Beckwith Round Oak.

You may try; you'll get left. Remember, it's the combination of good points that makes the Perfect Stove. That's where we get the IMITATIONS. They can't steal the whole stove. They steal one thing and think they have it all, but it FAILS. They build another. It fails. Still they keep on crying good as the ROUND OAK. Some peculiar merchants say they have them, when IT'S NOT SO.

If you are posted you cannot be deceived. We write this to post you. SOLD ONLY BY

From a Scranton (Pa.) paper we take the following account of the marriage of H. N. Dolph, formerly of this city: Miss Christina Oakley of Mayfield, and Harry N. Dolph of Carbonale, were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother on North Main street. The ceremony was performed in the front parlor in the presence of a number of friends and invited guests by Rev. Francis Gendall, pastor of the M. E. church.

The bride wore a costume of steel silk with trimmings to match, and she was attended by her sister, Miss Mattie, who wore blue silk. Mr. Fred Colwell of Carbonale, an uncle of the groom, acted as best man. The groom is in the employ of the Traction company for several years and is well and popularly known. The young lady has been a resident of this locality for a number of years and is highly esteemed. After the ceremony a very fine repast was served. The world-renowned Smith family were induced to attend the meeting of the Bachelor Maids which was held at the guild house Monday evening. Several musical selections were also rendered by home talent and Miss Breyer gave a recitation. The Maids dispersed at 10:30 after enjoying a luncheon of hot weiner-wurst, bread and butter and coffee.

The Board of Education is in somewhat of a disorganized condition. It has been without a president for several months, and at the last meeting Mrs. Birge resigned the vice-presidency. The position of president seems to be considered an undesirable one by the members of the board. It is said there is more or less clash between the three lady members and the three male members.
