STEVENS & BARE, EDITORS AND PROP.

SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1888.

John Delay of Fairview precinct, says he will deliver to the North Platte creamery the milk of 200 cows; he says that is the number that will be milked in his neighborhood the year around.

Rev. Geo. W. Martin received into the Methodist Episcopal church last Sabbath eight persons. The general interest of the church is increasing.

On the occasion of her fifth birthday Saturday, Fern Griffin gave a party to over a dozen of her friends. With Mrs. Griffin to take care of them the little people had a delightful afternoon.

Services at Baptist church March 18. Morning subject, "If any Man's Work be Buried he Shall Suffer Loss." Evening subject, "First Official Act of Christ" followed by ordinance of baptism.

Next Sabbath the usual services at the Methodist Episcopal church conducted by the pastor. Subject of morning sermon "Behold the Man." Subject in the evening, "Hell Made by a Tongue."

Platte Valley Lodge, F. & A. M., will hold a sociable at the Court house on Tuesday evening, March 20th. All Masons in good standing with their families are cordially invited to attend.

Our correspondent speaks of a saloon in Wellfleet. Where did a saloon get exported to do business in Wellfleet? There is such an institution running in that village, it is doing business without a license acquired according to law.

The heads of four families are camped on the north side. They hail from Sangamon county, Ill., and brought with them four car loads of horses, poultry, wagons, carriages, implements, fruit trees, etc., in fact they are well fixed as regards worldly goods. They will settle north-west of the city.

Ray Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Keith, gave a birthday party to his little girl and boy associates Thursday, that day making his seventh anniversary. The little guests apparently enjoyed themselves as much as older people would under similar circumstances.

W. H. Gatward, of Kleck & Gatward went down to Curtis Wednesday to buy a bunch of corn-fed steers. This firm has experienced some difficulty in obtaining enough corn-fed cattle to supply their markets. Grass-fed animals are plentiful but they are not considered first-class meat at this season of the year.

The members of our Washington delegation are on their way home, Mr. Grimes having started on Tuesday in order to be at Omaha Thursday at the public club convention. Judge Hinman gave a dinner to the Nebraska delegation on Wednesday evening. If the bill passes North Platte is all right, there seems to be scarcely a doubt.

At a meeting of the Episcopal vestry held Saturday afternoon, a letter was addressed to Bishop Worthington requesting that the church in securing a clergyman. The Episcopal people have long been without a rector and they are naturally very anxious to enjoy the privilege of their service.

Through the efforts of Squire Hawley Hon. Robt. Chadwick of Chester, Pa., has become an active worker for the bill seeking new territory in Nebraska. He is a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, and a personal friend of Dep. Cassius M. Chittick is interested in the propriety of Lincoln county, having secured the bill in the legislature. He is benighted in getting the bill out of the hands of the committee.

M. O'Brien of South Bend, superintendent of the state fish board, accompanied by Judge Kennedy, member of the board, stopped off the train Tuesday evening. He here they put 30,000 pike and trout in the Muddy. From here they went to Whitman, where they will stock the head waters of the Loup rivers, gentlemen will return the latter part of the week, and may be induced to stop over a day or two.—Broken Bow Republican.

Sheriff J. B. Dean of Logan county, was in the city Wednesday, the object of his visit being to get the thousand dollars Uncle Sam agreed to give him for capturing the desperado Parker. He got the money. Mr. Dean's numerous friends in North Platte joined heartily in congratulating him on his success. He deserved it. Few men even young in years would have tackled Parker under the circumstances, knowing as they did that a slip was sure death for Parker would not have hesitated a minute to kill his assailant.

The Union Pacific has just arranged with its eastern connections for a series of semi-monthly excursions to all points on its lines in Kansas and Nebraska, and as far west as Sterling, Colorado, on the Nebraska division. Tickets for the round trip will be sold at the rate of about one limited fare by way of all Missouri River points over the Union Pacific. Ten days will be allowed going and five returning, and the tickets will be good for thirty days with stop-over privileges within these limits, over the Union Pacific lines in the states named.

County Supt. Langford has made many improvements in his office lately. All the books and blanks have been placed in order so that any one required can be found without delay. To properly keep the papers of each district so they can be found at any time by any one, a large case with 100 pigeon holes has been purchased. Each box is numbered, and the number being the number of the district. Every paper pertaining to the history of the district is placed in its proper receptacle. Thus it is only the work of a minute to see if there is anything lacking that is required to constitute a legal formation. In gathering up these papers it is found many important documents are missing.

