NEW SHOES

SPRING COLORS AND STYLES.

Our buyer has been laboring almost incessantly for the past six months getting for our two stores the best lot of shoes that the opening of any spring season has ever caught us with, and we've been through a good many spring seasons. Labor has its reward, and the reward has commenced to come in the shape of the Finest, the Best and the Handsomest shoes that any store roof ever had the honor to cover. There are the Ladies' new tans in fashion's most approved shapes, McKay soles, welt soles (extension edge) and hand turn soles, leather top and silk vesting top. Some of the tops are all cloth and some are cloth inlaid. In Men's we've got three new Tans, (so far)--- one at $3.00, and two at $3.50; the $3.50 ones are Vici Kid and one of them has a silk vesting top. We want your criticisms---if you have any.

"OUR FLAT" MARCH 10th.
The revival of "Our Flat," the comedy success of two seasons ago, has been a notable one inasmuch as the success achieved by the play has more than been duplicated in cities where it was presented by the original company. To the theatregoers who have already seen the performance of "Our Flat," little need be said, but to those who are not familiar with the play, it might be mentioned that "Our Flat," as the title suggests, is a keen satire on the things that generally mark the humorous side of those who live in flats. The characters are concisely drawn, and they embrace a bill collector, a theatrical manager, a servant, a father-in-law, a wife who is ambitious, a dress-maker, a dramatic author, an unsuccessful actor and other minor characters which tend to live up everything and everybody in general. Cook's comedians will undoubtedly give a first class presentation in this city next Wednesday evening at the opera house. The cast is an exceptionally good one, including Anita Verno, Russell, Janie McCree, Lillian Bartlett, Geo. de Long, Mrs. Francis Edgerton, Harry Leavian, Chas. F. Gibney and others, besides Rachael Ford, the actress whom the critics have signaled out as being the rival in beauty to Mary Manning and Maxine Elliott. Special attention has been given to the scenic mounting of "Our Flat," and incidental to the plot of the piece, several attractive specialties will be introduced.

THE CUBAN WAR MUST END.

One of the latest dispatches from Washington says:

It is stated upon the highest authority that intervention has been determined upon, and official announcement that the president has decided to put an end to Spain's farcical pretensions of governing Cuba may be expected at any moment in the next day or two.

It is stated upon the same authority that General Woodford will be instructed to make final declarations to the Madrid rulers that Cuba's misrule and the anarchy existing on the island has become intolerable to the United States, which has patiently awaited the redemption of Spanish promises until the whole civilized world has become satisfied that autonomy has failed and that independence of the colony alone will prove remediable of the horrible condition that for six months has become more grave instead of improving as we was confidently assured by Sagasta's cabinet.

The president will declare that American property is not as safe to-day as it was three months ago, and that the lives of Americans are jeopardized.

An unknown man was killed by the Missouri Pacific train near Walton, ten miles out from Lincoln. The report of the engineer of the train is that the man was on his hands and knees on the track and made no effort to get off when he heard the train approaching. It was impossible to stop the train in time and the man was run over and terribly mutilated.

Harry Woodworth of Wakefield, came near losing his life by being drowned. He went to the home of Dr. Rowse for some milk and on entering the house he walked into a cistern which had been left open only for a moment. The doctor jumped into the cistern and there he found the boy standing on his head in about four feet of water, and the boy's life was only saved through prompt action of the doctor.
