succeed or fail according to their ability to save. It is with his savings that the working-man buys a home for his family. It was the professional man's savings that enabled him to attend college and reach the goal of his ambition.

The money saved from his profits in the small shop or store, helped the business man to enlarge his place and make it a big business. All these men have made themselves valuable assets to their community. They are desirable citizens, commanding the respect and admiration of their fellow men.

CHURCHES

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Sunday School at 10 a. m. All the children who formerly attended St. Matthews' will be welcome. Morning services at 11 a. m. Morning prayer and instruction. Subject of instruction, "God Visible in His Creation." Text: "For the invisible things of Him from the creation of the world, are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made." (Rom. 1:29.)
 Buying a stained-glass window may make a few folks remember you; be consistent in your church attendance and we will get to know you.
 Evening service at 8 p. m. Evening song and sermon. Text: "Be of Good Heart, Son, Thy Sins are Forgiven Thee." (Matt. ix:3.)
 Be sure you're right that the thing is wrong, then go ahead and don't do it. You ought to know if you don't, that Jesus Christ has a right to at least one hour of your time on Sunday. To deny Him this hour is wrong. Don't do it. Choir practice every Wednesday evening at the church.

An entertainment for the Sunday school children of St. Matthews' will be given in the Parish hall on Saturday afternoon. All of our Sunday school children are invited.

ANDREW O. DODGE, Rector

LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Have you a church home? Perhaps you have just recently moved to Alliance. Perhaps you are an old resident, but have never affiliated with any church. In either case a hearty invitation is extended to you to attend the services at Immanuel's Lutheran church, corner Yellowstone and Seventh.
 Services for Sunday at 2:30 o'clock in English. Come and hear the gospel for the salvation of your soul. Sunday school after the service.
 F. DROEGEMUELLER, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

"Gratitude" is the subject for the morning discourse next Lord's day. At the evening hour the subject is "Important Teachings of the Bible," or "Did Christ Deal in Non-Essentials?" Let us endeavor to show our gratitude to God by conforming our life to His teachings.

The Bible school has room for a larger attendance. The superintendent, Mrs. Reed, and her helpers will welcome you in helping to make 250 who are in time to be counted.

Tonight the Endeavors will hold a watermelon social at the church. The public is invited to come and see what other attractions will be presented.

The minister will attend the state convention of churches of Christ at Hastings October 3-6. Others are planning to attend.

Beginning October 16, C. W. Cooper will be the evangelist for a series of meetings. Let all be in prayer for the results making a successful meeting. Come to the church with a message and a welcome.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Promotion Sunday next Sunday in the school. Let every teacher prepare a list of her pupils who are ready for promotion. Six of the pastor's class will be given classes. This does not mean that this class shall be disbanded for they will meet with the pastor every other Sunday afternoon to continue study in teacher training.

We had a full house last Sunday evening, and we are expecting a large crowd next Sunday, both morning and evening. The morning subject is: "Christian Militant," Eph. 6:10. The evening series of sermons on the topic, "The Second Coming of Christ."

The question of its importance, etc., will be taken up Sunday. Two more of our young people will speak at the evening services. They are Alta Young and Elsie Fowler. Last Sunday two young men spoke. Each evening we will have two to tell the story of their conversion.

Let the members take the front seats, thus making it easy for strangers who may attend services.

We are looking forward and making preparation for our meetings in November. The pastor will conduct the meeting with perhaps the help of an evangelistic singer. Welcome to all the services.

Let all who have clothing or food that they wish the needy to have call us up and we will place them for you. The need of clothing is already being felt. Have you any wearable clothing to spare?

B. J. MINORT, Pastor.

NEBRASKA NEWS NOTES

Ran Away to Join Carnival.

LINCOLN—Flossie Feather and Mildred Snyder, 14-year-old girls, who ran away from their homes in Lincoln last week and were found by detectives in Omaha, where they had gone to join a carnival, were given an informal hearing before Judge W. M. Morning in juvenile court. The girls are being held at the county detention home until the final hearing of their case in juvenile court Friday. The story the girls told Judge Morning was that they had planned to run away and join a carnival show in Omaha. To finance themselves one of the girls took a dollar from her mother and the other forged two checks and cashed them at Lincoln stores before leaving. One of the girls purchased a new dress in Lincoln and the other a dress in Omaha. After arriving in Omaha they had their hair bobbed. They secured a job with the show but refused to take it. While trying to obtain other employment their money gave out and they were found Sunday morning.

Boy Black-Handers Caught.

OMAHA—Two school boys, James Wilson, 15, and George Schwaibold, 13, were arrested Tuesday night following three nights vigil by police armed with shotguns near a tree in Benson acres, a suburb, and are held in connection with "death notes" signed in regulation blackhand style, received last Saturday and Sunday by Gould Deitz and his brother C. N. Deitz, wealthy lumbermen. The notes, written on school stationery, demand $200 be buried "two inches under the ground" beneath the tree, police said. They said that the Wilson boy has confessed the plot, explaining that they wanted to "buy a wireless outfit." The Wilson boy is also said to have confessed he wrote a letter to Peter Cravert, demanding $200.

Phone Strike Still On.

BLOOMFIELD—Contrary to certain published reports, there has been no particular change in the telephone situation here. The big majority of striking patrons are still sticking to their guns. The exchange is open and long distance is now available but only a small per cent of the strikers had their phones re-installed. The opinion is general that nothing will be done until the first of January, at which time the rates will go back to those in effect prior to April 1, when the commission granted the tilt in rates that caused all the trouble.

Nothing Doing on Heart Balm.

LINCOLN—The district court suit of Lois M. Newman, in which Miss Newman sought judgment for $10,000 for alleged breach of promise, has been dismissed by agreement. Miss Newman alleged in her petition that Mr. Hurst proposed to her June 5, 1917 and she accepted. The date and place were set for the wedding—Thanksgiving day 1918, Council Bluffs, Ia. It was alleged Miss Newman stated that she spent $600 for her wedding trousseau and remained almost in seclusion at her home at Mr. Hurst's request. For a year following their engagement Miss Newman alleged that Mr. Hurst called at her home almost nightly, bestowing his love and affections upon her. On November 16, 1920, the last time Mr. Hurst called on Miss Newman, he kissed and caressed and told her she was the only woman he could ever love, it was alleged. Without warning to her Miss Newman alleged that her supposed husband-to-be married Ethel Johnson of Havelock on December 26, 1920. Three years of her life and the opportunity to meet others were given up to Mr. Hurst, alleged Miss Newman.

Those School Dresses are big values, at $1.29.
