One Year, cash in advance, $1.25 Entered at the North Platte (Nebraska) postoffice as second-class matter.

MATT DAUGHERTY, of Sidney, has been chosen to respond to the welcoming address by the governor of Texas and the mayor of Ft. Worth at the meeting of the National Live Stock Association this month.

THE grain production of Nebraska for last year was seventy-five millions of dollars. This is greater than the gold production of the United States for the same year. Nebraska is not in nearly as bad shape as the populist orators would have the country believe.

THE stock receipts at South Omaha during the year just closed were the heaviest in the history of that stock center. The stock received during 1899 were as follows: Cattle 837,563, hogs 2,216,482, sheep 1,086,-319, horses and mules 103,543. The total valuation of this stock was over sixty millions of dollars.

THE business records of 1897. 1898 and 1899, and especially the last two, demonstrate the levelheadedness of President McKinley when in 1896 he said that it was better to open the mills than the mints. It is necessary to have a republican administration if you want general prosperity. History proves this.

Four explosive bombs, a few firearms and 500 pounds of ammunition were discovered in a house in the center of Manila Sunday morning while the police were seeking Recarte, the insurgent leader, who was said to have come to Manila in the hope of effecting an outbreak Saturday by taking advantage of the mobilization of the American troops at General Lawton's funeral.

The Greatest Year on Record.

guments and proofs. The smoke from the factory chimneys of the east will cause William to have a bad cough and will bring tears to his eyes before he gets through.

One of the populist members from the west has denied the existence this Tuesday evening by a compaof prosperity, and asks why it is had. It would be just as sensible entire performance. for him to ask why people in Oma-ha advertise for jobs during the season when the Nebraska farmers cannot find hands to gather the corn crop. Many homeless people congregate in the large cities and work at occasional jobs, rather than go to the country where work is plenty. In the mean time those who have places in the cities are continually on the look out for better ones, and the "work wanted" advertisements come largely from this latter class. Here in Washington there are probably more people out of work than there jobless people in the state of Nebraska, yet an advertisement for men the plantations to do hard work would not meet with a dozen responses. This hint should be sufficient to hurry up those who want government garden seeds.

The selection of a candidate for the vice-presidency is at present agitating the republicans congre-gated at Washington. Some time ago it was conceded that a New York man should be chosen, although it was also talked that a Nebraskan on the ticket would add strength in the west. Since the failure of the New Yorkers to agree on a man there is a little increase in the Nebraska talk, and it is possible that the next vice-president may come from west of the Missouri river. movement of values, alike of staples and of securities such as occurred this year could not have been foreseen. Linked with an immense business and record-breaking production in nearly all lines of business and industry except, perhaps, in some products of the agricultural interest, there was with it an advance of staple values, either of which alone would have made the year notable, and combined they have served to establish the year as a record-breaker and set up new standards.

The volume of domestic and of foreign trade alike was the largest ever recorded and the bank clearings reflect immense business expansion. active speculation in stocks and immense new industrial floatings far surpassing all previous records. Prices, as a result primarily of the stipulation proceeding from supply and demand conditions, scored probably the greatest advance in any single year and brought the general level of staple values to the highest point reached for more than eight years past. Failure statistics point to the smallest number reported for seventeen years past.

These results have come to pass in the face of a considerable lessened production of wheat and an immense falling off in the yield of cotton. With the exception of marked speculative activity in the latter during the earlier part of the season, speculation on the leading exchanges bas been more largely confined to stocks and securities.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30, '99. -Special Correspondence - Bryan having announced that he is coming east to make speeches, the people are preparing to make him explain the failure of his predictions as recorded in "The First Battle." He may think he is coming east to discuss the expansion question, but he will find that general interest is centered around the money question, and that the "enemy's coun-blood diseases knows that there are no ail-ments or troubles so obstinate and difficult to cure. Very few remedies claim to cure such real, deep seated blood diseases as S. S. S. cures, and none can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. cures, and none can is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst cases, and routs the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily, only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint, and rids the system of it forever. Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all

I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely." Swift's Specific-
