KILLS FUNDING BILL.

DEFEATED IN THE HOUSE BY AN IN-DIRECT, BUT DECISIVE VOTE.

Final Vote Taken On Motion to Engross the Bill For a Third Time-An Impassioned Speech by Senator Mills In Favor of Recognition of Cuban Independence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- The Pacific railway funding bill went to its doom in the house Monday under an adverse majority of 66. The friends of the measure, who had predicted its passage up to the last moment, were surprised fitting that a monument should be by the decisive character of their defeat. They had been led to hope from the votes on the substitutes that the bill had more than an even chance of passage. The Bell substitute provided that if the Union Pacific and Central Pacific would clear off the first mortgage and advance the government lien, the government would extend the indebtedness at 3 per cent-yeas, 110; nays, 158.

The Harrison substitute provided for a committee to negotiate a settlement of the debt. It was rejected by a vote of yeas, 55; nays, 214. Many of the members were as much opposed to these substitutes as the Powers bill. The California and middle west voted almost solidly against them. When the vote came on the main proposition, the whole opposition swung into line and crushed it by an adverse vote of yeas, 102; nays,

The vote was not taken directly on the passage of the bill, but on the preliminary motion to engross and read the bill a third time. Bills which become the subject of hard contests are usually brought to a final test before the last parliamentary stage is reached.

After the bill was disposed of the army appropriation bill and several other bills were passed.

IMPASSIONED SPEECH BY MILLS. Texas Senator Advocates the Recognition of the Independence of Cuba. WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 .- The chief event of Monday in the senate session was an impassioned speech by Mr. Mills of Texas, in favor of a resolution introduced by him to declare the recognition of a foreign government a congressional prerogative and to recognize the independence of Cuba and appropriate $10,-000 for the salary of a minister. In support of the first proposition the senator quoted a long line of precedents and, speaking on the latter question he strongly denounced the administration, charging it with favoritism toward Castellar and Weyler and of Signor day at the doggery by the iron Crispi, because of his declaration that Europe could not look without concern upon the pretensions of the United States. The Cuban question was the mercantile spirit of the nation against its honor, he declared. There was an informal discussion by several senators raised on this soil. Well, me and and Bacon (Ga.), gave notice of a Sam got talkin about mean men, speech today.

WORDY DUEL IN THE HOUSE. Sensational Sequel to Johnson's Attack on Hearst.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 .- The house he ups and says Bill Higgins and Tuesday witnessed a sensational sequel to the remarkable attack made by Johnson (Cal.) on Editor Hearst. Mr. Johnson and Maguire (Dem., Cal.) were the antagonists. Their wordy duel grew out of the publication in The Record as and eyebrows, and lookin as if he a part of Mr. Maguare's remarks or com- had passed through a hard winter, ments on the former's speech last week, and says he, 'Skuse me, gents,' in which Mr. Maguire defended Mr. Hearst and, without the montion of Mr. Johnson's name, detailed some matters much I'd like to add the name of in the early life of the latter when he resided in Syracuse, N. He described his success and how he had been able to pay back every dollar he owed. He then explained that all this was an old story in California, where he had always avowed it when he ran for office. Then with bitter invectives he paid his respects to Mr. Maguire and Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, who last week characterized his attack on Mr. Hearst as cowardly.

Mr. Maguire replied to Mr. Johnson in a sarcastic vein. He told how he had attempted to secure time in which to reply to Mr. Johnson during the debate and had been unable to do so and how he had printed his defense of a man unable to secure a hearing for himself. He sneered at Mr. Johnson for whining because his attack went home to him and said he should have thought of the grief and anguish he was bringing to another before he assailed Mr. Hearst,
