THE SORCERER.

Being interested to some extent as a member of the chorus in the opera produced on Friday and Saturday evenings last, the editor solicited a criticism from one who was in the audience, and this person writes as follows:

One of the most brilliant and entertaining operas that has ever been given in this city was "The Sorcerer," by Gilbert and Sullivan, presented at Lloyd's opera house, Friday evening, under the auspices of the choir of the Episcopal church.

The music of this opera is of a high grade, and rather difficult to render, as may well be known from the reputation of the composers. For two months past, the musical director, Professor E. A. Garlich, has been drilling a chorus of fifty voices for this occasion. The success of his efforts was shown in the excellent manner in which the grand choruses were rendered in the performance.

Words of commendation here are not necessary, for they are heard on all sides from those who were present at the opera. North Platte should certainly be proud that an entertainment of such a character could be given in so creditable a manner by local talent.

The opening chorus was a most exhilarating and thrilling introduction to the successive musical treats. Miss Julia Baker, as "Constance"—in love with the "Vicar"—was perfect master of her part. Her voice and acting combined to make a very pleasing representation of a young maiden in love.

Miss Mabel McNamara, in the difficult character of "Mrs. Partlett," mother of "Constance," portrayed in perfect symmetry the lines and expressions of an old woman interested in young love matches. Miss McNamara was perfectly at home in her part, and sang well.

Jan. B. McDonald, as "Dr. Daly, the Vicar," could not have been improved upon. He represented, in manner and dress, the typical parish rector of the old school. His solos were highly appreciated by the audience.

One of the many pleasant features of the evening was the drill by the eight little flower girls. They were dressed in pure white, and each carried a crescent of roses. The figures in the march were varied and unique, and the posings were very pretty.

At the close of the second chorus Miss Wright of Sidney, appeared in the character of "Aline," who is the daughter of Lady Sangazure, and is betrothed to "Alexis." Miss Wright made a very charming appearance in her beautiful costume, and won a hearty applause from the audience during the evening's performance. Her solos were very difficult, but she sang them with ease and precision. Much credit is due to Miss Wright for the efficient and pleasing manner in which she handled this important part of the opera.

Mr. Chamberlain's voice could not have been better suited to any character than to that of "Alexis." His solos and duets with "Aline" were of such a character as to require the most accurate tones, and choicest expression, but in every instance he proved master of the situation, and was heartily applauded in many of his parts.

Fred'k Baker, as Sir Marmaduke Pointedexter, more than pleased the audience, both by his excellent singing and accurate portrayal of the character. Mr. Baker is the possessor of a very smooth and full barytone voice, and on this occasion he fully sustained the reputation he has attained as one of North Platte's most pleasing vocalists.

Mrs. Doolittle acted the part of "Lady Sangazure." She received a hearty applause as soon as she appeared upon the stage. The people all seemed to know what to expect from her, and they were not in the least disappointed. Her duet with the Sorcerer was very comical.

The "Lawyer" was a unique character, and was well presented by Mr. Shaffer, with his long wig and courtly gesticulations, and excellent voice, which was well suited to his character.

"The Sorcerer"—well, indeed it could not have been called by this name without Mr. Doolittle's voice, manners and dress-suit to make up the character. The general expression of the community is: "He was immense." The audience began to laugh before he began to sing, and it kept on laughing until he disappeared. He could not have portrayed this character more perfectly if he had been a professional. There seemed to be a general relaxation from stiffness and formality among all the actors as soon as he made his appearance.

The incantation scene was excellent. An expression of one of the children who was present is worth recording here. When asked what he thought of the singing he said: "Liked Misser Doolittle best, 'cause he talk so fass, and 'cause he make it lightning."

The last chorus was grand. It was a very rare musical treat from beginning to end. Every one certainly enjoyed it who were present. The attendance was not as large as it should have been, and the net receipts were consequently small—the choir will not clear more than $40. Yet such an entertainment establishes a good precedent, and those who took part in it deserve much praise for their efficient labor.

BEADY BUDGET.
A. W. Mathewson, Ralph Elliott and Frank Meyers were in Gothenburg Saturday.

Hans Jepson came over from Farum Saturday and was a visitor at R. McMurray's.

H. E. Morrell and E. L. Mathewson will ride the Woodmen's frisky goat at the lodge's next meeting.

The question debated at the Gaslin literary last Friday was "Resolved that it would have been better for the American people if Bryan and a free silver congress had been elected, than McKinley and a gold standard congress. H. Peckham and H. E. Morrell had the aff and Ralph Elliott and E. L. Mathewson the neg.

