THERE are over 1,800,000 shareholders in building and loan associations of whom about one-fifth have become debtors by borrowing money to build houses. This means that 1,400,000 are creditors who have paid as good as gold dollars for the shares they hold. It may be assumed that when these shareholders understand that the free coinage of silver means that they will be paid back in dollars worth but 70 or 75 cents compared with gold they will be very bitter -Indianapolis Journal.

THE Globe-Democrat figures out that eighteen states-Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, shire New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Verpublicans 238 electoral votes, or crats, populists and the rest of the Archer took the weapon from him, saynon-republican elements, will be 209 votes. The republicans, however, are reasonably sure to carry several additional states.

In His speech at the Cincinnati ratification meeting last Saturday night, Senator Foraker said: To conclude with a word, when Senator Teller and his associates bolted the party at the St. Louis convention they had no cause for it whatever that did not exist four years before at the Minneapolis convention, and when the republican party made the declaration it did make at St. Louis it did not change its position one particle, but simply made it absolutely certain in order that there could be a settlement of that question that the proposition for free, independent and unlimited coinage of silver is a proposition that we will not entertain. We will not entertain it because, in our judgment it does not, as Senator Teller and his associates claim, mean bimetallism, but simply silver monometallism. We go into this fight, therefore, with our gallant standard-bearer representing to the people of America protection to American industries and American labor and an absolutely sound dollar, with which to do our business. An absolutely sound dollar, not simply for the banker and the merchant, but for the wage-earner as well. When a man does a full day's work he is entitled to have a full 100c on the dollar with which is paid, and we propose that he shall have it. We propose that the dollar we put into circulation-the metallic dollar -shall be worth 100c in gold all over the world, no matter whether it carries the eagle and superscriptions or not. Take a silver dollar and pound it into bullion and it is worth 54c; take a gold dollar and pound it into bullion and it is worth 100c all over the world. Nobody is cheated by that kind of a dollar, nobody is misled by it have been elected prosperity will at | Sun once come again, because that will usure a sound tariff, reciprocity and a sound currency.

The whatnot is a flimsy structure on legs so slender that they wabble when you look at them. Upon its shelves there are many delicate bottles and jars and vases and things that are always ready to fall

"If I were not so eternally kept down, Even as it is I manage to keep my head above the slough of despond, but I have a pretty hard time of it what with one thing and another, and just now the whatnot in the parlor is one of my most trying besetments. One cannot sit in the big chair now without danger of knocking the whatnot over. The first time I tried it the chair rocked back and brought up against it. All the bottles and jars and vases on the shelves nodded violently, many of them beyond recovery, and these went down with that slight but compact crash that thin china makes when it falls.

"Then I had to keep the whatnot always in mind. If I sat in the rocking chair at all, I had to sit in it carefully. Once when I had forgotten about the great calamity and had jumped up rather suddenly the chair rocked back and touched the whatnot again, this time, however, not so hard; only a few things fell. But now I have given up the chair altogether, for with the whatnot at its back it is no longer a comfort to me. "I look at the big chair longingly, and I fancy it looks with sympathy at me, and I wait with patient cheerfulness for the next new arrangement. when the flimsy whatnot shall be on one side of the room and the comfortaand when Gov. ### "Eddicashin" at Shields, 1790.

It was in the midst of war, tumult and riot that the first free school was founded, at the instance of a few enlightened citizens of Shields, who thought this a better way of celebrating King George's jubilee than by spending the money collected for that purpose in voted upon at the election this fall, fireworks. But "eddicashin" was in those days looked upon by many as a 1. To provide in civil cases that thing not to be countenanced in any degree whatever. Another weighty argument against education, especially in a place like Shields, whose seafaring inhabitants at that time had more risks to encounter than they were subjected to by the elements, was:

The Royal Jubilee school was opened in 1811, but, owing to the almost universal objecting to educating the masses, the learning which the trustees thus freely offered was so hedged in by restrictions that it was very poor plant, indeed.
