Nichol Nuggets.

Distemper is prevailing among the horses in this section of the county to considerable extent.

Rev. Graves of North Platte will preach in the Maccabee hall at Hershey next Sunday evening at the usual hour.

W. S. Cox and Chas. Becker are putting in small grain upon the McKee farm.

J. W. Liles has made some improvements in the yard around his new residence lately which adds greatly to its appearance. J. C. Maisner assisted him in the work.

S. H. Phainecie received eighty five cents per bushel for a load of potatoes at the hub on Tuesday this week.

A man by the name of Rudolph, from the Red Willow country, will work the ditch farm recently vacated by I. N. Ball.

The wild geese have migrated to more congenial climes within the past couple or three days.

The Patterson & Alexander ditching machine began work on the Farmers & Merchant's ditch near this station again today.

Considerable wheat has been sown in the valley within the past week.

G. E. Sullivan took a "porker" to the North Platte market a short time since that tipped the beam at 478 pounds.

The Hinman ditching outfit is rushing business on the Farmers & Merchants' canal at this scribbling.

The majority of the prairie schooners though this country have been westward bound lately.

Green grass is beginning to shoot up on the low land in fine shape.

Con Scharmann and J. D. Cotton of the Platte passed up the grade as far as the Stimson farm on Thursday, returning down the south side via Mr. Cotton's farm.

Will Loker will ride the old ditch this season. His appointment to that position gives entire satisfaction to the patrons of the same.

R. W. Calhoun is erecting a new fence along the south line of his farm.

Mrs. J. M. Dwyer, who has been critically ill for a couple of weeks, is, we are pleased to state, about convalescent.

N. J. Snow we understand is working in the blacksmith shop with H. W. Fogel at Hershey.

SUTHERLAND NEWS.

John Danielson has purchased a tract of land along the Paxton & Hershey ditch, and has the contract for plastering the new houses being built in that locality by them.

Try Blackmore's Sarsaparilla.

About five o'clock Saturday morning J. W. Bobbitt's residence in Fairview precinct was consumed by fire. The wind was blowing a gale and before the family hardly realized what was the matter every thing was gone; only a little summer clothing and the bedding being saved. This is hard luck at any time, and coming as it now does after the drouth and hard times, makes it doubly so. Mr. Bobbitt and family have the sympathy of the community, and if the neighbors were not so hard up themselves steps would be taken to help them rebuild.

A party having a contract on this South Side ditch has rented the Abshire house opposite the school-house and built a stable close by.

School supplies at Blackmore & Co's.

Alex Neilson returned from Omaha on Saturday morning. He reports things very dry and the farmers scary in the eastern part of the state.

A. D. Buckworth, of the Platte, was on our streets Monday.

Blackmore's No. 331 Liniment for barbed wire cuts, gives universal satisfaction.

L. J. Johnson, who has been building some houses on the Hershey lands north of town, started for his home near Omaha on Saturday. He will return soon and bring his family with him.

W. C. Lemon, of North Platte was in town on legal business Tuesday.
