It was cough that carried him off. It was a coffin they carried him off in. Homely rhyme but expresses a sentiment that often, unfortunately, is true.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

County clerk Holtry of North Platte was, delivering election supplies to the different precincts in the valley Saturday.

The republican rally at Hershey last Friday night was a grand success in every way. The speakers, W. T. Wilcox and H. S. Ridgley were greeted by a large and appreciative audience that filled the spacious hall to overflowing. The meeting was opened by a campaign song sang by J. W. Pricketts twin daughters which was highly appreciated. The orators presented numerous and undisputable facts why the republican party should win this fall instead of the mixed-up fusionists which were received with hearty applause by all but a few hot-headed fusionists who gave vent to their feelings after the meeting closed.

Mrs. Spear with her household effects departed a couple of days since from Hershey to join her husband who is at the present time day operator at Cozad after being located at Hershey for a long time. He justly merited this promotion.

The Misses Smith have moved their boarding house in Hershey from the Strickler residence to the Bergman residence vacated by Mr. Spear and wife.

John Duffy and family of Friend, are visiting relatives at Hershey. J. C. Gyger has lately moved his residence west near the north and south road.

J. R. White is having his barn treated to a fresh coat of red paint. His brother D. B. who resides on the farm is wielding the brush. Archie Anderson and mother, of the county seat were up to their farm on business Saturday.

Dick Shinkle and crew are baling hay at this time on Chas. McAllister's farm west of Hershey.

Frank Simpson the new U. P. agent at Hershey and sister will occupy the Strickler residence lately vacated by the Misses Smith.

Owing to the late pleasant weather corn shucking has been about completed in the valley.

E. C. Von Ohlen and L. A. Rengler returned to their homes in Overton to vote. They have been handling hay in the valley lately.

We understand that Rev. Gilpin will commence a series of revival meetings in the M. E. church at Hershey the coming Sabbath.

Several new sod caves have been lately erected in the village of Hershey which will be used for cellars by the residents.

Farm for rent in the valley are in good demand at this time. Those who want to rent are mostly from the sand hills.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Baker former residents of this vicinity but who now reside in North Platte were visiting in this vicinity the first of last week. They went from here to Ash Grove and before they return home they intend to visit a few days in McCook.

Cecil Tuell received another car of salt last week which he is selling at $1.15 a sack or $2.25 a barrel.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stayner, of McCook, arrived Saturday night and will visit with Mrs. Stayner's parents Mr. and Mrs. Stratton a few days. Mr. Stayner is a brakeman on the B. & M. at McCook and came home to vote.

The Hublitz Bros. shipped several hundred pounds of watermelon seeds to J. C. Robinson at Waterloo, Nebr., Monday morning.

Burlington Extensions.

The Omaha World-Herald of last Friday says:

Three separate railroad propositions are now being anxiously watched by railroad men in connection with the visit of President Perkins and Vice-President Harris of the Burlington, with General Manager Holdrege, of headquarters here, to the very places where the railroad building is to be done, if it is done at all. Eastern railroad journals have three such projects mapped out, as reported in New York financial circles.

One is the building of a line from Kearney to Bridgeport up the North Platte valley. Kearney is a big town in itself, and Bridgeport is the town in Cheyenne county at which the Guernsey and Brush extensions form a junction. This would carry it through the counties of Buffalo, Dawson, Lincoln, Keith and Cheyenne.

Another is the extension of the Guernsey line on west to Ogden or Salt Lake City to a connection with the Southern Pacific. This has been a much surveyed route for a year, and the thoroughness with which the Guernsey line has been built indicates for itself that it is intended for something more than a stub line.

The third is the building of a line into Yellowstone Park. Already the road has under construction an extension from the Billings line down into the Big Horn country.

Accidentally Shot.

H. Petrie, manager of the Denver stock yards while hunting on the island near Maxwell, was seriously shot in the left arm Thursday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a shot gun. He in company with Will Dolan were just starting for home and were seated in the wagon when in some unknown manner Mr. Petrie's gun was discharged the full load entering his left arm just above the elbow and tearing away a large portion of the flesh. One of the main arteries was cut and he nearly bled to death. Dr. Ward was called and done all that he could for him. He was placed on No. 3 that night and taken to his home in Denver. It was a very close call and if he escapes with his life he will be indeed fortunate. --Brady Review.
