Celebrate the Fourth.

Wednesday was most decidedly the small boy's and small girl's Fourth of July in North Platte and they enjoyed it to the utmost until the thunder storm came up in the afternoon and rather dampened their ardor. The morning was devoted to seeing how much powder it was possible to burn in a short time and how much racket could be made. Occasionally a Sabbath-like stillness would descend and their elders would begin to wonder if the youngsters had been taken suddenly ill but a redoubled noise in a few moments soon proved that they were still very much alive.

In the afternoon the races which had been arranged by several of the merchants came off on Dewey street. They attracted a large crowd of children and a fair sprinkling of grown people. A goodly number of contestants were entered in every race and considerable enthusiasm developed. Capt. Hamilton acted as a starter. Unfortunately when the program of races was only about half over a thunder shower came up and then the principal race was to see which could get under cover first. As the showers kept coming up every few minutes the program was not resumed.

When the shades of evening began to fall the aforesaid small boy and small girl retired to their homes feeling that the day had been a very glorious one although McKee's terrors had been licked.

Break Even.

The two games of ball played at Kearney this week between teams of that and this city resulted in a break even. Tuesday's game, which was one of the best ever played in Kearney, resulted in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of North Platte. The following day the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of Kearney. The latter game was won in the fifth inning when through costly errors the Kearneyites scored six runs. The game was played in a blinding dust storm that made it exceedingly disagreeable for both players and spectators. Lawler of Omaha was imported to pitch for Kearney, and they also played Hofmeister of Grand Island.

The North Platte team is stronger than Kearney and can defeat the latter in eight games out of ten, at least we would wager a little on that proposition. Had the North Plattes played their customary game Wednesday, the score would have been different.

While catching in Wednesday's game at Kearney, Joe Schwaiger was struck on the left hand with a bat, breaking the ligaments in his index finger. He bravely caught the game until the ninth inning when he retired.

A resident of Brady writes us that the celebration held there on the Fourth was attended by a crowd numbering nearly one thousand. The Cozad band furnished music for the occasion, there were horse races, a ball game, and a number of other athletic events. It was withal the biggest day Brady ever had, and the committee felt proud of its efforts.

Business Change.

Tuesday afternoon Milton Doolittle bought C. M. Newton's stock of goods and at once took possession. Negotiations for the purchase of the stock had been pending for several weeks, but was not finally consummated until Tuesday.

Mr. Doolittle will continue to carry the same lines of goods and will probably add others. He is an up-to-date business man, and will no doubt maintain the large volume of business which has been transacted at the store.

Mr. Newton's plans for the future are indefinite, but he will not remove from the city for some time, and may continue to be a permanent citizen.
