

Out in Society

Last Sunday, the Sisters of the St. Agnes Amadeus, joined the Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital in the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Mother Isabella. That day marked the fiftieth anniversary of the religious professor of Mother Isabella and the many tokens of appreciation and gratitude that reached her within the course of the past week were in index of the esteem of her former associates, pupils and friends.

At 8:30 A. M. Sunday, Rev. Father Constant, O. M. C., celebrated the High-Mass in the Hospital Chapel. This was followed by a sermon, which was a splendid eulogy on religious life and at the same time a summary of the work of the golden-year-old Sister.

During the course of the day, telegrams of congratulation from the various chapters of the St. Aloysius Alumnae association, New Lexington, Ohio, reached the Jubilarian telling her that those among whom she had labored for thirty-three years were with her in spirit.

At 6:30 the students of St. Agnes Academy entertained Mother Isabella and the Sisters with the following well-rendered program:

Nebraska Farm Loan Company Operations Held Up for a Time

Plans for the Nebraska Farmers' Finance corporation tentatively under way, will be held up since the resurrection of the war finance corporation seems to be ready to extend credit to farmers for the six months to three-year period, according to announcement at Nebraska farm bureau headquarters, says the Omaha Daily News.

The purpose of the state finance corporation was to enable farmers to borrow to cover production and distribution periods, which the War Finance corporation seems to do.

According to Secretary Lute of the Nebraska farm bureau this does not mean abandonment of the Nebraska corporation; only that more deliberation will be taken in organization.

Secretary Lute conferred with Carl Weil of Lincoln, one of the five bankers who will supervise the War Finance corporation activities in Nebraska, and was advised that loans will be made by the corporation through the farmers' own bank, when passed upon by the committee.

These loans will be made at the rate of 1 to 1 1/2 per cent above the federal rate, now 6 per cent, allowing the banker 2 per cent. This will bring the money to the farmers at from 9 to 9 1/2 per cent.

Loans will be made for one year with a renewal privilege up to three years, with grain, live stock, warehouse receipts, or other good collateral security. Loans of less than $1,000 will probably not be accepted, according to the information obtained by Secretary Lute from Mr. Weil.

Absence of Cut Rate Will Make Attendance Slim at G. A. R. Reunion

But one G. A. R. veteran from Box Butte county will attend the reunion of the veterans of the civil war this year, it is said. Robert Anderson of Hemingford, who has not missed a reunion for several years, will stop over in Indianapolis on his way to the south, here he will spend the winter with relatives. There are less than a dozen veterans of the civil war left in the county.

Nebraska's official delegation to the national G. A. R. encampment at Indianapolis, which opened Monday, left Lincoln in three special cars, over the Northwestern railroad, at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. It carried Department Commander W. J. Bystone, State Adjutant Harmon Bross, other department officials and most of the delegates from Nebraska.

Owing to the fact that the usual low rates were not granted this year for members of the Sons of Veterans, the Women's Relief Corps, and other affiliated organizations, they were very slimly represented on the train and at the Indianapolis meeting.

State headquarters of the G. A. R. in the capitol closed at noon Saturday and will not be reopened till after the national encampment.

In The MOVIES

Thomas Meighan in another DeMille production, "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," is the film attraction at the Imperial tonight. This is a charming picture based on Leonard Merrick's famous novel of the same name. Conrad Werrener is an army officer who finds himself old in middle life and who goes in search of his youth with interesting results. How he makes the discovery that the man who loves never is old, makes a capital story.

Wednesday the Imperial inaugurates a change in the hour for the matinee performance, which, beginning that day, will start at 2:30 instead of 3:00, as heretofore. From now on it will be possible for the lady of the house and her friends to take in the matinee performance and get home in plenty of time to get the liver cooked for hubby's supper.

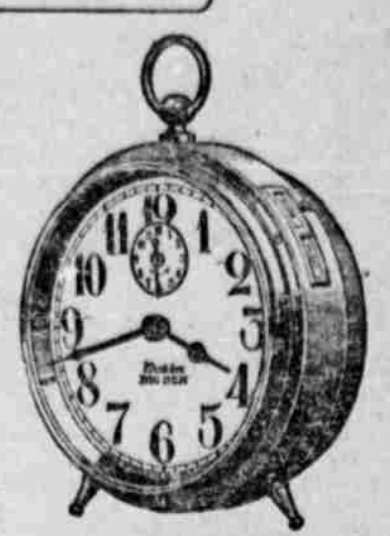

Mae Marsh in "The Little 'Fraid Lady" is the Wednesday bill. Full of love, drama and romance, the picture ranges from the quietude of the country to the wildness of a Bohemian ball. It is a tale of a refugee from the make-believe of a great city who tries to find solitude and happiness in devotion to her work as an artist in the great woods. To her came adventure through her strange relationship with a bootlegger, and love through the intuition of a baby boy that his "little 'fraid lady," was "nice."

"Body and Soul," featuring Alice Lake, is scheduled for Thursday. Miss Lake has the role of a young girl living in Paris who suffers an accident that results in mental derangement. Becoming a friend of an artist as well as his model, she later recovers her reason and goes to America. Being wrongfully accused of the murder of a friend, the crime being committed by a nephew for insurance money, she is vindicated and marries her artist lover.

Getting Up

"Ah, There's the Rub"

As Hamlet said when he couldn't make up his mind whether "to do or not to do."

But you don't have a choice about getting up. You've got to—and at the set time.

And there's just one way to make sure of that now the sun is loafing on the job. And that's to buy a good alarm clock.

We've got them—Big Ben, Little Ben, Sleepmeter—the whole Westelox family—and others of equally thoroughbred pedigrees.

All of them are down in price.

EXCELLENCE

In Shoe Repairing

You Must Consider These 4 Points

MATERIAL USED—

The difference in grades of leather that can be put into your shoe repairs will not be apparent to you until you have paid for the work and worn the shoes. We use nothing but the most lasting stock we can buy and we believe we know leather.

WORKMANSHIP—

The quality of workmanship in our shop is unquestioned. Long years of experience in working leather places us in a position of distinction in our trade.

EQUIPMENT—

"Tools do not make the workman—a genius can get more out of a fiddle, than a fiddler can get out of a Stradivarius." A good workman has good tools—BUT good tools do not make a good workman. We have the most complete equipment in Alliance—a machine for every operation that can satisfactorily be done by machinery, but our service policy is: "Hand work where quality can be increased."

THE PRICE—

After one has used the highest grade leather, and works in a thoroughly experienced manner with every modern machine that does quality work, price cuts little figure. And when you learn that our prices are as low as any in Alliance, we believe it will clinch the argument.
