DR. J. P. WEYRENS TELLS LIONS OF "THYROID GLAND"

William, the older brother, was characterized as the executive wizard of the Mayo institution. It is he, according to Dr. Weyrens who can keep 170 doctors all working along the same lines, together, and without the least friction of any kind.

Cub Weyrens spoke most feelingly in favor of the great work that the Mayo brothers are doing today, and have done for the past twenty years particularly to assist in the advancement of medical and surgical knowledge in the United States. Often, said he, great sums of money have been expended in order that our surgeons and physicians may have the advantage of the most advanced specialists in the world. An example in point was the importing, at great cost, of the eminent French specialist, who explained and demonstrated the new system of administering local anesthetic which permits the patient to retain possession of his senses during an operation, does not in any way pain the patient during the surgical work, and leaves the patient with little or no sickness afterward.

Dr. Weyrens spoke also of the great work the Mayo Foundation, recently made part of the University of Minnesota, is doing. They select about fifty graduate medical men (from over one thousand applications) and enlist them in a three-year course of specialization work. The students are paid by the year, $500, $750 and $1,000 respectively. They are permitted to take any kind of work along special lines, and given every assistance. Many of them do individual research work, such as that done a few years past by Dr. E. C. Kendall, who discovered the substance secreted by the thyroid gland, and has made marked progress in the treatment of the many kinds of goitre.

It was of the subject of goitre and its treatment that Dr. Weyrens had prepared a lantern lecture which was presented to the Lions club. It included photographs of the laboratories where Dr. Kendall isolated the substance secreted by the thyroid glands. Pictures of the crystals were shown. The doctor explained how this substance, called thyroxin by Dr. Kendall, controlled the change of tissues that is constantly taking place in the human body, whenever a muscle is used or an action taken. It is this gland and its secretion that maintains the balance, so to speak. If the gland over-exerts itself, or refuses to function properly, great damage to the human system results.

Several pictures were shown of patients suffering from one form or another of improper functioning of this gland, together with photographs taken after proper treatment had been administered. The effect was marked in every instance.

Dr. Weyrens was detained several minutes after the lecture answering questions by interested Lions.

FERRIS WHEEL OF PARIS TORN DOWN BEING UNPROFITABLE

Americans visiting Paris will no longer see the famous Ferris wheel which with the Eiffel tower for twenty years has been one of the most familiar landmarks of the French capital.

Modern needs have decreed that the colossal wheel make way for a more profitable investment. Workmen are now dismantling the huge steel structure, the axle of which alone weighs 72,000 pounds and is set a distance of 164 feet from the ground.

Built in 1909, at the time of the Paris exhibition from plans of an American engineer whose name it bears, the gigantic wheel has afforded pleasure and amusement to hundreds of thousands of Parisians and foreign visitors, young and old.

Colerick maintains that he was merely standing in front of the barber shop, whistling, when the old gentleman attacked him.