Elsewhere will be found Gen. Thayer's proclamation offering a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer of Fred Fischer. In this connection it is not out of place to refer to the circumstances of the murder. Fred Fischer was killed at his home on the lower end of Brady Island about the 15th of June last. The body was not found until several days later, in an advanced stage of decomposition. He had been shot through the head, the ball entering from behind. After the killing, the body had been dragged into the brush for concealment. Money was not the object of the murder, as was evidenced by the fact that no robbery was committed. At the inquest nothing was elicited that would justify an arrest. Only about two things were manifest—he had been murdered, but had not been murdered for money. To discover the murderer will take time and expense. Hence the proclamation of the Governor. Although rather late, it is as possible to bring the guilty party to justice if he can be found. Fischer was a native of Germany, about 50 years of age, and was one of the early settlers of the county.

FOR RENT House with two rooms. CON SHERMAN.

The Woman's Christian Union is still doing noble work in providing for the wants of our home poor. Sewing circles are held weekly, at which children's garments are made.

During the past week the demand for daily papers containing news of the progress of the engineer's strike has been very large, the buyers being principally railroad men.

MARRIED—At the home of the officiating minister, Jno. T. Hopkins, on Monday evening, March 12th, Mr. Chas. A. Sibley, and Miss Mary E. Sibley, both of Fox Creek, Lincoln Co., Neb.

J. I. Nesbitt and J. E. Evans went down to Omaha Wednesday night to attend the meeting of Republican clubs and of the State central committee. They had a fine time, the banquet given at the Millard Hotel being an enjoyable feature.

T. J. Foley is making great reductions in goods, attracting buyers from long distances. The sale will continue for two weeks yet, and every family in the county who wants to save money, and they all do, should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Probably on account of not wishing to interfere with the sociable given by the Presbyterian people, the Methodist sociable advertised to take place at the residence of B. L. Robinson last Thursday evening has been postponed until Thursday evening next.

Workmen have been engaged this week in renovating the north side of the Grady block preparatory to its occupancy by Mr. Broach, the photographer. A large top and side light has been put on the building, and the workmen are taking pictures.

The material and machinery for boring the deep wells for the water works has arrived and work will probably commence next week. The work of laying the balance of the water mains will also be commenced soon and prosecuted with all the vigor possible until finished.

As a mark of respect for the late T. J. Potter the railroad shops were closed Tuesday, the day upon which the funeral of the deceased occurred. Mr. Potter was held in high esteem by the railroad men of this city, some of whom worked for the C. & N. P. during his management of that road.

A number of our younger society people have been indulging in a number of surprise parties lately, taking George Patterson unawares on Thursday evening of last week and last night they were preparing to make an attack on the Walsh residence, and thereby surprise Miss Edna. These parties are said to be very enjoyable.

Although only three weeks old, the Paxton Pilot is having a lively tilt with the Ogallala papers over the county printing. We have abiding faith in Broader Wilson's ability to hold the Ogallala fire eaters level. Having faced the enemy in the late war for several years and left an arm on the battle field, he is not afraid of newspaper engagements.

At a meeting of the U. P. Library Association Saturday evening R. J. Wyman was elected president, J. M. Tracy, vice president, George F. Ingersoll, W. W. Conklin secretary and librarian, and Wm. Roche, Wm. Collins, and Jos. Herrod directors. The library still continues to be well patronized and is well filling the purpose for which it was organized.

Every true son of Erin will wear his little green ribbon to-day in honor of St. Patrick the patron saint of Ireland. North Platte has a full quota of Irishmen and they constitute a goodly part of the business and professional classes.

The feasibility of holding a Mikado party, or one of that nature, is being talked up, the affair to take place soon after the Lenten season has closed. It would no doubt prove a novel and pleasant party and THE TRIBUNE always in favor of seeing people have a good time, trusts the project will assume material form.

County Treasurer Ogogod is making a vigorous effort to collect old delinquent personal taxes. A good many people are considerably surprised when confronted with these old accounts. It may be hard to pay them, but it is only justice to those who have been regular contributors to the public funds for years that their fellow citizens should assist in the work.

During the past four weeks THE TRIBUNE has added over one hundred subscribers to its list, an indication that the paper is not retrograding in the eyes of the public. The publishers have several improvements in view which will redound to the interests of the readers in more ways than one. To the friends who have in the past spoken good words for the paper, we return our thanks and trust they will keep up the good work they have inaugurated.

R. D. Thomson has been employed by the commissioners to draw plans for the jail, which are completed. The design we should judge is an excellent one, and if adopted the building will be a slightly better one than the one now at the southeast corner of the block west of the court house, an excellent location.

