

Money to Loan

ON IMPROVED FARMS.

Lowest Rates, Best Terms. NO DELAY.

THOS. C. PATTERSON.

OUR COMPETITORS tried last summer by lowest recourse to "down" us, and as the season opens they are commencing their little game again. Notwithstanding all this we positively say (and George M. Clark the greatest Gasoline Stove man on earth will back us) that the Jewel is the best, safest, and takes less gasoline than any stove made, and it is the only stove a woman can take apart and clean, and we give a satisfactory guarantee on every one we sell.

Respectfully, L. STRICKLER.

New and large assortment of spring styles in wall paper at bottom figures, at Strickler's Drug Store.

Buy introduced J. Q. Thacker. Fine Cigars at Thacker's.

Large Stock of Furniture just received at Conway & Keith's.

Use Sherwin & Williams mixed paints on your house this spring. It is the best and guaranteed by A. F. STRICKLER, Agent.

The best quality of Beef, Pork, Mutton, Lamb, Veal and all kinds of sausage at CHARLEY LEIDNER'S.

Look at Conway & Keith's show window and see that beautiful new bedroom suit.

JUST RECEIVED 3 CAR-LOADS OF IMPLEMENTS.

DEER, MOLINE, CANTON CLIPPER. Also, Rod Breaking Plows of home manufacture.

Deere, Haggood, Moline, Brown, Keokuk, Maud S, Rose, DISK HARROWS.

Union, Evans, PLANTERS. Strobridge SEEDERS & LISTERS.

Little Yankee, Haggood, CLIPPER TRICYCLE, Flying Dutchman, Ole Oleson, SULKY PLOWS.

HERSHEY & CO. APRONS AND BONNETS.

The ladies of the Baptist church are prepared to fill orders for aprons and bonnets. Order of Mrs. F. M. Gray.

HORSE CLIPPING. J. R. Bangs has procured one of those celebrated Rotary Power Clipping Machines. Horses clipped in the best and most expeditious manner at the Elephant stables, South Spruce street.

Go to Grady's opposite the postoffice for choice groceries.

Washburn flour at Grady's opposite the postoffice.

North Side Store. I call especial attention to my large stock of Canned Goods, consisting of the best brands and in great variety. I am offering them very low to reduce stock.

Contractors don't forget to let Conway & Keith figure on your hardware bill if you wish to save money.

I have purchased the Union Gallery of Mr. Mathewson and will hereafter run the business and endeavor to please my patrons. Call and see my work and get prices.

Don't forget to call at Conway & Keith's and see that Combination Folding Bed.

Just received at Guy's Place, five barrels of Hermitage Whisky, of the spring 1881.

PHOTOGRAPHING. I shall remain here permanently, and there is no need to be in a hurry on account of the weather. We will have very good weather to finish pictures during the spring. But if you want a good picture, give me a call. I am bound to please.

Remember the world-renowned "QUICK-MEAL" Gasoline Stove, the safest and most economical stove made, is sold by Conway & Keith.

Austin Powder. W. L. McGee is agent in North Platte for the CELEBRATED Austin Powder and dealers can get the same at Omaha and Chicago prices. Sportsmen will also make a note of this.

My Motto: I Will not be Undersold. C. F. ORMSBY.

—Oats, Corn, Bran, Shorts, and a full line of Flour at Grady's opposite the postoffice.

THE CELEBRATED CLARK'S N. Y. SPool COTTON. This cotton is the OLD RELIABLE CLARK'S THREAD upon white spools. never otherwise. Ladies of North Platte call for it. It has become very popular and is the smoothest running cotton on the sewing machine and for hand use is the best. Once used always used. This cotton cannot be sold for less than five cents a spool retail. Dealers who sell for less do so at a stupid business. Ask your dealers for this famous cotton.

The Tribune.

STEVENS & BARE, EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1888.

—A little son of Alex. Fenwick fell from a tree at the barracks Sunday sustaining quite severe injuries.

—The plate glass for the front windows of Foley's store, to supply the place of those broken by the late fire, arrived and were placed in position this week.

—MARRIED.—In this city, April 5th, by Rev. Geo. W. Martin, Mr. Charles H. Warden, of Gandy, Neb., and Miss Isabella Simmons, of Cedar Rapids, Neb.

—C. C. Noble has been in Plum Creek this week establishing a branch shoe store. Few men are better conversant with the boot and shoe business than Mr. Noble and his new venture means success.

