About thirty entries for land on the government reservation at old Fort McPherson were made at the local land office yesterday. These entries were made upon lands which for many years were held by the Union Pacific railroad company under its land grant. Several years ago, however, the secretary of the interior rendered a decision to the effect that the land was not included in the grant of the railroad company and ordered the land appraised. The land was appraised a couple of years ago, and this year was ordered placed on the books of the local land office for entry, one of the requirements being that the entryman pay within five years the price at which the land was assessed. Nearly all the land had been squatted upon by settlers, some of whom have placed substantial improvements thereon, and they were naturally quite eager to file upon the land on which they had squatted.