Sixty-nine dogs have applied to City Clerk Warner for license to live another year. Mr. Warner is very obliging in this matter, and when a dog comes armed with three dollars and a license, he will give it, but if they come without the money they are turned over to the tender mercies of the city marshal to be provided for according to law. All good dogs should have a little money and a license, if they enjoy the pleasures of this vain world.

The scheme for the formation of a military company promises success, about twenty young and able-bodied men having signified their desire to join. E. B. Warner is taking a leading part in the recruiting service and we apprehend that it will be long until he will have acquired the title of Captain. The company will not be organized with less than twenty-five names, and we don't believe it will be a very difficult matter to get forty.

Missionary work being in order, perhaps the street commissioner could do some good by bending his energies in that direction. In some of the alleys in the business part of town, which are full of accumulations of debris can be removed with profit to the general public in a sanitary sense. The s. c. may not consider this missionary work, but we think it is cleanliness is next to godliness, and some people might be converted to cleanliness as a means of saving grace.

A large and good natured crowd attended the Presbyterian ten-cent concert at the Belton residence Thursday evening, and we believe all present had about as pleasant a time as they could desire. The music furnished by the choir, which consisted of solos, duets, quartets and choruses was well rendered and heard and applauded as were also the duets on the piano and violin by Mrs. Carey and Mr. Byerly. Progressive Angling in a mild form was indulged in by some while others played a new style bean-bag game. Altogether the affair was a success.

The city council holds its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night.

T. R. O'Connell, with Nesbitt & Grimes, has been commissioned a notary public by Gov. Thayer.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Emory in Birdwood precinct, on March 15th, a young lady came to stay.

As warm weather is approaching, housewives will take much interest in what Strickler has to say relative to gasoline stoves.

John Hinman is taking advantage of the pleasant weather and is rushing work on his new house near the Lutheran church.

E. B. Warner was the first candidate to hand in his announcement and has signified his intention of "staying with them" until the votes are counted.

Wild geese and ducks are plenty in the lakes and streams near town. Hunters say they are unusually wild, and that it takes a good deal to get a bird.

A Mr. Keene, of St. Paul, has rented the post office room and understands will shortly open a confectionery, notion and news stand.

The Georgia Minstrels, an organization that has appeared in this city before, gave a performance at the opera house last night.

The county clerk has the assessors books nearly ready. The annual re-graduations of these honored individuals may be expected soon.

Mrs. W. M. Hinman has been hired by the board of school directors to take the school census of this district. Mrs. H. has a whole train load of energy and life. She will make a thorough enumeration.

Arbor Day in Nebraska is fixed by law April 23d. April 23d this year comes on Sunday, the Monday following will be considered Arbor Day.

The fine weather is giving every body the "spring fever." Exciting local news is being reported with the same avidity, for news of interest is hard to find.

C. A. Sherman has moved into the house he recently purchased from John Hinman, Rev. Hopkins moving into a house opposite the one occupied by Warren Davis.

Miss Katie McKeon having resigned as teacher in school district No. 8, the school will open again Monday with Miss Allie Stannard teacher.

In Birdwood precinct Monday evening a large number of people met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gowins, where the neighbors assembled, some forty in number, and all indulged in a hop till morning.

The National Bank Examiner, of the district composed of Nebraska and Kansas, was in town this week making an examination of the First National, the records of which for a course found correct.

A large painting, executed by Miss Lola Gillett, is displayed in Conway & Keith's window this week. It reflects much credit on the young lady artist and shows she has natural talent in this direction.

Those fond of amusement should attend the entertainment to be given at the opera house this evening by the St. Patrick Literary Society. The play to be rendered is said to be the strongest this society has yet presented.

Joe Casey drew a sketch of the Bullwinkle Mitchell mill, giving a representation of each room as depicted by the daily press reports. It was very neat and when posted in the next issue of THE TRIBUNE every passer-by would have to give thanks to the artist.

The Engineer's Strike. Early in the week reports indicated an early settlement of the differences between the C. & N. P. and the engineers, but negotiations of compromise if any were had evidently came to naught. The managers of the Q Company are operating their road, of course with great cheerfulness, but the business is confined wholly to local traffic. Very few through packages are carried, and shippers of course will not send their goods by that line. The efforts of the company to make other companies receive their freight and cars, may result in favorable edicts by the courts, but that will not help them much; people will not ship by a line whose cars are liable to be side-tracked and be months in reaching their destination. As long as the strike continues the Q will be under a cloud. Already the company has sustained immense loss, running up into millions of dollars. In justice to the public, if for no other consideration, a compromise should be effected without delay. Ruin in a great measure to business of the people living along the line of its roads, and bankruptcy are inevitable results of the present policy.

