At the time of the former opening everybody was working at high wages, while today there is a vast amount of unemployment.

One Way to get Big Mileage Regularly

The importance of gasoline with a complete chain of boiling point fractions

You wouldn't expect to light a green stick with a match. Yet some gasolines are like green sticks. They neither ignite quickly nor burn up completely—because they lack sufficient low boiling-point fractions for kindling, and have too great a proportion of slow-burning elements.

Straight distilled gasoline possesses the complete chain of boiling points which assures quick ignition and practically instant, complete combustion. Every bit is converted into heat and power—gives bigger mileage per gallon than slow-burning mixtures, or less carefully refined gasoline.

How to get better results at less cost

The way to get mileage and power economically, to escape carbon troubles, to have a spry, quick-starting engine, is by perfect adjustment of the motor to the fuel used. This can only be secured by using gasoline that is UNIFORM—gasoline you can get wherever you are—gasoline that gives a lean, dry, powerful mixture under all weather conditions. Use Red Crown Gasoline.

Red Crown Gasoline has a complete chain of boiling point fractions

Red Crown Gasoline is straight distilled gasoline. It meets all specifications required by the United States Navy for motor gasoline. It has a complete chain of boiling-point fractions—low, medium and higher boiling-point fractions—which, in right proportion, assure big power and big mileage. It is uniform and dependable wherever you buy it.

Authorized Red Crown Dealers Everywhere

Wherever you go you can always get Red Crown Gasoline from reliable, competent and obliging dealers. The gasoline and motor oils they sell make motor operation more economical and more dependable. They are glad to render the little courtesies which make motoring pleasanter. Drive in where you see the Red Crown Sign.
