The simple truth of the business is that Great Britain has taken one more step, and a very important one, toward carrying out its settled policy of forcing the world to a gold standard. Early in the century, as soon, in fact, as its commercial supremacy, had given it financial supremacy, and it became the great creditor nation of the globe.

England set about securing the gold standard. It has brought the entire German-speaking world into line, and for twenty years has been trying to bring the United States down to it. Unless some great nation stands like a rock against monometallism England will triumph and gold will be the universal standard of monetary measurement, and silver will be relegated to the category of base metals and a mere commodity.-Inter Ocean.

Great credit is due for two billions of which are in savings banks, there seems no reasonable chance for a general panic. There is undoubtedly sufficient money in the country for all legitimate business purposes, but a lack of confidence in the future acts of the party in power has resulted in the contraction of loans and the hoarding of money. In the North Platte banks the deposits are as large as ever, but loans have been curtailed, and the cash in the vaults is twice as great as is usually held. The holding of money by the local banks is due to results in the east and not to the condition of local business.

A Change In Men's Calling Cards. A careful sister might whisper in her brother's ear that calling cards for men are appreciably larger this year than have been used for some time past. The Treaty With Bussia. The principal point of objection in the proposed treaty with Russia is the exceedingly loose definition of political offenses in article 3, which exposes a large class of people who come to this country for a refuge from political, social and religious oppression to the malicious machinations of a foreign power, which affords no such guarantees of a fair and just trial under the law as those which constitute the chief pride and privilege of the American people.

Standing as this nation does for universal liberty and human rights, we stultify our own principles and deny our own history when we deprive one worthy refugee who has been persecuted out of his native land of the guardianship of our beneficent laws and the protection of our courts of justice. Under this treaty the Russian government can come into this country by means of its agents and pursue any Russian whom it may see fit to charge with an extraditable offense and demand his immediate surrender, even though he has become a fully natu-ralized American citizen.—New York Mail and Express.
