

PLOT FOR AN UPRISING

Filipinos at Manila Are Said to Have Prepared for the Same.

OFFICIALS DON'T LOOK FOR IT

Object of the Attempt May Be to Show the New Civil Commission That the Insurrection Continues—An Insurgent Paper Says Congress Has Done Nothing.

MANILA, May 14.—The latest rumor of an outbreak in Manila among the natives, which was in circulation last week, was seriously discussed by some of the local papers and attracted more general attention than has usually been the case with this sort of thing. As a matter of fact many Filipinos did leave their American employers with the apparent intention of joining some such move. Their action, taken in connection with the arrest of several natives for carrying concealed weapons and the dispersion of several suspicious gatherings, gave color to the reports. Officials have been active in the matter, but are not inclined to think an uprising will be attempted. They believe the Filipinos lack the necessary courage, especially in view of the fact that the natives feared to attempt the demonstration at the time of General Lawton's funeral, although they had made careful preparations and many insurgents had come to Manila for this purpose.

A paper found among the effects of General Pantaleon Garcia asserts that the United States congress has done nothing for the Filipinos and therefore all Filipinos who are working for Americans must leave their employers at once or suffer the penalty. One report is that the Filipino junta is endeavoring to incite an outbreak in order to show the civil commission that the insurrection is still alive.

It does not seem possible that the peace proposals Senator Buencamino has drawn for submission to Aguinaldo and the other insurgent leaders will have much weight with the Filipinos. Buencamino's reputation, gained in former wars, is that of a man who hurries to get on the winning side. He was in disfavor with the Filipinos even before the collapse of their government owing to a widespread suspicion of disloyalty to his colleagues.

Last week General MacArthur received a large number of officials, consuls and representatives of commercial bodies. To Lieutenant Colonel Crowder, his military secretary, he will assign many duties heretofore devolving on the adjutant general. This action is taken in view of the increasing importance of the governor-general's position. General MacArthur will give to his staff authority in matters of detail and will devote himself largely to questions of policy.

The towns of Holonog and Maalin on the island of Leyte have been occupied by troops of the Forty-third volunteer infantry. The insurgents opposed the landing of the Americans and sustained heavy losses. The Americans suffered three casualties.

CONGRESS NEARING AN END

House Ready to Adjourn June 1, Senate May Continue Longer

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The house this week will send to the senate the last of the general supply bills—the general deficiency and the military academy appropriation bills—and will be ready for adjournment as soon as the senate passes them and adjusts the differences between the two branches upon those already passed or pending in conference. These conference reports on appropriation bills are to be given the right of way from now until the end of the session. The house leaders say they will be ready for the sine die adjournment June 1, but allowing for delays and accidents incident to the closing up of the session, they are not inclined to think both houses will be ready to quit before June 10. Later on if complications arise in the senate the house may emphasize its readiness to adjourn by adjourning over from day to day, while the senate is in the final throes of dissolution.

The general deficiency bill will be taken up today and it will be followed by the military academy bill. It is understood the senate army reorganization bill may be taken up on Wednesday. The remainder of the week until Saturday will be devoted to miscellaneous matters. Saturday under a special order adopted some time ago is to be given up to the ceremonies attending the acceptance of the statue of General Grant presented by the Grand Army of the Republic.

RUSSIA WOULD INTERVENE

Turkish Writer Grows Bold in Facing Uncle Samuel.

LONDON, May 14.—The Times publishes this morning a letter from its Odessa correspondent, dated May 6, in which he comments upon the suspicion and jealousy with which official circles in Russia are watching the progress of the Turko-American dispute. He quotes at great length from an important article sanctioned by the Turkish censor, that has appeared in the Odessky Listok, which declares that "the imperial policy of the United States is prompted by the necessity of finding new outlets for trade."

Talmage Speaks at Edinburgh.

EDINBURGH, May 14.—Eynod hall, which has a capacity of 6,000, was crowded today by an assembly to hear Rev. Dr. DeWitt Talmage. Dr. Talmage delivered a second lecture later to a large assembly—blockading the approaches to the hall.

FOR THE LAST STAND.

All Sorts and Conditions of Men Commandeered at Pretoria.

LONDON, May 14.—The Lourenço Marquez correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Sunday, says:

"It is rumored that the Transvaal road, in secret session, has resolved to order all residents, irrespective of nationality, to assist in the defense of the republic in accordance with the terms of the revised military law.

"The Boers now recognize that they are in the last extremity and all sorts and conditions of men have been commandeered. The merchants have protested against the stoppage of a consignment of clothing and corned beef, although the latter was purchased in America. United States Consul Stanley Hollis, who sympathies are notorious, is said to have remonstrated against what he called interference with American trade."

"The war is practically over," says the Daily Chronicle's Kroonstad correspondent, and in less definite terms this is the view to be gathered from all the correspondents.