—Base ball players will be pleased to learn that the day of high priced players has not yet passed. John G. Clarkson, of the Chicago, was released to the Boston team for the sum of $10,000 with the understanding that Clarkson is to receive $4,000 for five months' work with the team.

—M. C. Harrington has a tabular statement of the first page that will be interesting reading to house keepers. It will appear in a serial, the first chapter being published last week and few copies of which may be obtained at this office. The story will run for several months.

—Aug. Bergstrom of Spanuth precinct came in for the assessor's books yesterday. He was a little surprised to learn that the assessor's meeting had been held. He said his county paper contained no notice of the meeting. Then he subscribed for THE TRIBUNE so that he would get the county news hereafter.

—All teachers who are now teaching in Lincoln county, and all those who hold certificates issued from his office, will do the County Superintendent a great favor by communicating with him at once giving the No. of the district in which they are engaged, if teaching, and the date when their certificates expire.

—Isaac Dillon, Dr. Holbrook and Loper Pills went out on a double headed expedition of business and pleasure Monday, visiting the ranch of John Keith in O'Fallon precinct. Of course they had their guns and hunting paraphernalia along, but we don't believe they brought home a feather. They are good hunters all the same.

—The O'Fallon precinct bridge bonds were signed by the chairman of the board of commissioners and county clerk on Wednesday and forwarded to the auditors office at Lincoln for registration. There has been some talk that the officers would be restrained by injunction from signing them, but no attempt of the kind was made, and we don't believe that any such step was ever seriously entertained.

—Two young men possessing some of the fiery spirit which used to be found in the town of O'Fallon, attempted to "ride the town" Sunday, but were corralled by the police authorities. One was fined $10, while the other, who resisted the officers, was compelled to draw fifty cases from the back of his boys.

—There is a good deal of complaint from the traveling public on account of the transfer of Denver passengers at Julesburg from overland train No. 8. This of course is a source of considerable annoyance to the company as well, and it is believed that it would not take much of an effort to have the train made up at this point. Why should our board of trade not make the effort? No opportunity to increase the business of the city should be allowed to pass. A petition should be sent to the manager without delay.

—After his arrival in San Francisco, John Fitzgerald, who was lately transferred to that station from this signal office, evidently did not like the city and climate, for he has just been assigned to take charge of the office at Davenport, Iowa, the order having been issued during the last week in March. He will likely pass through the city on the way to his new station in a week or two, and we shall expect a brief visit.

—Those who have read "She," and there are in our midst who have not, will have an opportunity of seeing a dramatization of the novel at the opera house next Monday evening. It is a grand spectacle play, and in order to make the most of the scenery, the action will now in place at the opera house will be taken out. There are over thirty people in the company, and it is seldom so small a town as North Platte enjoys the opportunity of seeing a spectacular play, of such dimensions as "She."

—There are good reasons for believing that Gen. Crook will select North Platte as the point for holding the encampment of the regular army. Three sections of land on the bank of North river just above the city have been offered for the purpose. This place offers many advantages; free access to pure running water, cheap forage, handy to the railroad, and above all a healthful location. Gen. Crook appreciates these advantages and can see them at a glance.

—A number of parties in this city and in the vicinity of Gothenburg, have considerable interest in one H. F. Parkins, who recently resided near Gothenburg, but who now, alas, is departed without leaving with his dear friends information of his whereabouts. But they don't care so much for the dear Parkins as they do for the property he mortgaged to them for divers and sundry valuable considerations, and which he has sold and transferred to parties unknown to the anxious friends before referred to. Parties who loan money on chattels require the aid of several private detectives to keep track of their creditors.

—The qualifications necessary to entitle a woman to vote at a school election are: she must have children of school age, be a tax-payer in her own name on personal property assessed at the previous assessment, or own real estate. She must be twenty-one years of age or over. Women who are desirous of exercising their right to vote at the next school election, and in the opinion of this woman's journal all should, will do well to qualify themselves this year by listing with the assessor some property for taxation, if they are lacking of other qualifications.

—Observer Byram has prepared a table showing the means temperature and the excess and deficiency for each year by months; the monthly precipitation, excess and deficiency for each year by months; prevailing direction of wind for each month; the average daily movement and maximum velocity; miscellaneous phenomena, such as date of first and last frost; maximum and minimum temperature and date for each year; greatest precipitation of each year; number of clear, fair and cloudy days and number of days in which rain fell in each year, since the establishment of the station in this city, Sept. 1874 to date. The work of searching all the records and putting the data in form has been considerable. The table is condensed on to one side of a large sheet and is a bird's eye view of the weather during the past fourteen years.

