Proclamation.

Wednesday, the 30th day of May, is the day set apart as Memorial Day, the day on which we meet to show our love and respect to our departed heroes. Let us lay aside our business cares and pleasures and join in scattering flowers over the graves of those who so willingly gave their lives to the service of our glorious country and flag. I would recommend that the business houses close between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., that all may participate in the exercises of the day.
H. S. WHITE, Mayor.

Minor Hinman Entertains.

The Hinman residence in the Second ward was the scene Friday evening of a very charming social event at which Minor Hinman was the host. The affair was to celebrate the close of school days in the High School and the majority of his guests were his class mates. The evening was very pleasantly spent playing games. Delicious refreshments were served just before midnight. Among those who were entertained were:
Mable Davis, Jessie Bullard, Ida Neir, Emma Baker, Mamie Cronin, Sadie Bakwell, Eva Hartman, Margaret Gilman, Mertie Richards, Mary Sullivan, Bessie Finney, Emily Cooper, Ethel Donegan, Irene Swarthout, Fred Schmalzried, Blaine Kitzmiller, Clare Nesbit, John Holcombe, John Vernon, Frank McGovern, Ross Stebbins, Will Otten, Romeyn Dillard, Mason Robinson, Miss Ida VonGoetz and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Orr.

Last week the new water works reservoir at West Point which was built only a few months ago sprung a large number of leaks and let all of the water out. The citizens now allege fraud in its construction and it is charged that the bricks were laid on sand. The original cost was $3000 and it is estimated that it will cost very nearly that much to get it in repair again.

Frank P. Morgan, who has published the Chappell Register for thirteen years, sold the paper last week to Babcock & Johnson.

H. T. Club Events.

Mrs. H. S. Ridgely, a former member of the H. T. club entertained its members Friday evening. It was an event which will long be remembered by all of them because everyone spent a thoroughly delightful evening. The intellectual prowess of the club was tested by a musical love tale which they were requested to decipher but that it was hardly a fair test on account of their lack of knowledge of love affairs, was proven by the fact that the winner of the contest, Miss Josie Goodman, only succeeded in deciphering half of the tale. The hostess rewarded her with a handsome pearl paper knife. Miss Jennie Carlson was the recipient of the consolation prize—a sucker. After the close of the contest the rest of the evening was devoted to the discussion of club mysteries. Refreshments were served shortly after eleven. The hostess was assisted in receiving by her daughter Lucile Harriett, who had been adopted by the club as the club baby.

The next evening (Saturday) the club held its farewell banquet at the guild house. Essays, dealing with various problems which confront modern civilization, were read, some original poetry was recited and one or two rather frivolous papers on club subjects were read but the evening's program as a whole was one which tended to promote the intellectual welfare of the members.

Hershey Hotel Burned.

The Hershey hotel, owned and conducted by Mrs. Terry, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday evening about five o'clock. Mrs. Terry was absent from the house, but it is believed that fire originated from the chimney near the roof. When first discovered the flames had gained considerable headway, and the efforts of the people were directed towards saving the furniture, most of which was removed. The building was valued at about twelve hundred dollars, and eight hundred dollar insurance was carried.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

The material for the Nichols cream separator station was purchased of W. H. Hill, of Hershey. The Nichols cream separator station will be ready for business by the first of the coming week. The machinery is being put in at this time.

The dredge boat recently fitted up and put into the old canal is said to be working like a charm.

The quarterly meeting services at Hershey last Sunday were well attended. Presiding Elder Moore were with them.

G. L. Mudd, of the Paxton ranch, received a new wind mill the last of last week from the east.

Chris Koch of the south side, had fifteen young pigs devoured by coyotes in one night recently.

C. W. Keyes is confined to the house by rheumatism at this time. John Aveline left Monday for Chicago, where he will fit up trains for California for the American Tourist association for a time.

Mrs. Frank Cook received a telegram the last of the week announcing the death of a sister at Bennett, Colorado.

Several relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. Hollingsworth of Nichols, enjoyed an ice cream social at their home on Friday evening last. It was given in honor of his brother Hugh and family, of North Platte, who were there on a visit at the time.

Claud Shinkle is laid up with a lame foot caused by being kicked by a horse.

Cecil Tuell was the guest of the Brooks at Nichols, on Wednesday night of last week while enroute from North Platte to his home in Dickens with a load of goods. He came that way in order to cross the South river on the Nichols bridge.

O. H. Eyerly purchased a new family carriage of W. H. Hill at Hershey last week.

A large number enjoyed a social dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Eyerly at Hershey, last Friday night.

Chas. Burke, of Denver, was down this way last week looking for winter-fed cattle that were for sale. There are several bunches of that kind in the valley but we understand he only succeeded in purchasing one lot of twenty-five head of Seeberger & Co. He shipped the m west the first of this week.

Just as Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Funkhouser were getting ready to go to bed Saturday night, three of their children, twenty-seven grandchildren, three great grandchildren called upon them without a moments warning. They indulged in an ice cream supper and had a pleasant time all around.

Dr. and Mrs. Eves spent Sunday with their son George and family just west of North Platte.

Mrs. Tyler Hollingsworth's parents, who came up here from Missouri about two months ago, left a few days ago for a visit with a son in Iowa.

Coyotes are said to be working havoc among young calves in different parts of the country at the present time.

Several of Geo. E. Sullivan's friends at Nichols assisted him in celebrating his 44th birth anniversary last Saturday evening without first informing him of their intentions.

The Sidney schools closed last Friday minus a graduating class.

The cream separator station at Ogalalla is receiving about 3,500 pounds of milk per day.

During the past few weeks E. M. Searle, of Ogalalla has sold 4,800 acres of Keith county land.

Frank Extrom, of Lexington, has sued the Union Pacific for one thousand dollar damages. Last spring while working on the steel gang he had three fingers mashed, two of which were amputated, and for the loss of these he asks damages.

The seven-year-old daughter of I. J. Koster, living near Gothenburg, was burned to death last Wednesday. During the temporary absence of the parents the child's clothes caught fire in some manner, and she was found on the floor burned almost to a crisp.
