NEW HIGHWAY IS PLANNED FOR ALLIANCE

Gulf of Mexico will be the result of a meeting that was held here Wednesday by a large delegation of business men and highway boosters from central western Nebraska to northern Texas. It will be the only north and south highway that crosses every transcontinental east and west highway in the United States. It will intersect fourteen national highways in its route from Canada to the Gulf. It will be called "The Memorial Highway" in honor of the boys who gave their lives in the Civil, Spanish-American or World War, and each sector along the way will be named after some soldier who gave his life, who resided in the county through which the road passes. The marker will be of stone or similar substance, and name of each sector will be served on the stone marker. It will be a practical memorial as explained by the Secretary J. E. Butte at the meeting.

"Mr. Butte, is an ex-soldier himself and left one of his legs on the battlefield of France. But he didn't leave his brain there, nor his good judgment. He is a live wire and appears to be a young man who is abounding in good sense and he has a practical way of telling about this highway movement. He says people built monuments to the ex-soldiers, which is alright, but all they are good for is as a remembrance, while the money spent in building and marking The Memorial highway will be a practical expenditure and something that will do some good, and stand as a much greater monument to the boys who left us. The president Martin, both of whom live at Stratton, Nebraska, is also an enthusiastic officer and handled the affairs of the meeting in a very satisfactory manner.

Enthusiastic Meeting.

"The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic of its kind ever held here. Large delegations came from Canadian and Perryton, Texas; Liberty, Garden City, Oakley, Colby, Atwood, Kansas; and Stratton, Wauwata, Big Springs, Nebraska. Although Scott City was ready for them in every way we were really surprised at the enthusiasm shown by the visitors and before they left, Scott City had gotten the fever. Four directors were chosen from the southern end during this meeting, which were men from Perryton, Lioral, Garden City and Colby. The present vice-president which has moved off, the road will be chosen from Scott City in the near future. Each town and community will contribute as a whole in their dues instead of having a membership fee. The amount will be decided upon by the board of directors. Between two and three hundred people attended the meeting during the afternoon.

"In the evening a banquet was served to the visitors by the Scott City business men at the grand school cafeteria. About one hundred local men and visitors were present, and the affair was generally decided to have been one of the most successful banquets ever given in Scott City. Several visitors and local men gave toasts after the serving which were unusually snappy, causing a continuous uproar. Following one of the best feasts that has ever been put on in Scott City the men were all feeling good and the fun they did have could not be weighed in words. They bragged on each other and lambasted each other, but they were all unanimous in the statement that the ladies of the Civic league, had fed them royally. Good feeling and co-operation was the prominent feature of the whole convention and Scott City enjoyed their visit immensely."

Story of Two Oshkosh Brothers Just Like Movies

That two brothers could fight through the world war as friends and buddies and without the slightest suspicion on the part of either one of the relationship sounds rather weird in this day and age, but, according to an item in the Garden County News this fact really occurred. It says:

John C. Hall, the good natured and efficient district manager of the Platte Valley Telephone company in this city, is about the happiest man in this part of the country. Tuesday his two boys, arrived, having driven all the way from Boston and made the trip in just ten days.

These two boys, who have been separated for several years, had joined the army there being but five days difference in the time of their enlistment, although joining different units of the regular army. They were both sent to Germany with the Army of Occupation and while stationed there had been assigned to the same brigade. They had met frequently and conversed with each other but did not know each other's names.

After John had returned to this country, receiving his discharge at the expiration of his enlistment after he had arrived in Maine, he received a letter from his father stating that Joe would be discharged from the army at Boston on the 27th of April and he immediately went to that city and looked him up.

That was the first time that either of them had known that they had been together in the army in Germany and were surprised to know each other as brothers when they had been acquainted for nearly four years as buddies. The following day they started in the flivver for Oshkosh, making the record time of ten days for the trip.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, 310 1/2 Box Butte avenue. Sunday services, 11 a. m., subject, "Soul and Body." Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 8. Reading room, 310 1/2 Box Butte avenue, open every Wednesday from 2 to 4 p. m.

LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Divine service in German Sunday morning at 10:30. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Come and hear the Gospel of Christ Jesus, the only cure for all diseases, the panacea for the world's ills.

F. DROEGEMUELLER, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Communion service at 8 a. m. Communion service at 9 a. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m. Subject of sermon, "Modern Civilization and a Comparison of Our Moral Advance With Our Gigantic Material Advance." H. G. Wells said recently, "Within my lifetime, New York city may stand even more gaunt, ruinous and empty than that terrible ruin, Petersburg. The ship of civilization is not going to sink in five years time or in fifty years time. It is sinking now."

No evening services.

PRESBYTERIAN

The usual services will be held at the church Sunday morning. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Sermon at 11 a. m. by Rev. Mr. Osburn.

There will be no evening services, all members being requested to join in the union services at which the baccalaureate sermon will be given.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The sectional Sunday school board meeting held at the church Wednesday night was well attended, and Mrs. Wilson gave an interesting discussion of the primary department. Next Wednesday night the teachers upstairs will meet, and Mrs. Wollen will give a talk on "Work With Women."