They picture the Boers as utterly demoralized and disheartened by Lord Roberts' unexpectedly rapid advance and by his facile turning of the carefully prepared positions of the Boers.

There was practically no fighting and there are no further details to give respecting the occupation of Kroonstad. The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the union jack was hoisted in the market place by Mrs. Lockhead, the American wife of a Scotchman.

Most of the horses of the Boers are in a wretched condition, but President Kruger declares he will continue the war.

It appears that the Boers at Kroonstad had been reinforced by 3,000 men from Natal last Friday, and that altogether 3,000 with a number of guns trekked from Kroonstad on the approach of Lord Roberts. The Boers made an ineffectual stand at Bischrand and had elaborate entrenchments in front of Kroonstad, which offered great facilities for a rear guard action. Their only anxiety, however, appears to have been to get away safely with all their guns and convoys, which again they have successfully accomplished. The few stores they were unable to carry away they burned.

SAYS IT'S ALL A MISTAKE.

Alleged Embezzler Neeley Maintains Air of Innocence.

MUNCIE, Ind., May 14.—C. F. W. Neeley was called upon today at the home of his sister and the reported confession of Mr. Rich was read to him. Mr. Neeley refused absolutely to make a statement further than to say that there must be a mistake. Rica was one of Muncie's leading young business men, a son-in-law of Joseph A. Godard, wholesale grocer, and for several years was a traveling salesman and also was secretary of the Indiana Traveling Men's Protective association. Rich has always been an intimate friend of Neeley's, and secured his appointment in the Cuban postal department through Neeley. They were extensively associated together in business enterprises.

The Woman's building, a structure built and used by the women's societies of the city, will be the scene of most of the public receptions. At that place after the parade the mayor will welcome the admiral, after which the latter will hold a public reception.

MRS. FROST IS SERENE

Husband's Stomach May Show Poison, But Who Gave It to Him?

HER LIFE IN THE YORK JAIL.

Efforts of Some Admirers to Hold Conversation With Her—One of Them Barely Escapes Capture—Prisoner Maintains a Cool, Calm Manner—Miscellaneous Nebraska Notes.

YORK, Neb., May 14.—The fact that a pursuing jailer stumbled over a lawn mower in the dark is all that saved one of Mrs. Frost's men admirers from being captured. For several nights two or more men have been signalling and rapping on the casement of the windows of the jail, calling to Mrs. Frost that they wanted to talk with her. The authorities thinking that possibly there might be an attempt by parties to converse with Mrs. Frost they located her in a cell back and away from the outside windows where it is a little difficult to communicate with the outside public and informed her that one of the rules of the jail was that she should hold no communication or conversation with anyone on the outside with the threat that if she did they would remove her still farther from the window and in not as pleasant a cell room.

When Jailer Bickley was in the jail he heard a gentle knocking, then louder and then heard some man calling "Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Frost." Putting out the light in the jail Bickley crept around to the side door and made a dash for the intruder and would have captured him had it not been that he stumbled over a lawn mower left in the court house yard.

Just what these men admirers, or friends of Mrs. Frost want is a question. It is believed that if it were not for the vigilance of the jailer there might have been an attempted jail delivery. The York county jail is one of the best and strongest country jails, situated in the basement of the court house in the north east corner. One or two inmates in past years have gotten out and escaped.

Mrs. Frost, in appearance, conversation and actions is apparently less concerned as to the results of the chemical analysis of the stomach of Mr. Frost than any other woman in York. She still maintains that cool, calm manner, heartily eats her meals and spends most of the time reading books, magazines and newspapers.

In conversation the subject of her husband's death was brought around and in reply to the question asking her if she did not think it would go hard with her if the chemical analysis showed poison in the stomach, she, in a half boasting way, replied that "it does not matter much whether the stomach was full of poison, they would have a pretty hard time to prove that I gave it to Mr. Frost."

A Bank's Deal With Bartley.

OMAHA, Neb., May 14.—A deposition on behalf of the defense in the case of the state of Nebraska against the First National bank of Alma was placed on file and opened in the United States circuit court here. In the deposition Atwell L. Burr, president of the bank at the time of the failure, testifies as to the collections between the bank and ex-treasurer Bartley. He says that the arrangement was made by the treasurer in Lincoln and under its terms the bank was to pay 6 per cent for the money of the state deposited by the treasurer in the bank; that 3 per cent was to go to Bartley and 3 per cent to the state; that at that time Bartley gave him $10,000 of the state money and that he secured from Alma certificates of deposit for that amount, which he gave to Bartley and which were afterwards deposited in the Alma bank by Bartley. Burr also said that no one knew of the arrangement except himself, Bartley and Dan Sullivan, the cashier of the bank, and that none of the funds of the state deposited in the bank was deposited under the terms of the bond upon which the state of Nebraska sues to recover its money alleged to be in the bank at the time of the failure. He further says that all the money of the state had been withdrawn by Bartley before the failure, the amount being $25,244.76.
