NOTICE OF HEARING.

In the County Court of Box Butte County, Nebraska.

In the Matter of the Estate of Frank Fishbaugh, deceased.

All persons, both creditors and heirs, interested in the estate of Frank Fishbaugh, deceased, are hereby notified that M. A. Reeder, formerly M. A. Pease, filed her petition in this Court as the owner of the following described real estate, to-wit: the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of Section Four (4) Township Twenty eight (28) Range Forty Seven (47) Box Butte County, Nebraska; that she alleges that said Frank Fishbaugh departed this life in Box Butte County, Nebraska, on the 10th day of July, 1890, leaving no last will or testament, and praying that a time and place be fixed for a hearing on said petition and that on said hearing further administration be not had and determining the right of descent of said real property, the persons to whom it descended and their legal interest therein and the interest of the petitioner therein.

You and each of you are therefore notified that a hearing will be had on said petition on the 30th day of December, 1921, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of said date at the rooms of the County Judge of said Box Butte County at the Court House located in the town of Alliance, and that if you fail to appear and contest said petition the court will grant the prayer thereof.

(Signed) IRA E. TASH, County Judge Hollister & Cunningham, Attys. Nov. 29-Dec. 20.

DIRE DISTRESS

It Is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Alliance Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help. Neglect hurrying to the kidneys' aid means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. Here's Alliance testimony. Mrs. L. E. Joliff, 609 W. 3d St., says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills a most excellent remedy and am always glad to speak a good word for them. I have had attacks of backache and pains in my side when doing my housework that made me feel miserable. Some times when I stooped I had attacks of dizzy spells and specks came before my eyes almost blinding me. When I got one of these attacks I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Brennan's Drug Store and they cure me and leave me feeling fine."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Joliff had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

By Rev. B. J. Minort, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Alliance

The Intolerance of Christ.

We occasionally hear of this and that preacher being intolerant, but did you ever stop to notice how intolerant Christ was? A certain amount of intolerance is demanded upon the part of a real preacher of the gospel. We live in a day when the old time faith is assailed as never before, and the preacher who has nerve enough to insist on scriptural methods and doctrines is at once held up as intolerant. If one criticises something good, he is called a crank. Now, a thing may be perfect in its class, yet be inferior to a thing out of its class.

Christ was intolerant with many good things. Christ encouraged and commended a moral life, but when morality was depended upon for salvation He became at once intolerant with morality. He said, "Except your righteousness exceed that of the scribes and pharisees, ye can not enter the kingdom of heaven." Christ was intolerant with:

Ecclesiasticism, where heart righteousness was minus. Now, ecclesiasticism in its place is a good thing, but out of its place it becomes a curse. An elaborate form of worship, a grand choir and wonderful music all are good things providing they do not take the place of practical personal right living. In the twenty-third chapter of Matthew, Christ calls the pharisees serpents, vipers, hypocrites and whited sepulchures, and yet the pharisees were noted for their elaborate form of temple services. Their rituals were of the most costly, and their faithfulness to every detail of worship was one of the notable things of Jewish worship, but it was all form and Christ did not hesitate to rebuke them in no uncertain words.

If ecclesiasticism and ritualism will save, then the heathen who are sticklers for forms are in a better position than the christian churches. Ritualism in a lodge is just as effective as ritualism in a church if trusted in for salvation; but Christ says that neither can avail a man anything. Religion can save no man. It is the Lamb of God who shed his blood that can save, and all the churches and their services, be they humble or elaborate, will prove a curse if depended upon for salvation.

This brings us to another thing that Christ showed a holy intolerance with, morality without godliness. In Matthew 7:21 He calls attention to the fact that on the great judgment day many who had lived moral lives will expect to enter heaven, but to their sorrow their moral lives will not count up there. Mere morality allows the whited sepulchre kind of religion. In this world if a man is moral outwardly, he may accomplish the most immoral act; so long as he is not found out he is considered a good man. In God's sight a man must be clean both from within and without, otherwise his morality will prove a curse to him on the great day. All mere human organizations call for moral lives, but the church that is following the teaching of the Master must have more than mere external morality. It must have godliness.

Again, Christ showed a holy intolerance against mere sentimentalism minus sacrifice. The main difference between Christianity and the phariseism of today is that one calls for real sacrifice, the other for mere words. The world will never be saved on mere sentimentalism. Expressing sympathy cannot take the place of real active sympathy. There is too much of sentimentalism in the churches today. What we need is less sentiment and more result. We must prove our faith by our works. If your religion cost you nothing it is good proof that it is of no value to anyone else. You get out of religion about what you put in it. Sacrifice is the measure of love. If we are to judge some church members by this rule, they evidently love little.

Again, Christ was intolerant with enthusiasm minus perseverance. Read the ninth chapter of Luke. Who does not know of the great numbers who come out in revival meetings, and a year after they cannot be found even around the church, to say nothing of the church? The Galatian church was of that kind. The so-called annual revivals are but a proof that the churches are not what Christ intended they should be. The normal state of a church is constantly enthusiastic for the Lord's work. But now we must pump a little enthusiasm into it before we can get anything out of it.

Lastly, His intolerance was shown against knowledge minus obedience. It is not more light that we need. It is to obey the light we have. When we see how little many christians try to obey the plain teaching of scripture, it is not surprising at the little interest shown in the church by the outsiders. "Ye are My disciples if ye do what I command you." Are you a follower of the Christ?

That San Francisco judge's proposal for shooting feebleminded jurors hasn't been carried out yet, we understand, but the juries are still compelled to suffer the gas attacks of the lawyers.
