Unusual Figures

By which we mean short, stout, tall and thin men imagine that they cannot get clothes to fit unless they are made to their measure. To such we issue a most pressing invitation to give us a chance at them.

The Making of Fine Clothing is such a science that, as in shoes, several dimensions of each size are made, from which any shaped man can be fitted, though some times it is necessary to make slight alterations.

The Clothes are in every respect as good as made-to-measure garments.

Men of unusual figure can save just half the price—suits and overcoats, the same as regular sizes.

The high wind has demonstrated very thoroughly that there is one civic virtue that North Platte doesn't possess and that is street cleanliness. In addition to the sand which was blowing around very freely, the streets were filled with flying papers. People are entirely too careless about throwing papers in the street. It belies the character of the town and gives a stranger the impression that this is a community of indolent people. If every citizen would exercise the proper care in this matter it would make a very material change for the better in the appearance of the streets.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Hayes Clemens, a young fireman on the Third district, met his death Tuesday evening at Chappell under peculiar circumstances. The young man was firing Engine No. 1716 which was pulling train No. 23. At Chappell the train was sidetracked in order to let train No. 1 pass by. Clemens observed that the ash pan needed cleaning out and decided to do it while the train was on the siding. The ash-pan on the 1700 class engines have two openings. Clemens was underneath working at the forward opening when without an instant's warning the arch pipes burst close to the outer edge of the fire box and two streams of boiling water and steam struck him full in the face and breast. The force with which the water struck him was so great that it threw him back under the wheels of the tender and cinders from the ash pan were driven through his clothing and imbedded in his flesh. Death was probably instantaneous. All of the flesh on the upper part of his body and his internal organs were literally cooked. Even had he been able to withstand the scalding water the force with which he was thrown against the wheels of the tender would probably have killed him. Engineer Jeffrey was standing at the side of the engine oiling up when the accident occurred and he had one foot scalded.

Clemens' remains were taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clemens, near Hershey and the funeral was held from there Thursday. He had only been firing for a short time, having taken his examination about six weeks ago. His sudden death has cast a shadow over all of his brother firemen and the stricken parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their great affliction.

HORSE THIEVES CAUGHT.

Last week two men, C. E. Plunkett, better known as Happy Jack, and Bill Johnson, a man who had only been here for two weeks, went to Mike Foster's livery stable and said that they wished to hire two saddle horses for several days to go after some horses belonging to A. W. Arnett in Keith county. Foster knew that Happy Jack had been working for Arnett and also knew that Arnett was going to bring some horses down so he let the men have the saddle horses. A few days afterward he learned that the story Happy Jack had told was false as Arnett had brought his horses down early in the week so he reported the transaction to the sheriff. In the meantime Happy Jack sent a letter to Foster saying that the Arnett horses had gotten away from them and that they would need the saddle horses a few days longer. The letter was sent from Ogallala so Sheriff Keliher wired to Sheriff Patrick to arrest the men. Sheriff Patrick arrested Happy Jack and brought him down Tuesday night. On his return home he succeeded in finding the other man and arrested him. Sheriff Keliher went after him and brought him down Wednesday night. When Sheriff Keliher reached Ogallala he found that Happy Jack had sold both horses, the saddles and bridles and spurs to Chas. Winter, of Ogallala, for thirty dollars. Johnson says that he was only hired by Happy Jack and that their original intention was to go up into Keith county and round up a lot of wild horses that are in the hills and sell them. The men will probably have their preliminary hearing to-morrow.
