In the country precincts the fusionists are experiencing much difficulty in holding their voters in line, and as a result the party whip is being vigorously applied. Many, however, will refuse to be whipped into line.

The general verdict is that Sheriff Keliher was guilty of gross negligence in permitting his prisoner Ringler to escape, and has displayed lack of judgment in attempting to locate the man. In the future Tim should allow his deputy to bring home prisoners.

That the recent populist convention was controlled by a ring, is evidenced by a remark made in this office by Nels Swanson, a populist of Antelope precinct, who declared that the country delegates were only given an opportunity to ratify the ticket placed in nomination by the party leaders in North Platte. You occasionally stumble on to a populist who is honest enough to admit the truth.

The elevation of Bob Arundale to the leadership of the fusion forces in Lincoln county, shows the political possibilities open to a man in this country. Bob could have remained in England for a century and not reached the political prominence he has gained in Lincoln county during the past three years. Some of the more humble populists now bow and criss themselves when they approach Sir Robert.

If a few of the fusionists of Lincoln county, the editor of the Era included, who are yelling for evidence of prosperity, will visit the section between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic ocean, they will return completely cured of their partisan blindness. Never in the history of this country has such activity in the industrial world prevailed, and the demand for all kinds of artisans and laborers is far beyond the supply.

In his speech before the Grand Army encampment at Philadelphia week before last, General Daniel E. Sickles said: "Comrade McKinley stands for our people, for our flag; he stands before all the world and desires to be sustained by our people. As an old soldier, as an old American, as an old democrat dyed-in-the-wool, I say that Comrade McKinley will be sustained by our people everywhere." These words of General Sickles will find a hearty response among the old soldiers of Lincoln county—the men who sustained Lincoln in 1861-65 will sustain McKinley in 1899 and 1900.

There is considerable inside history in the matter of M. N. Holcombe declining the nomination for county treasurer after receiving the majority of the convention votes on the informal ballot. As is well known there has been considerable opposition to Holcombe ever since he assumed office, and the leader or promoter of the opposition was Wm. Beatty, of Brady. After Holcombe's election Beatty and a few friends insisted on naming the deputy treasurer, to which plan Holcomb would not consent. Beatty at once began sowing the seeds of opposition, and being possessed of a smooth, oily tongue, he secured quite a following of populists. A few days prior to the recent populist convention a committee waited on Mr. Holcombe and pointed out to him that with the opposition which faced him he could not be elected in case he was nominated, and that the best thing he could do was to get out of Newell Burritt's road. This was a big surprise party to Holcombe and he naturally made a vigorous kick. He pointed out to the committee that it was the invariable rule in Lincoln county to give a treasurer a second term, and that if he was not re-nominated the people would at once conclude that he was either incompetent or dishonest, or at least unworthy a re-nomination. But the committee was primed to meet such an objection or remonstrance, and they told him that they would see that he escaped such odium—they would see that he received a majority of the votes on the informal ballot, and that he must then decline the nomination. Holcombe concluded that he was at the mercy of the committee, and while he was more than anxious to receive a re-nomination, he acted as directed, hence his declination. It was simply a case of unadulterated bluff, but it worked to perfection, and is evidence of the smooth political scheming some of the "reformers" are capable of carrying out.

Here is what J. E. Morrison's home paper, the Logan County Pioneer says of Judge Grimes: The present term of District Court disposes of nearly all of the cases on the docket. We speak of this for the reason that when Judge Grimes came onto the bench there were in the neighborhood of 100 cases on the docket, and these facts show that the Judge has attended to business in such a way that unless something new of a criminal nature comes up, a jury will not be a necessity for some time to come. Judge Grimes has certainly made a splendid record on the bench, which will no doubt have its effects on the verdict of the people at the polls this fall.

Gus Heckler, who thought he held the trump hand in the game for the sheriff nomination, has not been heard of since the convention. This paper informed Gus several weeks ago that when pitted against a scheming politician like Tim Keliher he would cut but little ice.

It has not been noticed, at least in this end of the district, that Morrison is cutting any figure in the judicial race and Judge Grime's election by an overwhelming majority is more and more assured every day.—Sidney Telegraph.

HOME CURE FOR BLOOD POISON.

Beware of the Doctors' Patchwork; You Can Cure Yourself at Home.

This vile poison, and only attempt to heal up the outward appearance of the disease—the sores and eruptions. This they do by driving the poison into the system, and endeavor to keep it shut in with their constant doses of potash and mercury. The mouth and throat and other delicate parts then break out into sores, and the light is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system more damage than the disease itself.

Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I had spent a hundred dollars with the doctors when I realized that they could do me no good. I had large spots all over my body, and these soon broke out into running sores, and I endured all the suffering which this vile disease produces. I decided to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and was soon greatly improved. I followed closely your 'Directions for Self-Treatment,' and the large spots on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I was soon cured perfectly and my skin has been as clear as glass ever since. I cured myself at home, after the doctors had failed completely. It is valuable time thrown away to expect the doctors to cure Contagious Blood Poison, for the disease is beyond their skill. Swifts Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD—acts in an entirely different way from potash and mercury—it forces the poison out of the system and gets rid of it entirely. Hence it cures the disease, while other remedies only shut the poison in where it lurks forever, constantly undermining the constitution. Our system of private home treatment places a cure within the reach of all. We give all necessary medical advice, free of charge, and save the patient the embarrassment of publicity. Bouncing the Baby.

