IRA L BARE, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

SUBSCRIPTION BATES. Entered at the North Platte (Nebraska) postoffice at second-classmatter.

SMALL-POX is the worst foe that North Platte has encountered for some time, but we have confidence in its citizenship to vanquish the foe without the loss of an individual. In this warfare the city authorities must be backed up by the citizens.

Fusion is now extremely unpopular in western Nebraska; the democrats are cussing the populists and the populists are cussing the democrats, and there you are. Each party now swears that hereafter they will go it alone, even if they know to a certainty that such action means awful defeat. Theretore in language of M. C. Hafrington, "fusion is too dead to skin."

Among those who are mentioned braska is Asst. Secretary of War Geo. D. Meiklejohn, and of the which were well attended by the names presented we know of none john. As assistant secretary of schools. war during the past two years he has shown executive ability, energy and good judgment, and with the knowledge he has gained of departmental affairs at Washington and the acquaintances be has formed would give him a prestige in the senate that none of the other wouldbe candidates in the state could acquire. We take very kindly to Mr. Meiklejohn's candidacy.

GOVERNOR-ELECT DIETRICH has given evidence that he will study well the qualifications and standing of the men who apply for appointive offices under him. Let the new governor pay more attention to the fitness of the men than he does to the endorsements the applicants hold from politicians and he will fill the state institutions with men who will be a credit to the state. the governor and the party. For the next two years the republican party of the state will be on trial; was his wife, met me at the front let the officials prove their superiority to the gang that has infested the state house and state institutions the past four years. Let them do this and they will so strengthen the fortifications of the republican party in the state that they cannot be shaken by the enemy.

A Congratulatory Letter.

W. C. Elder has received the following letter from A. S. Gilliland. of Jefferson, Iowa, with whom in boyhood days he played pranks, "sparked" the girls and later in life materially assisted in fighting the battles of the republican party in Iowa:

Dear Will:-Allow me to congratulate you and all republicans in the state of Nebraska, on your well-earned victory for sound money and the American flag (which should always float to the breeze a few feet higher than any other flag in the world). I want to congratulate such men as yourself and John Skirving particular, as 1 know all such men who were former residents of lowa, and particularly Greene county, do not let state pride for a candidate for president let their good judgment and loyalty to the flag get away from them, whether it is in the United States or the Philippine Islands, or any where else, where same has been them" in Iowa and Greene county. only 100,000 in state and 1,417 in this county.

INFLUENCE OF BOSTON.

The Town Must Live Up to Its Repu tation For Benns.

"It is astonishing," said a western man, "how farreaching is Boston and some of its best traditions. Naturally enough, in the eastern sections of the country this would not be extraordinary, but that it should ramify the whole land is worthy of remark. As an instance I may cite one of my own experiences. Several years ago I tried farming in western Kansas and made a specialty of bean raising. I had had some experience in that line in Tennessee, where I was born and raised, and thought I could make it go in Kansas. I raised a fairly good crop the first season, and when it was ready for market I visited our market town to dispose of it in bulk to a commission man there. He was not in his office when I called, and, being in a burry, I went to his home to see him.

"A lady, who I afterward learned door, and I asked for Mr. Blank. She sald he was not feeling very well and was taking a nap. I told her I had some beans to sell, and, as I was in a hurry and lived some distance in the country, I would like to see him, if possible. She said she would call him and asked me to take a seat on the plazza. He was evidently pretty hard to wake, for I heard her call him once or twice before he gave any sign. Then she became more urgent. "'John, John," she called, 'there's a gentleman waiting on the porch to see "'Who is he?' inquired Blank. "'I don't know,' answered the lady, but I guess he's from Boston. He's got beans to sell."

"And, mind you," concluded the narrator, "I was never in Boston in my life."-Washington Star.

FLOATING FIELDS.

It was Dr. MacGowan who some years ago described the manner in which floating fields and gardens are formed in China. In the month of April a bamboo raft 10 to 12 feet long and about half as broad is prepared. The poles are lashed together, with interstices of an inch between each. Over this a layer of straw an inch thick is spread, and then a coating two inches thick of adhesive mud is taken from the bottom of a canal or pond which receives the seed. The raft is moored to the bank in still water and regulres no further attention. The straw soon gives way and the soil also, the roots drawing support from the water alone. In about 20 days the raft becomes covered with the creeper. and its stems and roots are gathered for cooking. In autumn its small planted. We did not "do a thing to white petals and yellow stamens, nestling among the round leaves, present a very pretty appearance. In some places marshy land is profitably cultivated in this manner.

Besides these floating vegetable gardens there are also floating ricefields flooring soil, which, being adhesive and drought or flood. When other fields advanced to maturity. Agricultural treatises contain plates representing rows of extensive ricefields moored to acustrine regions of the lower Yang-tse

accompanied by mucous patches in the mouth, eruptions on the skin, sore throat, copper colored splotches, swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this iolent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease, the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could In the fall of 1897 contracted Blood Poison. I tried Have Been No Worse. three doctors, but their treatment did me no good; I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, ulcers appeared in my throat and mouth, my body was almost covered with copper colored splotches and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arras. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was can understand my sufferings. I had about lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S. but must contess I had little faith left in any medicine. After taking the third bottle I noticed a change in my coudition. This was truly encouraging, and I determined to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. From that time on the improvement was rapid; S. S.
