

Local News in Brief.

We have a man who wants to rent a nice 5-room house, good location.

W. J. Roche is making arrangements to build quite an addition to his residence on west Fifth street.

A considerable amount of furniture for the high school building was received the latter part of last week.

Dr. F. W. Miller, Dentist, over Striets's drug store.

Railroad men running into Grand Island say there are between one and two hundred cases of a mild form of small-pox in that city.

The advance agent for Hoyt's "A Brass Monkey," which is billed at the opera house next Saturday evening, spent yesterday in town.

Jos. Mink, who was taken to Omaha last week for medical treatment returned a few days later and has resumed his run as passenger brakeman.

The number of farmers in town Saturday was pretty good evidence that the fear created by the health conditions in this city is dying out among the country people.

Wm. J. House, a night switchman, will be united in marriage this evening to Miss Mary L. Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Peters, living north of town.

Otto Woolman was arrested and placed in jail Sunday on the charge of participating in the assault on young Kirschgastner on Thursday of last week. Young Vance, who is wanted on the same charge, has not yet been apprehended.

The city council is of the opinion that an inspection of flues and chimneys in the city would not be a bad precautionary measure against fires, and has accordingly instructed the fire chief and marshal to make such inspection.

County Attorney Ridgley will soon begin a number of tax foreclosure cases against non-resident owners. The cases, which have already been instituted have been instrumental in getting a number of non-residents to pay their delinquent taxes.

The twenty-two days lost by the city schools will probably all be made up by the end of the school year. The usual holiday vacation will be abandoned, and it is probable that after the new building is completed school will be held on Saturday forenoon.

A number of repairs are being made to Waltemath's saloon. The private card rooms will be reconstructed and enlarged, the floor of the room covered with inlaid linoleum and a number of new articles of furniture purchased. When the improvements are completed Mr. Waltemath will have one of the neatest places in the west part of the state.

At its meeting Saturday evening the city council objected to the charges made by Dick Wood for services at the fair ground hospital. Mr. Wood's bill was for twenty-four days of twenty-four hours each at the rate of eight dollars for each day, or a total of $192.00. The council seemed to think five dollars per day sufficient for the services rendered and allowed the bill for that amount.

Round and Half Round Stock Tanks, all sizes, for sale by Jos. Hershey.

Two negroes came in from the west Sunday night and took lodging at the Nebraska House. Early yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, who were occupying a room in the building, were awakened by the presence of a negro in their room. Jensen sprang out of bed and seizing a chair struck at the intruder, who fled down the rear stairway and disappeared, firing a shot from a revolver as he fled. An hour or so later Officer McNamara was called and going to the room occupied by the negroes, found both in bed. He interrogated them closely but each denied having been out of bed. A search, however, resulted in finding a revolver with one cartridge exploded. Both were placed under arrest and taken to jail. The supposition is that the negro who entered Jensen's room and fled, re-entered the house and went to bed. His trousers which contained the revolver, were found under his pillow.

Mrs. Arthur McNamara left today for a visit with friends in Fremont.

Judge Grimes returned Saturday from Sidney where he held court last week.

Dr. Northrup returned Saturday evening from a professional visit to Logan county.

Mrs. Frank Bacon has been visiting relatives in Gothenburg for a day or two past.

Will Finney returned Sunday from a visit in eastern Nebraska and in Missouri.

Charley Davis of Whitman, Neb., was in town yesterday enroute to his parent's home in Wellfleet.

Will Woodhurst went down to Osceola yesterday to adjust a fire loss which his company had sustained.

Rev. J. D. Pulis returned Saturday from Columbus where he attended the funeral of Prof. W. J. Williams.

Col. Bill Paxton spent a few hours in town Saturday while enroute to Omaha from a visit to his ranch near Hershey.

Miss Mina Mills, who returned from Fenville, Mich., about ten days ago has begun teaching school in District 99, north of the river.

Cyrus Wilcox, who had been visiting his brother W. T. Wilcox for a couple of weeks, returned to Ohio the latter part of last week.

Dr. H. C. Hannah will leave in a few days for his old home in Missouri, and after a short visit there will go to St. Louis with a view of locating permanently.

A. C. Howard returned yesterday morning from Centralia, Mo., where he visited a sister he had never before seen. Mr. Howard also spent a few days in Omaha.

Miss Ivy Broach who is teaching in Whittier precinct and Miss Kate Gilman who is similarly employed near Sutherland, spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents.

Mrs. L. H. Baker accompanied by her two grandchildren left Saturday night for New York City where Mrs. Baker will spend the winter with her son John. Mrs. Howard Atkinson went as far as Chicago with the party.

