The above prices are genuine. Buy from the list if you need goods in that line. If not you may know that the SAME REDUCTION PREVAILS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Don't pay steep prices. What we mention may sound ridiculously low. Seeing is believing. We have the goods and no mistake. Buy before the assortment is picked over. Never since North Platte was made a city were like inducements offered you. Don't think for a moment because we give you low prices on goods that they are shoddy. It's a mistake to presume so. They are all right and we guarantee it. Other goods proportionately low at the same cut decline.

T. J. FOLEY NORTH PLATTE, NEBRASKA:

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF GROCERIES.

The Tribune.

STEVENS & BARE, EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1887.

While in Denver last week F. D. Nowell made a contract for one thousand tons of hay at a good price.

Bob Ginn, who was hurt in the yards last week, is doing nicely and will be on the streets again in a few days.

By reference to notices elsewhere it will be seen the Union Pacific offers extraordinary low rates to St. Louis and Denver. Traveling now is almost as cheap as staying at home.

H. Jewett, of Maxwell, who was thrown from a horse recently and severely injured, was in town Monday. He is recovering, but is forced to use crutches in aiding locomotion.

J. Q. Thacker has secured the services of Harry C. Bickendorfer as chief clerk in his popular drug store. Mr. B. is a licensed pharmacist under the laws of this state, and thoroughly understands the drug business.

It is probable there will be a game of ball during the fair between the employees of the railroad offices and the printers. In the last game played by the typographical artists they came out victorious and the railroad clerks are anxious to wrest the pennant from them.

While in town Wednesday Ed. Gillett exhibited a large tarantula which he had killed in the hills near Salida, Colo. It was a huge one, when spread out being as large as a man's hand. The tarantula is dreaded by miners and others who camp out, the scratch of beast the being quite poisonous.

The material for the water works has mostly arrived and work will commence immediately. Mr. M. Walker has the contract to do the work, under the supervision of Mr. A. S. Barnes who represents the Company.

The Secretary of the agricultural society desires us to state that shareholders admission tickets to the fair are now ready and that they are requested to call at his office and get the same before the commencement of the fair. Shareholders are also entitled to quarter-stretch tickets, which can be procured at the same time.

During the continuance of the Keth county fair a base ball tournament will be held, the prize being $100 and the championship of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado to the winning club. As our club has disbanded it will not be possible for North Platte to win the money and fame.

Lewis Kelley, the silver-tongued orator of Red Willow precinct, has been elected commander of the W. F. Cody Post G. A. R. recently organized at Wallace, this county. Mr. Kelley is a politician of considerable magnitude in his precinct and those who attend the county convention next Wednesday may expect a display of his oratory.

A farmer living near town says that farmers are feeding wheat to stock in preference to selling at 40 to 45 cents per bushel and buying feed at 90 cents per hundred pounds. He thinks this is deplorable and hard on the farmer. Forty-five cents is not a remunerative price for wheat; but it only takes two bushels to buy 100 lbs. of bran or shorts. This is equivalent to a toll of one-sixth. Is that too much? And is not our correspondent "all" when he says "but they justly claim it pays them (the farmers) better to feed it than to sell for 40 and 45 cents per bushel and buy shorts and bran at nearly $1.00 per hundred?"

Eighteen hundred head of cattle were fed at the stock yards Thursday.

Frank Peale's store building on north Locust street is approaching completion. It makes an imposing appearance.

The firm of Carry & Harris has been dissolved by mutual consent, Dr. Harris retiring.

Charley Wyman and E. W. Murphy rejoice over the advent of new hair at their respective homes.

Every man, woman and child in town should spend at least two afternoons on the fair grounds next week.

Town lots in the new village of Wallace are changing hands, although no plat has yet been filed in the office of the county clerk.

The Trappers is getting fixed up in its new quarters over Foley's store and is ready for business. Call in and see us and bring on your work.

Last evening a party of eighteen or twenty young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed the hospitality always found at the Cody residence.

Prairie chickens are not as plentiful as it was supposed they would be and sportsmen in quest of the bird are not meeting with very great success.

Father Barrett, for some time past stationed at Sidney, is in charge of the church at this place during the absence of Father Conway.

The new mill is about ready for work, although it will likely be several days yet before the machinery will be in proper working order.

The De Lorme-Nell Theatre Co. will be here about Oct. 10th and will probably remain one week, giving an entertainment each evening.

The rifle club has been organized and the members got in their first practice on the range Wednesday evening. This organization will no doubt turn out some crack shots.

Plain as well as obstreperous drunks have been unusually scarce of late and the police yearn for a revival of business in this direction just to break the monotony.

W. W. Birge has commenced the foundation of a fine residence on west Fifth street, adjoining his present residence. Fifth street is rapidly becoming the Fifth Avenue of North Platte.

The Pratt school will be opened next Monday, with Miss Bertha Theolecke as teacher. This is Miss Theolecke's first term at teaching but as she passed an excellent examination and is a graduate of the North Platte High School, there is no question but what the directors of that district have secured a good teacher.

About the McFadden's Double Uncle Tom's Cabin to appear at the opera house next Tuesday Sept. 20th, the Omaha Daily Bee says: "The best Uncle Tom show that has appeared in Omaha for years appeared at the opera house last evening. The company is McFadden's, and since its appearance here last year has been greatly strengthened and improved. Every feature of the performance was enjoyed last evening especially the singing and dancing of the Little Putnam (twin sisters), the jolly crowd and the Topsy."