It is reported that work will soon commence on the ditch north of town.

Word was received in town Tuesday that Otis Moss, who lives south of town had had the misfortune of receiving a broken limb. He was driving cattle when his horse slipped and fell with him, breaking his leg in two places below the knee.

Lawyer Parsons was down from North Platte Wednesday as attorney for the defendants in the case of Wilson vs. Martin Bros., G. D. Mathewson was attorney for the plaintiff. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff.

Don't forget the entertainment at the M. E. church March 6th. The North Platte Mandolin Club will furnish the music. FRIZZLES.

Condensed Testimony.
Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer's Agent Columbus, Ohio certifies that Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, caused by a grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming 222 E. 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free Trial Bottle at A. F. Streitz's drug store.

Representative Wooster of Merick has furnished more diversion for the legislature than any other member thus far this season. It appears from the results, however, that he is one of the most effective fighters in the capitol. He is charged by the friends of the exposition bill with the responsibility of reducing the amount to $100,000.—Ex.

EVENTS IN NEBRASKA.

A boy five miles south of Nebraska City shot his brother in the groin. It was the same old story of a fool and an unloaded gun.

Plattsmouth is resuming her old time proportions as a grain market. Forty thousand bushels of corn were brought there last week.

A Bradshaw boy pushed another youth's features all out of shape and made chewing gum of his thumb. It cost him $30 in York to fix the matter with the justice.

The Grand Island Light and Power company had a hard struggle of it Tuesday night, a portion of the dynamo burning out and a large belt slipping and being torn into pieces.

A green looking Wyoming stockman was steered into an Omaha gambling house Saturday for the purpose of being fleeced, but he turned the tables on the card sharps and won something like one thousand dollars from them.

W. D. Watkins was awarded another government contract the first of this week, according to the terms of which he is to furnish 164 head of prime mares at the Santee and Ponca agencies by June 1. They must weigh about 1,100 and be free from blemish.

The Union Pacific Company is taking advantage of the big cut in steel, and has purchased 150,000 tons of new rails which will be laid on the main line the coming season. This together with the ballasting, which will be continued, will give employment to a great many idle men during the summer and fall.

The widow of John G. Higgins, formerly of Columbus, who was Governor Boyd's private secretary, has just been awarded a verdict for $2000 against the A. O. U. W. When her husband died he had a policy in that order and had allowed it to lapse, but it was shown that he had not been given notice of his delinquency and his widow won the suit.

Two young men of Shelton, who were short of coal, backed a cart up to a train standing at the station and loaded on 500 pounds. The conductor caught them at it and closed the door on them. He locked it and carried them forty miles away from home. They were liberated and walked back and were finally fined $12.85 for their escapade.

The Cambell system of tilling the soil is still attracting a great deal of attention among progressive farmers in the state, and there is reason to believe that the coming season will convince many of the skeptical of its superiority over the old style. Those who are opposed to book and newspaper farming should not forget to keep their good eye on the Cambell system.

The Standard Cattle Co. at Ames had 2,462 acres devoted to corn last year. This entire acreage was cut and shocked and the husking has just been completed. Of this there were four hundred acres of sod corn including all of which, the average yield per acre for the entire 2,462 was 68.6 bushels. It is believed that it is the biggest yield on record for so large an acreage under one management.

W. F. Wilson a farmer living north east of Humboldt delivered fifty-nine head of fat steers for which he received $4,000. This is the finest bunch of cattle that has been delivered in Humboldt for a long time. Several of the steers weighed over 1800 and the entire bunch averaged about 1600. Mr. Wilson says the corn that he has fed these steers has brought him over 50 cents per bushel.

L. B. Fenner, who has been appointed by the present state administration as one of the teachers in the reform school at Kearney, is the cause of much bad language up in Box Butte county. Both the democrats and populists are howling fit to kill. The populists say he has never been a populist, while the democrats avow that he is not one of them. Evidently he has been carrying the load of both these parties, a feat which few can manage successfully.

The commission appointed by the governor to secure relief for the starving people of India will soon make a shipment of corn by the way of San Francisco. The railroads have offered free transportation from Nebraska to San Francisco bay, where a steamer is now preparing to load wheat, corn and miscellaneous provisions. No doubt the contributions from this state will be liberal. But a small amount of corn from each county will make a handsome donation in the aggregate. The shipments will be made by individual carloads as fast as the grain is collected. It is needless to add that whatever is done must be done quickly. The situation calls for immediate action, or none at all.—Journal.