Rev. Verner happily surprised his church members by arriving home Friday night, and occupying the pulpit Sunday. Rev. Verner had a very pleasant visit in New York and Pennsylvania and returns feeling much benefitted by the trip.

Geo. H. Likert and C. B. Smythe left last night for Terre Haute where the former will remain visiting relatives until after Christmas. Mr. Smythe will spend Christmas with his parents at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and will return here about Jan'y. 1st.

Col. W. F. Cody arrived home yesterday morning from a business trip to the Big Horn basin. While there the Colonel and a party of eastern friends spent several days hunting deer and bear, and though the Colonel is somewhat reticent when speaking of the result of the hunt, it is known that the party found and killed enough game to justify the time thus spent. Colonel Cody will spend the greater part of the time from now until the new year at his home in this city.

The Lexington whiskey cases were disposed of at the November term of court as follows: Andy Miles and Frank Crouse forfeited their bonds and could not be found at time of trial. Frank Ackelson plead guilty and was fined $200. Frank Gessner plead guilty and was fined $100. Jesse Hildenbrand was dismissed on first charge and held for $500 bonds on second count till next term.—Gothenburg Independent.

John Bartling and Bert Polley, both sons of prominent stockmen of Cheyenne county, were arrested last Saturday charged with stealing horses from Mrs. Mary A. Ingraham, whose ranch is four miles west of Camp Clarke.

Hy Waltemath's beer warehouse has been twice broken into lately. Certain parties are suspected and further depredations in this line will be followed by the arrest of the suspected parties.

The Bayard Transcript reports twenty-five cases of chicken-pox in that village, which has a population of about 250. It is quite likely that this so-called chicken-pox is the disease that it is so prevalent in central and western Nebraska.

The jurors in the Watkins alleged cattle stealing case at Sidney were unable to agree and Judge Grimes discharged them Thursday morning. The jury stood nine to three for conviction. The case will be tried again at the spring term.

In speaking of the disease in this city the Lexington Clipper-Citizen last week said: "We congratulate the city on the prompt and fearless measures taken to stamp it out, and chief among which was that, never for a moment, was any attempt made to conceal the fact. It was taken for granted that whatever it was it was undesirable and the safest and surest means was to call it small-pox and treat it according. Other cities may safely take the same course."

Supreme Court Acts on Rhea's Case.

The supreme court has rendered its decision in the noted case of the State of Nebraska vs. H. D. Rhea. This is the case in which Mr. Rhea was held to the district court by Justice Turton on charge of embezzling a sum of money from C. M. Prutsman. Mr. Rhea was released by County Judge Roberts on a writ of habeas corpus. The case was then taken to the district court by County Attorney Stewart and was there heard by Judge Grimes sitting for Judge Sullivan. Judge Grimes reversed the decision of Judge Roberts and sustained that of Justice Turton. Mr. Rhea then carried the case to the supreme court, which has just passed upon it, affirming the decision of Judge Grimes in sustaining Turton and reversing Roberts.

This places the case again as it came from Justice Turton's court, (with the exception of the bond, which Judge Grimes reduced) and Mr. Rhea will now have to stand trial in the district court, unless some measures are adopted satisfactory to the state.—Lexington Pioneer.

Cure of Cornstalk Disease.

S. L. Perkins tells the Ord Times that he has had two cases of cornstalk poisoning in his herd, and has cured both by the following simple remedy: As soon as he noticed the cattle were sick he gave each a teakettle full of warm water with a quart of salt dissolved in it, and followed it in a little while with five kettles of warm water for each, recovery being rapid. The treatment was given through a six foot piece of garden hose, the animal's head being drawn up and the hose held in the throat while an assistant poured the water into the other end of the hose. The remedy is inexpensive, and our farmer friends should at least give it a trial. The chances are that it will prove effectual if applied as soon as the animals are taken sick. Many head of cattle have been lost in Valley county this fall because the owners did not know what to do.

The Dinsmore Murder Case.

Some of the attorneys of this city believe that the recent decision of the supreme court in granting a new trial to Lester Strong, on errors of the court is a precedent, and that Dinsmore will likewise be granted a new trial. The supreme court will decide Dinsmore's fate some time this month. His brief was sent to the printer last week and, Hamer & Hamer and Norris Brown, the defendant's attorneys, have cited a long string of exceptions and errors on the decisions of the district judge. Should a new trial be granted it will be held at Lexington. Dinsmore is still at the state penitentiary and is an active worker for the Y. M. C. A.—Kearney Hub.
