

In The MOVIES

AT THE IMPERIAL.

If smokeless powder, machine guns, revolvers, silencers and other inventions connected with high explosives mean anything, there should be a great many thrills in the new William Fox special photoplay, "A Virgin Paradise," which will be presented at the Imperial theatre two days commencing Friday and Saturday.

The chief reason for expecting big moments in this play lies in the fact that the story was written and created by Hiram Percy Maxim, the famous inventor of the Maxim Silencer, used on rifles, revolvers, automobile engines, motor boats and all kinds of explosive machinery. The picture stars Pearl White and has been beautifully screened for Fox by Director J. Searle Dawley, who is considered to have achieved a masterpiece of beautiful photographic and interesting dramatic scenes.

Sunday and Monday are "rare treat nights" at the Imperial. A double program of master productions await our patrons on these two nights. The picture you have heard about, Charlie Chaplin in "Pay Day," will measure higher than your expectations. The Imperial management feels that it cannot recommend this super film too highly to its patrons. Every report contains only the highest praise. Ever since the passing of the "poor men's clubs" back-yard quartettes have been at a premium; but Charles Chaplin revives this historic custom in "Pay Day," his latest comedy for First National in which he and his companions engage in a tremulous rendition of sentimental ballads outside the door of the pub. The sweet music continues long enough to arouse the neighbors, but no longer. Typical means are employed to bring the melodies to an end and a sudden downpour of rain completes the defeat of the midnight rounders. "Pay Day" is only two reels long, but is said to be one of the brightest gems of comedy that Chaplin has ever given the screen.

Feature number two for Sunday and Monday is "A Broken Doll," an Allan Dwan production with Monte Blue and Mary Thurman. Do childhood's memories sing in your brain? Does the romance of youth still thrill in your veins? Does the spirit of adventure lure you along on the wings of fancy? If they do, you will want to see this film.

AT THE RIALTO.

Tonight at the Rialto you will see an Allan Dwan production, "The Sin of Martha Qued." Marvin Qued, was a virtuous man—in his own eyes. He so abhorred sin that he found it in everybody but himself. He did not know that the wrong he found in others was only the evil in his own mind. There had never been a blot on the fair name of Qued. All the Qued women had been models of virtue. And now the name was smirched by his own daughter. Mr. Dwan's picture is not a preachment; it simply depicts an entirely possible situation that occurs in the lives of very real, every day American folks.

Saturday night Metro pictures corporation presents Alice Lake in "The Hole in the Wall." It is a former Broadway thriller, made into a picture of the underworld, the spirit world and the society world. It is a story packed with the dynamite of explosive emotions, and Mr. Jackson has contrived a surprise ending that is the big sensation of the picture. The adaptation for the screen was written by June Mathis, who adapted "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power."

The popular film favorite, Viola Dana comes to the Rialto Sunday in "Home Stuff," a Metro production. In "Home Stuff" Miss Dana has the stellar role of Madge Joy, leading lady of a cheap road show, which suddenly comes to a standstill in a little town for want of funds. Chance puts in her way both the refuge of a cozy farm, where she comes to live as one of the family, and the love of a young farmer. Then fate enters by bringing into the peaceful household Madge's past. The complications and thrills which are moulded into the picture would take too long to tell.

Monday night see the third Metro production on consecutive nights at the Rialto, with Bert Lytell in "A Trip to Paradise." It should be a joyfully, if the reputation of its creators have anything to do with it. The triple alliance—Bert Lytell, star; Maxwell Karger, director, and Jane Mathis, scenario writer—which has been responsible for the success of many Metro productions have again united forces in the production of "A Trip to Paradise," Mr. Lytell's newest picture. Mr. Lytell is supported by a strong cast, including Virginia Valli, Unice Vin Moore, Brinsley Shaw and others.

RANDOM SHOTS

This is not so bad for a starter.

If you don't see the kick in it, don't pass over it lightly. Ponder over it.

"So that's the picture of the horse you used to ride to see your best girl, in the pre-flivver days, is it?"
"Yep, that's my sparkplug."—Retail Ledger.

