Resolutions.

At a meeting held in their den, the Kiotes of North Platte, wishing to show their appreciation of Hon. W. F. Cody in giving them the use of their tally-ho in which to celebrate July 4th, 1890, passed the following resolutions, which were carved on the wall of the den and thus made a part of the records of the Kiote Klub:

Whereas, The Kiotes in their loyalty to the traditions and usages of the country, wished to take a prominent part in the celebration of the glorious 4th, and

Whereas, A bounty being placed upon their scalps, it is not always safe for them to run at large and mix promiscuously with the crowd, and

Whereas, In their extremity, through the kindness of their esteemed townsman, Hon. W. F. Cody, in granting them the use of his tally-ho, they were enabled to participate in the procession and enjoy the festivities of the day with perfect impunity, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Kiotes individually, and as a Kiote Klub, tender to Hon. W. F. Cody their most cordial thanks for the kindness which the honorable gentleman never fails to extend to any of the citizens of his home town.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Colonel Cody, coupled with the good wishes of each member of the Klub, and further be

Resolved, That when the next batch of chickens is killed to regulate their stomachs, each Kiote shall raise his left hind paw, wet with the blood of a chicken, and make his mark on the original resolution as an evidence that they were unanimously adopted.

Wednesday morning as Mrs. Jos. Morsch was filling the gasoline stove used on the lunch counter in the Morsch restaurant to keep the coffee warm, the gasoline ignited and in a few moments the fire had spread all through the two front rooms. An alarm of fire which had been sent in was promptly responded to by the department and the flames were extinguished but not until considerable damage had been done both by fire and water to the dishes and the furniture of both rooms. The damage will amount to fully $400. There was some insurance on the building but no insurance on its contents, so the loss is quite a heavy one.

OUR MEN'S TAN SHOES.

Surely the very best at the price. Every up-to-date feature that goes into better shoes, is to be found in these. Russia calf is the leather used in the uppers. It's a good leather. Strong, pliable and easy to the foot; smooth finished, takes and retains a brilliant polish. The shape of toe is one we call the New London. Soles are Good-year sewed. The lace eyelets and hooks are nickle. The back seam is stayed with the new French stay. We again say, they are surely the best at the price.

Want to Establish a Separator. W. W. Marple, of Lincoln, general agent of the creamery company, and Mr. Sears, manager of the Fremont creamery, were in town Tuesday and interviewed a number of our business men relative to establishing a separator station at this city. While here the gentlemen made arrangements to hold a meeting for business men and farmers at the court house next Monday afternoon, when they will be present and give their plan of establishing separator stations. They will also hold a meeting at the Murphy school house Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The company has established 110 separator stations in Nebraska, and its plan in brief is to have a local stock company organize and erect the building and put in the machinery. The creamery company enters into a contract to employ a man and run the plant for a period of ten years. If the average amount of milk received is 3000 pounds or over per day, the creamery company pays rent to the stock-holders for the use of the building at the rate of six per cent a year; when it runs 5000 pounds, eight per cent; 8000 pounds, ten per cent; 10,000 pounds twelve per cent.

The average cost of putting up a station, including building and machinery, is $2,000. If the stock-holders desire, they can rent a building and put in the machinery only. This costs about $1,500. It is the plan to get milk from within a radius of twenty miles of the town wherein the separator is located. Routes are established and one man brings in the milk each day on each route. This man is paid ten per cent of the sum realized each month by his customers. After placing in the separator and extracting the butter fat the milk is returned to the customers.

The average price paid by the creamery company for butter fat during the past two years was 17 cents per pound. There are four pounds of butter fat in 100 pounds of milk. At the minimum of 3000 pounds of milk a day, $20 per day or over $6,000 per year would be paid out to the farmers. But with the number of farmers within a radius of ten miles of North Platte a separator station here should receive 10,000 or 12,000 pounds of milk per day, which would mean seventy-five or eighty dollars to the farmers per day.

At the meetings to be held Monday Messrs. Marple and Sears will go into details concerning the separator, and we trust that there will be a good attendance of farmers and business men at the meeting in town, and a good attendance of farmers at the meeting at the Murphy school house.

That the farmers make money in selling their milk is attested by the fact that the business of each of the 110 separator stations established by the company is increasing each month.

Let the farmers investigate the matter, and thus they can best do by attending the meetings to be held Monday.

"Tony" Davis Drowned.

Tony Davis was drowned Tuesday evening while he and a friend were bathing in the Gothenburg canal a few miles west of Vroman. Part of the canal had been dredged out to a depth of eight feet and the current there is quite swift. As Tony could not swim he went into the shallower part intending to paddle around for a little while but Operator Moore, who can swim, struck into the deeper part and swam about a hundred yards. Just as he was climbing on the bank he heard Tony call for help and looking round saw that he had gotten beyond his depth and was struggling to regain his footing. Moore called to him not to struggle so and rushed to his assistance but by the time he reached him, Tony's struggles and the current had carried him into still deeper water. When Moore attempted to help him he found that Tony was too heavy for him to handle so he disentangled himself from his drowning embrace and swam to bank, calling to Lyon, another companion who had remained out of the water to bring a pole lying not far away. They reached the pole to Tony and he grasped it only to lose it, as he was too much exhausted by his struggles to regain his hold. By this time he had been carried still farther down the canal to a bridge and underneath that he went down and did not rise. When his body was recovered there was an ugly