—Lucy Tom's Cabin is to be produced at Lloyd's on the 24th.

—MARRIED.—At Baptist parsonage, April 4th, Mr. George Embre to Miss Caroline Schroeder of Beaver City, Neb.

—Allum & Holtry have secured the services of a miller lately in charge of the mill at Gibson, who is said to be one of the best flour makers in the west.

—Mr. Hupfer desires us to correct the statement made last week in regard to a quarrel and fight in his saloon. A few angry words did pass but there were no blows and no fight.

—The next event on the boards to take place at Lloyd's opera house is the spectacular drama "She" by the Barrows & Shaley combination, on Monday evening next. The play is now having quite a run in eastern cities, and it is said to be very entertaining.

—Movers wagons have passed through the city in large number during the week, advantage being taken of the fine weather to "haul" out a pasture. They are most bound for points along the North river in Cheyenne county.

—Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only, to make no apologies, but write down in plain terms the item of news. In referring to themselves, they should do so in the first person singular.

—At the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, the choir sang a number of hymns, consisting of songs and an address by the pastor, after which the children present were each presented with a beautifully colored Easter egg.

—The social quietude which prevailed during Lent was agreeably broken Monday night by the singing of the Knights, who pronounced a social success by all attendants. The Select Knights appeared in their handsome uniforms, giving the ball a martial appearance.

—Dan Burke believes in beautifying one's home, and this week set out a row of trees on the east and north side of his half block in the west end of the city. He will run a wire fence along each side of the trees to prevent cattle from destroying them.

—The neatest and most novel Easter show window was that arranged by Mr. Simon of the Palace clothing company. It consisted of a display of goods, a live chicken sitting on a nestful of eggs was to be seen. Madame Hen was not, apparently, disturbed by the crowd which thronged around the window.

—A good many parties are making calculations on using water from the water works to irrigate a pasture. They have already sold their windmills. The first we believe to take down the mill was P. J. Gilman. By the first of May water will be wanted for lawn sprinkling purposes, and it seems to be to the interest of the company to get the pipes in the ground as soon as possible.

—A farmer objects to our statement last week in speaking of profitable crops that can be raised in this county, that onions do reasonably well in this climate. He took a leaf from the west end of his mill and we believe to take down the mill was P. J. Gilman. By the first of May water will be wanted for lawn sprinkling purposes, and it seems to be to the interest of the company to get the pipes in the ground as soon as possible.

—The board of education has awarded to J. K. Somers a certificate for the trees in the yards of the different school houses of the city. About five hundred trees will be planted, consisting principally of soft maple, box elder and elm.

—One of the worst features in connection with the teacher's profession, and the most unfair to those who have devoted years to the work of teaching in this county, is the tax levied on the property of teachers and states, rushing into the county without a certificate, engaging a school, and in a peremptory manner, requesting the county Superintendent to endorse their certificates. This is very discouraging to home teachers, and directors should proceed very cautiously, as the County Supt may refuse to endorse, the party engaged may fail to pass, and the directors become personally liable for salary.

—A couple paragraphs of the commissioners proceeding in last week's paper got mixed up so as to become meaningless. Below we republish the paragraphs as they should have appeared: "Now comes Mr. Rowland and complains that tax on her land is too high and asks to have the same reduced. After comparison with other property adjoining the board find the valuation is not too high and that there is no just ground for reducing the same. Now comes A. B. Wyman and complains that lots three and four block 175 were assessed in 1887 as improved property and that the improvements were put upon the lots after April 1st, 1887. Referred to county attorney for advice in the matter."

—O. V. Coulter shot and killed an eagle last week, one of the largest we have ever seen. It was not a bald eagle but one of the species known as the golden eagle, seven feet and four inches. Its head was as large as a full grown house cat. Some of its talons measured over two inches in length. Its leg and ankle, the joint, was as large as a man's arm. We have no doubt that it could have carried off a five or six year old child, or a half grown sheep with ease. This species are very rare in these parts, and are difficult to kill, this one had just caught and was eating a large jackrabbit. It is a cold day when O. V. don't get the game he goes for. He made a present of it to Dr. Harris who shipped it to a taxidermist at Omaha to have it mounted. When it is finished it will be placed on exhibition in his drug house, a short time after which it will find a home at his residence.—Paxton Pilot.