A fond mother once asked the witty Charles Lamb "how he liked babies?" The stammering wit promptly responded: "Boi—boi—boiled, madam!" Fortunately for the world, most men and women love babies, and the home that is without one is never truly happy. The old bachelors like Lamb are the only men who do not care for babies, and the woman who hopes to make her husband happy without undergoing the ordeal of maternity, hopes in vain. If women only knew, there is no necessity for dreading the pangs of motherhood. If a woman is really healthy in a womanly way, her trial will be insignificant. There is one great remedy that prepares a woman for almost painless child-bearing. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives strength, vigor and vitality to the special organs of the system. It cures all weakness, inflammation and ulceration. It banishes morning sickness and other discomforts. It insures a healthy, bouncing baby. Thousands of once barren homes bless this remedy for the innocent laughter of happy childhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it and will not substitute some inferior preparation. Read what one woman says:

"I was taken sick two years ago and tried almost everything but could get no help," writes Mrs. T. C. Blashfield, of Brimfield, Hampden Co., Mass. "Your Favorite Prescription did me a great deal of good. I was suffering with falling of the womb and could scarcely walk, now I am so much better off that I can walk quite a distance. It was your medicine that helped me. You have my best wishes and thanks, and may God be with you to do all the good for the poor suffering people that you can. If I hear of anybody sick, I will recommend them to write to you, and I will tell what you have done for me."

BILL NEVILLE went up the hill to get a nomination. He set the pace and will make the race to a disastrous termination.—Alliance Grip (dem.)

LAST December Judge Neville wrote a letter for publication showing the fallacy of further fusion. He is now hoping that all the back files of the newspapers have been lost.—Lexington Pioneer.

If the fusion candidate for district judge will agree to repeat, in several precincts in each county in the district, the speech he made in this city ten days ago, this writer will contribute ten dollars to his campaign expenses. Frequent repetitions of that speech would insure Judge Grimes an almost unanimous re-election, and brand his opponent as a fussy and blathering demagogue.

The fire at Lincoln last week destroyed the establishment which prints the "Nebraska Teacher" and almost the entire September issue of the journal was destroyed. A reprint will be made as soon as possible and copies mailed to all Lincoln county subscribers.

Thos. W. Anderson, who had been ill for several months, died at his home near Nichols this morning. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the G. A. R. at the Methodist church to-morrow afternoon. The deceased had been a resident of Lincoln county for many years.

AS TO NEXT YEAR.

Bryan's Election Would Cause Good Times to Vanish. The quick revival of business when the election of President McKinley was assured, followed by a steady improvement along all lines and notably in the value of our exports, should impress the voters of the country with the necessity for standing by the Republican party next year.

The matter of the war with Spain did not interfere in the slightest degree with the steady betterment of conditions, and the unfortunate conflict in the Philippines has no bearing upon the industrial and commercial prosperity of the people. It must be borne in mind that the present era of phenomenal progress has come under a Republican administration and largely as the result of a guarantee that the standard of value could not be attacked successfully for many years yet, if ever. The Philippine matter can in no sense be taken as an excuse for opposing the retention of the Republicans in power. To make a change next year would be to jeopardize every interest in the country.

The one Democratic administration—the president and both houses of congress—that the country has had since the civil war was a blight upon the nation. Another Democratic administration, with the Bryan element in control, would certainly disturb the country to an alarming extent. The matter of trusts and so called trusts is probably to be taken as the Democratic slogan next year. But it must be borne in mind that the craze for great corporations will run itself in time, and just as soon as the people cease to make them possible by dropping their money into the hats of the promoters. Trusts are not the creature of any party. They have flourished in free trade England, and they are managed in this country alike by Republicans and Democrats. Party principles have no influence upon trusts and overcapitalized concerns of every description. The prosperity of the present is largely responsible for the rush to secure charters for companies with fictitious capitals of millions of dollars. It is not because the Republican party is in power, and it is not because the Republicans as a body favor such schemes.

We must take the facts as they are. Almost immediately after Cleveland became president for the second time a period of depression set in and continued until a Republican president was elected, and since then there has been a steady betterment along all lines. If Bryan had been elected in 1890, the country would be in the depths of despair today. If Bryan or any one of his caliber should be elected next year, the good times of today would vanish. The Bryan element holds control of the Democratic party, and it is the duty of the voters next year, as a matter of self preservation, to retain the Republicans in control of affairs.—Wilmington (Del.) News.

PERTINENT REMINDERS.

Democrats Are Prone to Forget What Doesn't Suit Them.

"The silk industry of Pennsylvania," says the Reading Telegram, "has grown to be of great importance. Statistics just published show that last year there were 88 silk plants in operation, with a total of 699,308 spindles, 1,117 hand looms, 9,288 power looms and 8,401 machines. The average number of weeks in operation was 51."

Fifty-one weeks in the year, eh? That, to the Inquirer, sounds like rather steady work. There are 52 weeks in the year, are there not? But never mind that. It is to the point, but so are other facts. That which we now have uppermost in mind is the fact that there is a silk industry in this country.

Who is there, Democrat or Republican, who does not remember the savage Democratic arguments against the very duties which built up the silk industry in the United States? They were "the height of folly," because it was not possible to foster that industry in this country. The conditions in France were such that Lyons had a natural monopoly of the business.

It was impossible to manufacture steel rails too. Who has forgotten that? It was doubted whether Trenton pottery would be a success. For a long time we had to buy our hats abroad. Our gloves too. American skill and genius were of such an inferior order that nothing was to be left to them. Who has forgotten that? To which we would like to add only that the Reading Telegram is an excellent Democratic newspaper, but in its articles showing the progress of the iron and silk industries of the United States it is furnishing some very strong Republican arguments.—Philadelphia Inquirer.
