EVENTS IN NEBRASKA.

The Louisville brick works have resumed operations after being shut down for two years under the blighting influence of democratic panic.

The hog crop in Polk county is being mowed like weeds by the cholera. The oldest inhabitants say they never saw a contagion among swine.

The ten-year-old son Roy, of Agent Johnson of the Pacific Express company at Columbus, who has been missing for two weeks is still absent and no tidings have come of his whereabouts. His parents are distracted.

It will require 300,000 square feet of roofing to cover Armour's new packing-house at South Omaha. A local firm has the contract for doing the work. It is bigger than charity and ought to be able to cover several multitudes of sins.

A night clerk at a Columbus hotel was recently discharged and all the dining room girls and chamber maids went on a strike until he was reinstated. The funny part is that there is no jealousy among the girls. The fellow who can make each one believe she is his solid mass is evidently designed for a successful clerk.

Investigation discloses the fact that a great many people who attended the state fair paid their admission money to the gate keepers instead of buying a ticket at the window. And it is believed that hundreds of these gate admissions remained in the pockets of the gate keepers. The receipts accounted for indicate it.

It cost Thurston county $2,380 to have it proven to the satisfaction of a Dixon county jury that Dr. Goodmanson of Pender did not poison and kill his wife, contrary to the statutes and his marriage vows. It was worth it to Goodmanson, but was pretty hard on the county, which is compelled to regulate a couple of big bands of Indians but cannot tax their lands.

St. Paul Republican: Noah Baxter left a cabbage stalk at the Republican office yesterday morning that had a head on each end. The one that occupied the position where cabbage heads usually grow was well developed and healthy looking, while among the roots was clasped its duplicate in miniature. The smaller head was about three inches in diameter and except for its unnatural whiteness on account of lack of sunshine was a perfect reproduction of an ordinary cabbage.

Thomas W. Burton, a Wisconsin farmer, who was a federal scout in the civil war, once lay within twenty feet of General Robert E. Lee and tried for five minutes to make up his mind to shoot the great soldier. The deed seemed too much like murder, however, and the great general's life was spared. Burton now treasures a letter in which Lee thanks him.

Demand Geraldine's Resignation. OMAHA, Oct. 8.—The executive committee of the Transmississippi exposition has decided that it will investigate the acts and conduct of Dion Geraldine, who has been employed as superintendent of the construction work on the grounds. It is claimed that contracts have not always been let to the lowest bidder and that plans of laying out the grounds have been changed without authority. The resolution demands his resignation.

Obtain a Restraining Order. OMAHA, Oct. 8.—Scriff McDonald has received from the district court of Arapahoe county, Colorado, a summons in an injunction suit which restrains the sale of Union Pacific real estate, which is scheduled to take place in this city on Nov. 1 and 2. The suit was instituted in Arapahoe county, Colorado, by the heirs of the late ex-Governor John Evans, and is directed against the Union Pacific receivers and Russell Sage and George J. Gould.

Protest Against National Democrats. LINCOLN, Oct. 6.—Chairman Dahlman of the Democratic state central committee has filed with the secretary of state a protest against placing the official ballot of the coming election. The protest states that there is no such party in Nebraska as the National Democrats; that the law regarding the formation of a new party has not been complied with, and hence, the objector asserts, the nominees are not entitled to a place on the ballot.