We're glad some folks can be funny. Here is one that strikes our fancy. It reminds us of the old days when we had to pump 'em.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

A retail dealer in leather goods, doing business in Baltimore, wrote to a firm in southern Massachusetts ordering a corload of merchandise. The firm wired him—"Cannot ship your order until last consignment is paid for."
"Unable to wait so long," telegraphed the merchant. "Cancel the order."—Joy Book.

It is a fortunate thing for Leo the rymster that Frederick E. Castle of Newark, N. J., did not live in Box Butte county.

The famous, tho short-lived, battle of poetical wits would never have been waged, had Frederick's poem been brought to light in this county.

The poetic feet do not always track, but the sentiment therein doth have a powerful appeal. Castle's last will and testament read like this:

"All my earthly goods I have in store, To my dear wife I leave for evermore, I freely give—no limit do I fix; This my will and she my executrix."

Some men are good through and through.

And then there are others who are more popular with the ladies.

Ladies, inspect your headgear. Perhaps you are the unfortunate one who unwittingly left part of a perfectly good set of curls at the Rialto Wednesday matinee.

We believe the rightful owner could easily regain possession of the lost toilet requisite by applying to the management of the theatre.

HEMINGFORD

Miss Ruth Multhead, who has been attending school at the Woman's college at Jacksonville, Ill., arrived home Friday of this week. She has been away for the entire school term and everyone is glad to see her again.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Potmesil went to Alliance Monday and on Tuesday Mr. Potmesil underwent an operation at the hospital there. He is getting along fine and expects to be home in a week.

Miss Leah Lamon, who has been in the hospital at Alliance, went to her home at Belmont the first of the week. George F. Jones, who is the Republican candidate for sheriff at the primary, July 18, is in Alliance this week getting acquainted and telling the people where he stands on the important questions, etc.

J. Oliver has also filed for sheriff of the county and has his cards in the windows.

Mr. Randall of Scottsbluff was in town on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. He has his farm that was sold some time ago deeded back to him again. He left for his home on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Ramond and son and daughter and Inez Jones were in Alliance Wednesday of this week.

W. L. Clark and Rev. A. J. May were in Alliance Wednesday.

Mrs. C. E. Wahl and Winifred were Alliance callers Wednesday of this week.

About fifteen of the Hemingford young people left the latter part of the week for Chadron to attend the normal this term.

Miss Helen Andrews went to Chadron with some friends Sunday for the day, returning the same afternoon.

The I. O. O. F. Memorial sermon and service that was to have been next Sunday the 11th was postponed until one week later or June 18, when Rev. A. J. May will preach the Memorial sermon at the Methodist church in the afternoon at 2:30, following which they will march or drive to the cemetery together with the Rebeccas and decorate the graves of departed members of the two orders.

The ladies' aid of the M. E. church met at the church this week on Thursday and Mesdames Coil and Gibson served a good lunch.

Muri Price was in town on Tuesday of this week. The Foreign missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs.

Ed Zurcher on Thursday. After the meeting she served a very fine and delicious lunch.

The work on the Congregational church is progressing and will be completed in the near future.

Sheriff Miller was in town the first of the week and we are always glad to see him if there is nothing against us.

Robert Embree is working in the Lockwood store this week in the absence of Mr. Jones.

THE FIRST STATE BANK is pleased to announce the adoption of

The Insured Savings Account Plan

$1,000—REWARD—$1,000 for those who take up this plan

In ten years, or any shorter time you select, your thrift will be rewarded by $1,000 to $25,000 in Cash—depending upon what amount you save each month—which will be to your credit in our Savings Department at the completion of your Thrift Plan.

Begin now to save for that trip, the education of your child, the payment of a mortgage, the purchase of a home, the starting of a "nest egg" for business.

As little as $1.00 a week saved here will start you in this new plan.

SUPPOSE YOU DIE BEFORE YOUR GOAL OF SO MUCH SAVED IS REACHED?

By this plan, it makes no difference! There is paid the $1,000-$25,000 you had aspired to accumulate just the same, PLUS the balance in your savings account at death.

LIVE OR DIE, THEREFORE, THE SUCCESS OF YOUR THRIFT PLAN IS CERTAIN.

Are you going to be a success? Apply Jim Hill's test: "Can you save money? If not, you will fail as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you." Start now to be a success.

Your Deposits Draw 5% Interest Compounded Twice a Year.
