Nichols and Hershey News.

"Old Sol" has about done up corn and late potatoes on unirrigated land.

Harvesting is in full blast. A few days more and it will be a thing of the past for this season.

W. J. Crusen, of North Platte, will preach at this place next Sunday at 11 a. m., eastern time.

A. S. Baldwin, of North Platte, and another gentleman passed up the grade last Wednesday.

All those who attended the dance at Hershey Wednesday evening report a pleasant time.

The date for the Sunday school picnic at A. M. Stoddard's grove has been fixed for Saturday, Aug. 24th. Next Sunday evening is Rev. Graves regular appointment at Hershey.

W. E. Park, of the hub, was the guest of J. B. McKee the first of the week.

A number of North Platte people whose names we failed to get have been looking over the valley in all its grandeur this week.

The U. P. fence gang is fencing both sides of the track at this place, the fence being erected 100 feet from the center of the track.

C. L. Patterson came up from the hub a few days ago and took a look at his crops upon his farm near this place.

Xavier Toillion has several fine stacks of fall grain erected.

Arthur Rush was up in this country the first of the week upon his wheel.

James McMichael, of the Platte, who has the contract for the new school building at this place, says if nothing happens to delay the work he will easily have it completed by the first of October. His contract does not include the painting, nor the erection of the outbuildings.

Mrs. Fannie Brooks is expecting her daughter and husband, Erwin Gabriel and wife, of Postville, Wis., here on a visit in the near future.

At present they are visiting near Lake City, Iowa.

W. A. Paxton, of Omaha, has been looking after business interests in the vicinity of Hershey this week.

Corn on irrigated land is earing in great shape, most of the stalks having from two to three good-sized ears upon them.

The Sisson district which voted at the last annual meeting to run two schools of seven months each the coming year is trying to purchase the old school-house in this district and locate it in the hamlet of Hershey, which is in said district.

Geo. E. Sullivan had to perform the sad rite a few days since of interring "Blaze," an old and faithful mare which had been a stand by for nearly or quite a score of years.

L. D. Thoelecke, passed up the line early yesterday morning.

A haying outfit is camped upon the south side of the track near this place on old canal land, where they are putting up hay for the parties who purchased all of the hay from the old canal company early in the season for the consideration of $500.

We understand that the repairs on the dam of the old canal are completed and that water is once more flowing down the same and its tributaries, greatly to the relief of its patrons.

RENNIE'S. RENNIE'S.

Since the announcement of the date for the pop county convention candidates are coming out thicker and faster than toads after a thunder shower.

We understand that Jacob Koch is loading new baled hay at Hershey these days.

—Speaking of the attendance at the Wild West show which exhibited at Burlington, Vt., last Saturday, the Free Press of that city says: "Buffalo Bill is rarely obliged to turn people away, with a seating capacity of 20,000, but he was compelled to do so yesterday afternoon. A thousand or more people stood in the entrance or sat on the ground in front of the seats and when these places were filled the ticket sellers closed their windows. One couple who claimed to have come 40 miles to see the show were unable to gain admission and there were undoubtedly many other similar cases. The electric cars carried all that could hang on and the steam cars were also crowded. Accustomed as they are to handling large crowds, the Central Vermont people evidently did not expect such a deluge of people, since the supply of tickets at the station ran out early on the day of the show and conductors being obliged to make change on the train. But it was a good-natured crowd and with the exception of those who were unable to get into the show all went home happy."