—Just why Mayor Hammond was responsible for the passing of a dog ordinance, unless it was because he didn't veto the bill, is somewhat difficult to understand, but he has to bear the responsibility all the same, and has suffered the consequences. He was not really to blame. That it was necessary to tax the dog and rid the city of the old, useless and maggot-eaten curs no one will pretend to deny, and that in doing so the statute law must be complied with must also be admitted. For doing this in accordance with law, are the officers to be blamed? We think not. We wouldn't give a continental for officers who haven't got the courage to execute the laws. During his administration of two years, we believe Mayor Hammond has acted conscientiously, his official acts being such as he considered for the best interests of the city. He will retire from office with the consciousness of having done his duty as he understood it to be right and with the respect of the citizenry in general, including three-fourths of those who opposed him at the late election.

District court will convene next Wednesday, the 11th. Following are the cases on the docket, a few of which have been carried for several weeks.

Lincoln County vs. Struthers. Stoddard vs. U. P. Ry. Co. Salisbury vs. Iddings. Myers vs. Hupfer. The State vs. Myers and Long. Cooper vs. Tucker. Richards vs. Hoagland. Matter of distribution of estate of Ellen Wyman.

Fort vs. Stechem et al. Hinman vs. McDonald. Ross vs. Ochs et al. Majorowitz vs. Miller. Belton vs. Cardwell. Smith vs. Jackson. First National Bank vs. L. C. Bayer. Lusemek vs. Zimmerman. R. S. Besack vs. E. A. Carey. Mary E. Eggers vs. John W. Eggers. Edna J. Whitehead vs. Benj. Whitehead.

James Flynn vs. Trav. Life Ins. Co. Nichols, Beach & Co. vs. Wm. Johnson. Evans & Waldo vs. Wm. Grady. Emma Johnson vs. Gustave Johnson. Wm. Ware vs. John Keith et al. Frank F. Lyons vs. L. D. Thoelecke. Mary R. Mison vs. George Mason. E. N. Keeler vs. C. C. Cramer. E. N. Evans, admr. of Boscombe estate. Application to sell real estate. Evans & Waldo vs. A. L. Marcellus. Geo. R. Golvin vs. John Keith et al. Wm. Neville vs. Chas. F. Iddings. W. D. Waldo vs. J. Miller. N. Deane vs. O. Grosky. J. A. England vs. Beer, three cases. The State vs. Earnest Myers. Waldo vs. Wheeler. Jas. Belton vs. David Long. Kuns, Nesbaum & Co. vs. Greenmeyer. Knights Templar.

The Palestine Commodity No. 13 Knights Templar of this city observed Easter by attending divine services last Sabbath at the Methodist Episcopal church. At just 11 o'clock they fled into the church and occupied the seats directly in front of the pulpit which had been reserved for them. The full ritual of the order was rendered by the Knights led by the pastor Rev. Geo. W. Martin, acting Prelate. After the opening services, Mr. Martin delivered an address appropriate to the occasion. The rendering of "Te Deum" by the choir was excellent, and the giving of the creed by the Prelate and Knights left an impression for good upon the vast audience present.

A Sunday school entertainment was held at the Methodist church Sunday evening, which we are informed was a very pleasant and entertaining affair.

—Mrs. Rice has disposed of her restaurant to F. A. Shepard who will rent the rooms, increase the stock and run the business in ship shape. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard are popular people and will receive a very large share of the public patronage.

—The fifth hop of the Apollon took place at the opera house last evening, the representation of members being large. One more dance will close the series.

We understand James Dowd will resign his position as county clerk in the end of the month and about the first of May will leave for Oregon to accept a position with a railway official.

W. C. Woodhurst has been appointed baggage agent at this station, taking the position last Monday. We are glad to hear Mr. W. with us again, as he and his lady are very popular with our people.

As an earnest student worker on election day, Tom O'Neill stands at the head of the young men of the city. He is also capable of doing fine work in bringing out candidates, as his success in the late election shows.

—P. H. McEvoy desires us to tell THE TRIBUNE readers that he has just received a handsome line of the celebrated Foley make of gold pens, which he is offering at very fair prices. This is a standard pen and fully warranted.

—"Crazy Patch" at the opera house Wednesday evening drew out a full house and the audience was convulsed with laughter from the beginning to the end. The plot of the play, without scarcely any plot to it, is ridiculously absurd. As a comedian Mr. Phillips has few superiors, his every move being such as to cause laughter, and he is the star of the company.

