BLACK CROOK POSTPONED.

Manager Lloyd received a letter yesterday from the Black Crook Company stating that the company could not reach here for Tuesday evening next, as advertised. A later date will probably be made by the company.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

THE TRIBUNE is in receipt of a letter from F. W. Taylor, manager of the state university extension and farmers' institute, asking as to what time in the season the farmers of Lincoln county would like to have an institute held, and what topics they would like to have the speakers present. He adds that applications for dates should be made immediately. We would be glad to have farmers throughout the county write us in regard to this matter so that we may be able to give Mr. Taylor the information he desires without delay.

These institutes are of much practical benefit to farmers, and we trust they will take an active interest in this matter.

WRECK ON THE UNION PACIFIC

Passenger train No. 3, which left this station at one o'clock Tuesday night met with a rather bad wreck at Roscoe, seven miles east of Ogalalla, while running at the rate of fifty miles an hour. The accident is attributed to a broken rail. The engine and forward cars passed over the rail in safety, but the three rear cars were derailed and turned over on their sides. The wreck was at once reported to headquarters in this city and the wrecking train accompanied by some of the officials and Dr. McCabe was hastily dispatched to the scene. Upon arrival there it was found that none of the passengers were badly injured. Some eighteen or twenty had received bruises or cuts from broken glass, but all were thankful that their injuries were not worse. A track was built around the wreck and traffic on the road was delayed but a short time.

ROUNDING UP BURGLES.

While out after jack rabbits Tuesday a hunter near Hershey found eleven pairs of shoes concealed in a stack of alfalfa hay. He reported the find to Sheriff Miller and deputy sheriff Keliher went up and brought down the shoes and they were identified as those stolen from Max Einstein some six weeks ago. The mystery surrounding this robbery was further cleared up Wednesday by the receipt of a box of jewelry from the officers at Laramie. This jewelry had been secured from two men who had attempted to dispose of it. The jewelry was identified by Max Einstein as that stolen from his store, and the Laramie authorities were wired to hold the men until the arrival of deputy sheriff Keliher, who left for that place Wednesday night. The men in custody had on new overcoats, and there is but little doubt they, with Hugh Jackson, are the fellows who committed the Einstein burglary. The supposition is that the men concealed the goods in the hay stack at the time of the robbery and allowed them to remain there until a few days ago, when the two men uncovered them and then left for the west. They were afraid to take the shoes with them or else left them as Jackson's share of the booty.

OBSTRUCTING ELM STREET.

The city council will hold a special meeting this evening for the purpose of considering the question of allowing the Union Pacific company to obstruct Elm street by the construction of the proposed ice house. Public opinion on the matter of allowing the company to obstruct the street is about evenly divided. Those in favor of giving the company permission to do so argue that the street affected has never been graded or used north of the railroad track and that the city is not likely to grow so that the street will be used. They also claim that should the city oppose the company in this matter it might conclude to abandon North Platte as an icing station, and thus take away employment from North Platte laboring men. During the past season the icing of cars furnished employment to a number of men, who otherwise would have been entirely idle, and paid them fully $12,000. Those who are opposed to obstructing the streets believe that the Union Pacific has already closed too many streets at points where they cross the tracks, and if allowed to obstruct Elm street would obstruct other streets in the future. To allow the company to virtually close the street in question would be establishing a bad precedent. They claim that the idea of the company is to have as few crossings as possible, for in time to come the city may demand a watchman at each, which would entail expense to the company.

—Fred Sawyer Will Artz and Joe Fillion left this morning for a couple of day's hunt up west.

—The list of applicants for the land office and postoffice is growing larger each day. There are now over a half dozen applicants for the postoffice and more than that number for the two positions in the land office. Those who have a hankering for these berths should make their wants known without delay.

The work train will probably soon finish its work for this season and retire for the winter. The people of Ogalalla and Paxton will miss the workmen very much for they have added considerably to the life of trade during the season, especially with the boarding houses. —Ogalalla News.

Governor-elect Pingree of Michigan, whose specialty seems to be denunciation of existing rates of transportation, offers this prescription to the railway companies: "If the railroads would cut off their high priced attorneys, discard their lobbyists in the legislature, discard their 1,000-mile tickets, and permit all persons to ride at the rate of 2 cents per mile, they would earn more money and be in better favor with the public, from whom they derive their support."

The Union Pacific Railway company is making a number of minor improvements on the Wyoming division. At Almy a new depot is being constructed. It is of the standard size, containing baggage and freight rooms and living rooms for the agent and family. At Evanston the foundations are being laid for an ice house of 6,000 tons capacity. The building will be completed in time for this season's crop of ice. At Aurora a pipe line one and one-half miles long is being constructed to convey water by gravity to that place for locomotive use.

Late trains were common Wednesday. No. 2 was late into North Platte and was run out of there in two sections. The first section was composed of engine 842, two mail cars and the express car. It left North Platte at 10:33 and registered here at 12:10. Two stops were made. This, allowing five minutes less for each stop, made the running time less than a mile per minute. The train was in charge of Engineer Smith and Conductor Burza. The second section following lost considerable time and did not arrive here until after one o'clock. No. 1 from the east was about two hours late.—Kearney Hub.

NOT A POP LEGISLATURE.

The legislative returns show that the populists in Nebraska have been obliged to trade themselves almost out of existence in that body in order to prevent the election of a republican majority. The free silver democrats outnumber them largely in both houses.

These men have never for the most part been enamored of the distinctive fads of the populists, but have gone into the fusion for what there was in it for themselves and most of them are ambitious to make a record that will bear inspection after the excitement of the late campaign has subsided. They have deftly used the free silver craze, but they are well aware that nothing in that direction is possible and that in their capacity as lawmakers for the state that lead has petered out.

The Journal on looking over the ground is satisfied that the state need not fear any radical populist legislation during the coming winter. There will be no stay law, no anti-railroad legislation, no attempt to polish off the banks and to drive manufacturing corporations out of the state.

There will be naturally a pretty strong move made to secure all the offices possible for the victorious fusionists, but as a matter of course that is legitimate enough and republicans cannot make any very cogent objections to it for they have generally exercised their prerogative in this direction to the fullest extent.—State Journal.

—Wm. Neville, of North Platte, the recently elected supreme judge, who finds himself minus an office because the constitutional amendment creating it was defeated, is in Lincoln looking after the distribution of such "populist pie" as he can control.—Kearney Hub.

It has been said that there could be no cure for internal piles without a surgical operation, but over 100 cases cured in Council Bluffs, Ia., by the use of Hemorrhoidine proves the statement false. RICHARDS BROS.

The name of General John C. Cowin has been prominently brought to public notice by the press as a prospective member of President McKinley's cabinet. It goes without saying that the people of Nebraska would feel highly honored and the course of republicanism would be strengthened not only in Nebraska but the entire debatable ground west of the Mississippi by the elevation of General Cowin to the councils of the president-elect.—Bee.

The Discovery Saved His Life.
Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaverville Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with a grippa and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We would keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at A. F. Streit's drug store. 2
