BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

O. W. Rich, the Nichols school teacher, is now riding on a new bicycle.

The potato harvest in the valley is in full blast but the crop is limited.

Geo. W. Miller, manager of the Lexington marble works, was up in the valley this week where he sold C. A. Beckett, A. W. Arnett and J. W. Liles each a fine monument.

John and R. W. Calhoun have returned from a business trip to McPherson county. While up there John shot and broke the wing of a large grey eagle that he captured alive and brought it down home with him where it ate three black birds for its breakfast the following morning. It measures six and one-half feet.

Jake Meyers, who recently sold his farm over in the south hills, has rented the old canal farm recently vacated by E. Spitsnogle and family.

D. L. Davis is erecting a shed for his fine new carriage that he recently purchased.

Mrs. Trent, mother of Mrs. O. H. Eyerly, is visiting at Paxton.

Chris Pierson's new residence is nearing completion.

The sugar beet harvest is now in full blast. While the crop is not large the quality is first-class.

Louis Toillion has his new barn about completed on his farm north-east of Nichols.

Daniel Davis sold the relinquishment to his homestead on the Birdwood to a man from down the line the other day for $100.

J. C. Gyger of the Nichols creamery has lately purchased the W. E. Park farm near that place. It contains eighty acres and he got it for $400. After a few improvements on the residence he will move his family into the same. The neighbors of that vicinity all kindly welcome Mr. Gyger and family to the neighborhood.

W. J. Shinkle and crew have lately been baling and loading the alfalfa hay that Seeberger & Co. recently purchased of O. H. Eyerly.

DICKENS DOINGS.

Pretty near a water famine in town last week.

Mrs. L. P. Hodges and son Will left Saturday morning for Kenesaw, Nebr., where they will visit for about a week.

Miss Naomi Dowell, who is teaching school over north of Wellfleet, visited here with her sisters Saturday and Sunday.

Seeding watermelons is the order of the day this week. Some are through seeding while others have just commenced. The recent cold weather has pretty near spoiled the melons for eating purposes.

The B. & M. has made another change in its time card. This enables the High line flyers to make better connections with the main line trains at Holdredge. One train daily each way except Sunday.

W. B. Votaw of Maywood was in town Thursday and Friday looking after his interests here.

J. M. Fristo shipped a car of hogs to Cheyenne Thursday of last week.

Mrs. J. R. Cosselman and daughter Nellie of North Platte were visiting with Dickens folks Sunday and Monday.

Rev. Fisher of Wallace delivered an excellent sermon to the people of Dickens and vicinity Sunday. About thirty-five were present.

A mass meeting of business men was held at Wymore recently, when it was decided to ask the Anheuser-Busch brewing company to build an opera house in connection with the fine two-story business block which the company will soon erect at Wymore. A stock company has agreed to take a five-year lease on the opera house.

Andrew Carnegie has offered to duplicate whatever sum is raised by the people of Paterson, N. J., for the erection of a projected labor lyceum in that city. The fund was begun by the local Knights of Labor and is being raised almost entirely through the efforts of the members of that organization.

Wallace Waifs.

Six carloads of stock were shipped from Wallace the past week: one car of horses and four cars of cattle east, and one car of hogs west to the Denver market. Pretty good for sandhillers.

Al Etheredge returned Monday evening from Clariton, Iowa, where he went a week ago with a carload of horses for P. L. Harper.

Mr. Stackhouse is moving the A. J. Allison house to the claim recently taken as a homestead by his daughter Mamie about four miles east of town. The family will occupy it as a residence as soon as it can be made ready.

Alex Klepsie, of Traer, Iowa, who has been visiting his brother-in-law F. J. Nichols, for the past ten days returned to his home Wednesday morning.

Brad Nichols, Ed Nicoson and Bert Nation started last Friday morning on a hunt in the lake country. They expect to be away about three weeks. They will probably return loaded — with ducks.

A couple of the local sports put a V on the election a night or two ago: one dollar on Lincoln county, one dollar that Bryan would have 5,000 majority in Nebraska; one dollar on Indiana, and one dollar on the general result.

M. G. Reynolds moved Tuesday into J. E. Salyard's place.

Rev. J. D. Stewart, of Aurora, Nebraska, the Congregational state superintendent of Sunday school work will hold an institute with the Wallace church and out stations, being here through November 11th to 19th; three days at Wallace 11, 12 and 13; Dickens, 14 and 15; Young's school house, 16 and 17; Braugh's lake the 18 and 19. All are cordially invited to attend. Meetings afternoons and evenings. Mrs. Stewart will have charge of the music. JAY ESAR.

Nebraska City's board of health has made a ruling whereby all hogs must be kept out of the city.

Principal George Carrington, Jr., of the Lorton schools won the $150 prize offered by the B. & M. railway for the best essay on Nebraska.

Pawnee City's school teachers have been given two days in which to visit institutions of learning of other cities. Most of them will visit Kansas City.

Prosser, fifteen miles northwest of Hastings, the terminus of the Missouri Pacific railroad, lost three of its principal business houses by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning.

The Standard Cattle Company of Ames has harvested nearly 800 bushels of sugar beets. The sugar beet factory is running day and night and gives employment to about 300 men.

Lieutenant John Hood, who was in charge of the soundings for the route of the government cable from San Francisco to Hawaii, Guam and Manila, was one of the officers on the Maine when that battleship blew up in Havana harbor.

P. S. Hammond and Carl Junker, of Gothenburg, were in town. They had been making a re-survey of the Lincoln and Dawson county irrigating ditch. If built according to the new survey the ditch will run just north of the Brady school house. They were assisted by C. P. Ross, county surveyor.—Brady Review.

Four years ago Debs was on the stump for Bryan and presumably was winning some votes for him. Debs this year is canvassing for himself and he is said to be more eloquent and earnest than he was in 1896. With Debs and Wharton Barker both pulling votes away from Bryan that 6,500,000 of demopops of 1896 will probably shrink somewhat in 1900.—Washington Post.

Democratic orators draw pictures of the discontent prevailing in the island of Porto Rico, but now comes General Davis, the military commandant on the island, and informs the department that all of the 3,500 men now there are not needed and half the number will suffice. If there was a condition of unrest in Porto Rico General Davis would not be likely to make such a recommendation.—Bee.

Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil millionaire, is believed to have political aspirations. The sudden removal of his legal residence to Florida, where he has been a power in politics for many years, is said to mean that he will contest for a seat in the senate when the term of Stephen Russell Mallory expires in 1903.

Word has been received at Crete from the war department that the remains of Walter Burlingame, a member of the 1st Nebraska regiment will be shipped to this country at an early date. He was killed in the Philippines while fighting the enemy. Friends at Crete will be notified when the body arrives at San Francisco.
