

Justice and Correspondent.

Justice White of the supreme court is known among newspaper men as one of the kindest men in the world.

After a time the big justice came down the stairs in his pyjamas, rubbing his sleepy eyes.

"Excuse me a moment," said Justice White. In five minutes he returned, bearing with him a glass of toddy and a couple of Havanas.

"Now, that is what I call a real gentleman," said the correspondent to himself as he rushed away.

Among the large stock of early California days is one which gives a remarkable picture of a blacksmith shop.

One day two of the miners left the bar for a town some 20 miles away.

"Strangers," said the man in a weary tone, "can you tell me how far it is to the blacksmith's shop?"

A Wonderful Blind Pianist. Signor Arturo Nattini is a blind pianist who is not a freak, but a player of remarkable ability.

If a servant obeys orders as far as he can and does his work correctly as far as he goes, what more can be expected?

Amateur Essays. Apropos of extravagant education, there is no more utter waste, whether in board schools or those of higher class, than essay writing by children.

A Figure of Speech. He—What's the matter, my dear? She—I'm speechless with anger.

British Children's Orchestra. One of the most interesting musical organizations in the world is the Children's orchestra, of which her majesty the queen is patron and her royal highness the Duchess of Teck is president.

It is proposed to erect in London a terrestrial globe on a scale of one million five hundred thousandths of nature.

Reminiscences of Dickens.

It was at the juvenile birthday parties that Dickens seemed in all his glory. At the supper table, in helping some little miss to "trifle," he would assure her with all possible gravity that it was no trifle at all.

At the little theatrical entertainments Dickens was the alpha and the omega of the proceedings. He was sometimes author, adapter, condenser, musical director, manager, prompter, and even stage carpenter.

Dickens, doubtless remembering his own acute sensitiveness as a child, could not wittingly wound a child's feelings. He made fun with, not of, us.

There was nothing of the pedagogue about him—no vulgar attempt to pose as the brilliant Boz. He was simply a big boy, and he came down the ladder of his fame to meet his fellows on their ordinary platform.

In discussing this subject Dr. Goldscheider of Berlin thinks that narcotics, and especially morphine, should be avoided, particularly in chronic diseases.

One of the most difficult complications is that they are among the most useful means in dealing with pain not only in neurasthenia but likewise in genuine pain.

The results of the practice of various Paris physicians with their diphtheritic patients have been made to appear in a published summary of much interest.

Colonel Parker, the Indian, had been diligently employed in these busy days helping to take care of General Grant's correspondence.

Hints to Young Authors. There is but one way for an author to get his wares before the editors, and that is to send his manuscript to the periodical to which he believes it to be best suited.

Remark Betrayed Him. He sat in the smoking compartment of the parlor car complacently puffing a Perfecto. His easy manner and his polished language proclaimed him to be a man of the world.

A Good Judge. Editor in Chief—I think our new dramatic critic will fill the bill exactly. Managing Editor—Why?

Did You Ever Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If you get a bottle now and get relief, this medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all female complaints.

His Romance.

"Of course there's a romance in my life," asserted Fronner, when it was intimated that there was nothing of sentiment in his composition.

"I felt when I saw her, 'tis she or none on earth," is what Schiller wrote in his 'Bride of Messina.' That is exactly what I felt when I met the woman of my romance.

"She refused me very prettily and very properly," I asked her if I could cherish no hope, intimating that to deprive me of hope would be immediately fatal.

"I was almost unnecessary to say that there have been those that have made merry at this frequent 'translation' of the holy house, yet an innumerable multitude of the great ones of the earth, including many popes and kings, have paid homage to this black Madonna in its rude stone cottage."

"Traveler" tales, although they have always been regarded with suspicion, were received by our ancestors in a singularly credulous spirit, and Marco Polo, and "that archbishop" even, Sir John Mandeville himself, were treated with more or less respect.

"Marriages solemnized promptly, accurately and eloquently. Plain ceremony—legal fee; osculation extra."

Certainly if matrimony languishes in Michigan it is not the fault of advertising, or of Judge Roberts.—Chicago Record.

The Holy House Loretto.

About 15 miles south of Ancona on the main line is the station of Loretto, and on the hillside, about 3 miles from the sea, stands the city. Towering far above the town rise the great dome and campanile of the wonderful fortified church which shelters within it the sanctuary, or holy house, every year the object of pilgrimage of so many thousands of the faithful.

"She refused me very prettily and very properly," I asked her if I could cherish no hope, intimating that to deprive me of hope would be immediately fatal.

The Pathology of Chillsains.

An eminent medical man is authority for the statement that chillsains are often caused by the condition of the blood, and that they are curable by proper treatment.

"She refused me very prettily and very properly," I asked her if I could cherish no hope, intimating that to deprive me of hope would be immediately fatal.

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and potash remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break forth in a more virulent form, resulting in a total wreck of the system.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, a prominent jeweler at 605 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., says: "I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars."

My mouth was filled with eating sores, my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly, and I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles, I was cured and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery."

S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. Books on the disease and its treatment, mailed free by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