At one time there were fears of a general strike, but there appears to be no danger of that now; the policy of the engineers is changed. The sympathy of the general public has been with them from the start, but a general strike would lose them the most important support. By pursuing their present policy they will attain their ends and retain the support of the people.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS. C. F. Iddings made a business trip to the capital city of Wyoming this week.

J. D. Murphy, of Iowa, is visiting his brother E. W. of this city.

Warren Lloyd has been in Illinois this week, where he was called to the bedside of a sick sister.

Fred Stoddard was in from the North ranch Tuesday and reports cattle in good condition.

F. D. Nowell contemplates taking a trip to Boston the latter part of this month on a visit to his parents.

Jack West and son George left this week for Florence, Lane Co., Oregon. Success to you Jack.

Isaac Watts, father of our townsman Russell Watts, came in from Long Beach, California, last week on a visit to his son.

Mrs. W. H. Knowlton and daughter of Des Moines, Iowa, are visiting with their friend Mrs. H. V. Hilliker.

Miss Kate Nagle returned to her home in Des Moines, Iowa, Tuesday evening after spending the winter with friends in this city.

Donald McAndrew, who has been acting as foreman at the Bratt home ranch, left for Fox Creek precinct this week to live on his homestead.

C. E. Gunnell, of Paxton, visited these quarters last Saturday, being in the city on legal business. It is said C. E. made a financial hit when he located in Paxton.

W. H. C. Woodhurst, of Council Bluffs, spent a couple days in town this week, visiting his father and old friends. He is employed in the baggage department at the transfer.

Jno. Labille, of Medicine precinct, was in town Tuesday and remarked to our agricultural editor that a very large acreage of wheat will be sown this spring in his neighborhood.

W. H. McMasters of the dispatchers force was transferred to Sidney is again at his post in dispatchers office here on night duty. We are glad to see him back and so are the boys on the road.

W. W. White returned from New York Saturday night after an absence of about a month. He enjoyed his trip immensely and came back feeling that it pays to take a little pleasure as one goes along through life.

Charley Bogue returned Wednesday night from the east, where he has been attending school for a year or so past. He is looking exceedingly well, and says his stay in the east was pleasant as well as beneficial.

C. M. Stern, an old-time cowboy well known here now living near Seneca, Thomas county, spent several days in town this week. He says stock in that vicinity passed through the winter exceedingly well. Seneca is situated on the Grand Island & Wyoming Central road.

Fred C. Spannuh of the precinct bearing his name, was in town Thursday accompanied by his family. He gives THE TRIBUNE credit for being the first paper to convey intelligence to his neighbors.

These have been some of the items that we have to offer. We are now making up the third lot to send to the bindery. A sample of the binding can be seen at this office. The price for binding volume of The Century, or magazines of that size and class, is $1.25.

The profession of an engineer is one of the hardest and perhaps the most hazardous of occupations. To gain the position, an average of seven years as apprentice and fireman is required, and when he finally attains the object of his years of toil, he holds his position only by a thread liable to be snapped at any moment by a superintendent or manager on the slightest accident over which the engineer possibly had no control. After the long years of hard and hazardous toil to which he has been subjected before promotion, he is fitted for no other business. He knows nothing about the transactions of the various branches of mercantile business; his peculiar occupation has confined his knowledge almost exclusively to that line. Is it not just then that the hazards of his calling should receive adequate compensation? His responsibilities are great; the property of the company and the lives of the passengers are largely in his keeping. Is he not entitled to something more than the paltry reward of the common day laborer? The general public think that he should, and the sympathies of the people are with the engineers in their strike on the Burlington for their rights. We trust that they will soon be secured.

The $1.00 Rate. The success of last fall's experiment warrants us in continuing the One Dollar Rate, where paid for in advance, but this means strictly in advance. We are willing to send the paper out on time, and will cheerfully accept orders and subscribers feel this at the dollar rate. Where not paid in advance, the price will be $1.50 per year.

We want a few more subscribers. We cannot offer pianos, organs, chromos, etc., for clubs, but any one sending us five new names will receive the paper gratis one year.

Remember the paper is devoted almost exclusively to home and neighborhood news. We want to give every thing of local interest to our readers in every part of the county. To this end, we earnestly solicit correspondence from every precinct.

Rory O'More. The St. Patrick's Literary Society will render the above play, dramatized from Carleton's popular novel of that name, at Lloyd's opera house, this afternoon and evening.