Mrs. C. G. Hall, met at the residence of the Mrs. C. G. Hall, Wednesday afternoon, and finished thirteen garments for the children of North Platte whose parents are unable to provide for them. Our next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Nesbitt next Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock. Every lady interested in this good work is cordially invited to meet with us.

—Since the passage of the high license dog law by our city legislature, man's best friend is considerably less prominent on the streets, he having evidently come to the conclusion that City Marshal Patterson's law, or at least that he is not a friend of poor dogs who have no bank account to speak of or $3 wherewith to mollify his sternness. The law may have been burdensome in some cases, but it has at least had the good effect of ridding the community of a lot of worthless curs, of no earthly benefit to anyone. While on this subject we might as well remark that we believe the tax is too high; and it is discriminating anyway. In cities of the first class a tax of only one to three dollars is authorized, but in villages and second class cities, where the people are generally poorer it is not less than three nor more than ten. If anything this should be reversed. This is a tax of one and two dollars is about the right thing, against which there would be no kicking. We will adhere, however, to our original opinion that dogs are nuisances and should be assessed as such. A dog is worth anywhere from 50 to 100 dollars, and if assessed that way there would be no way of avoiding payment of the tax. That all people alike, both in country and city.

AMONG THE Churches. BAPTIST. Morning subject, "Our Work Abroad," evening, "Come and See." METHODIST. The subject of the morning sermon next Sabbath at the Methodist Episcopal Church will be, "The Signs Demanded," in the evening, "The Losing Cards."

G. A. B. Campbell. Stephen A. Douglas. Free will hold a cavort and supper at the court house on the evening of April 20th, on which occasion genuine hard tack, baked beans in old army style, coffee, etc., will be dished up to all. A present to the most popular gentleman of the city, the lady in town will be given away, each person entitled to one vote. Seated around the campfire will be some of the best talkers in Western Nebraska, who will entertain those present with ten minute speeches.

An evening of genuine enjoyment is anticipated for all who attend.

Fire at Somerset. The store of N. C. Myers at Somerset in this county, caught fire early Monday morning and was consumed with all the contents. We have not learned the particulars of the loss, but presume that the latter was not very heavy on goods, as Mr. Myers spring stock had not arrived, having been delayed by the strike. Mr. Myers was in this city at the time.

LATER. The loss on building is about $750 and on stock in the neighborhood of $3,000. No insurance.

The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS.

G. W. Peterson of Garfield was in town Monday.

T. J. Foley has been in Denver most of the week.

Talkative George Dillard spent several days in Omaha this week.

Miss Mary Carr is visiting in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Jackson.

W. H. Dudley, of O'Fallon, was in town Wednesday and took the evening train for Lincoln.

Miss Kate Bentley leaves the early part of next week on a two weeks visit to friends in Denver.

Miss Josie Krier, of Plum Creek, was in the city Wednesday evening, the guest of Miss Lola Gillett.

Eugene Noble, an old time cowboy in the parts of us in town, was in the city from the Northwest Territory.

Mr. Kahn, of Leadville, was in the city Wednesday, visiting his old friends Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Simon.

T. Roberts of Maxwell arrived home from Chicago early in the week, where he had been with a car load of fat cattle.

T. M. Lee, of Medicine precinct, was a caller at these headquarters Thursday. Farmers in that vicinity are about through sowing wheat.

J. I. Nesbitt and Sheriff Baker made a trip to Wellfleet Monday and Tuesday, the object being to try a law case at that village. Supt. Langford made one of the parties.

W. T. Chadwick now running an engine on the Denver and Julesburg road, came down to visit his family the fore part of the week. We are afraid we will lose Chad as one of our permanent citizens, by going through a bridge while running an engine, but later telegrams contradicted the first and stated that no such accident had occurred.

Several letters were written to persons at Sibley with the view of ascertaining if there was any foundation for the report, but nothing could be learned in regard to the matter and the relatives, while suffering great anxiety, were hopeful that James would turn up alive some day. A couple months ago Dennis O'Keefe, a brother of James, arrived from the east and stated that he had seen O'Keefe on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of the bridge gang. He had been in an engine on the road but had not joined the bridge gang about six weeks before the accident. Thus the great anxiety which has prevailed in the minds of the members of the family has been replaced by a deep sorrow over their brother's death and learned that he had fallen from the bridge on Christmas morning while repairing the structure in company with other members of