Sunday morning the pastor will preach. In the evening we will have no preaching service at the church, as we join with other churches in the service at the high school where Rev. Stephen J. Epler will deliver the annual class sermon to the high school seniors.

MEARL C. SMITH, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Beginning with next Lord's day morning, the minister will deliver a series of sermons on the general subject, "The Church." The first is, "The Church a Life-Giving Institution." The subject for the baccalaureate sermon at the high school in the evening is, "What Constitutes a Life?"

We are ahead of the Scottsbluff people in the contest, but that does not mean that the victory is ours. 350 in Bible school and each one staying for church services will put us still further ahead. Do not forget that work is what brings results. Invite people and tell them to be on time and be sure to study the lesson. Special gospel music by the choir at the morning service and the male quartet at the evening service. The junior orchestra plays at all services.

The Endeavors will give a pie supper at the church on Saturday evening. This will help them in raising some funds and at the same time provide for a good social time.

The Children's day program will be given the first Sunday in June.

Come to the church with a message and a welcome.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The sacred concert given at the church by the choir was a decided success, and they will repeat the same some Sunday evening in the near future. The singing was exceptionally fine, and received the applause of the big audience. The offering was splendid and will be used to purchase such supplies as needed by the choir. We hope to make these special occasions more frequent. The church will soon be asked to appoint the delegates to the district meeting at Chadron, and as the pastor is the moderator, he would be pleased to see a large number go from here.

The Baptist church of Alliance was given quite a writeup in the National Labor paper for its efforts in the interest of workers. Also the National Labor Journal contained a lengthy article complimentary to our work.

The appearance of these two articles the pastor has been receiving letters from over the country asking for a description of the work, and many invitations to speak at various points, some of which he may accept during the hot months of July and August. Invitations from as far as Seattle and Minneapolis, and our old home town, Kansas City, the latter place being especially tempting. There will be but one preaching service Sunday owing to the baccalaureate service at the high school. Let us reach and pass our record attendance at the Bible school Sunday. Last week we did not miss it far, shall we pass it this week? Why not?

The trustees will be asked to choose the decorator this week, that the church building may be painted within. Sermon subject for Sunday morning as follows: "The Sin of Meroz—An Ancient Wave of Crime." Are we living in modern Meroz? What does this wave of crime signify? Does the church dare face it frankly? What was this sin of Meroz? Are we guilty of it? These and other questions will be discussed.

Come to the friendly church of the friendly grip. Fine music and singing.

B. J. MINOET, Pastor

80 Year Old Extra Travels 300 Miles To See Himself Act

It was night.

In his cutting room, Erich von Stroheim was busy reducing "Foolish Wives," the feature to be shown at the Imperial theatre May 30 and 31, to screen proportions.

His assistants silently worked on their various tasks and only the ticking of a French clock punctuated the stillness.

Suddenly there appeared in the doorway, the bent figure of a little old man enveloped in the loose folds of an overcoat much too large for him.

He peered about him uncertainly, his sharp, black eyes gradually growing accustomed to the light.

"Are you the fellow they call von Stroheim?" he inquired.

"That's the name to which I answer," agreed the star-director.

"Well, then you're the man I'm looking for," said the old man. "I've come down here from Monterey to see that play of yours called 'Foolish Wives,' and I can't find it at the theatres nowhere. I asked some folks about it and they said it wasn't done yet."

"That's right," agreed von Stroheim, "it doesn't come to Los Angeles until later—perhaps some time in January."

"Yes, but I can't wait that long—it ain't safe," replied the little man. "My heart ain't what it used to be and I'm goin' on eighty. I want to see that picture."

"And why are you so interested in 'Foolish Wives'?" questioned von Stroheim.

"Because I'm in it," declared the old man with a little grin. "I'm the old fellow that you stopped on the road that day up near Carmel and told one of your men to make up for atmosphere."

"In the picture you can't miss me; I've got on a bandanna handkerchief around my head and I'm out in front of the pigeon shoot on your set at Point Lobos. It was a lot of trouble for me to get neighbors to look after my chickens and horses and cows, while I stayed up there and worked in the movies—but it was good fun and if I wasn't so old, I'd be an actor yet."

"I can't wait 'til January to see the picture—it ain't safe—so there ought to be something you could do about it."

There was.

Mr. von Stroheim made arrangements for the man to see the pre-view of "Foolish Wives" shown for the censors on their visit as the guests of Carl Laemmle to Universal City and Los Angeles, after which the old fellow went back to his cows and chickens, satisfied with his fling at high life in Monte Carlo.

BLACKROOT

The wind last Thursday did quite a little damage out in this neighborhood. Scotty Henderson had seven windmills to repair. Charles Hookham had one and M. A. Sheldon one. It also blew over hay racks, garages, and took the roof off of some barns.

Mrs. Jay Hall is recovering quickly from the small pox. The children of Carey Johnson are reported to be doing nicely.

Metha Klemke is working at Flaherty's at present.

Dale Henderson and Bernard Flaherly, Miss Shanks and Metha Klemke attended the dance at Klemke's last Saturday night. They report a fine time.

The baseball game last Sunday between Lawn and the Red Sox at the Lawn diamond was won by the Lawn boys, the score being 8 to 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Westlake and son, Vincent, visited at the Cal Leis home Sunday.
