Dr. Allison in a letter to Dr. Bell says that there is now no doubt but that Arthur Rnsh will recover. The Doctor says that the operation performed on Mr. Rush was one of the most difficult in his experience, and that the work consumed an hour and a half, more than double the time usually required in cases of appendicitis. Immediately following the operation Dr. Allison said that the work was very successful, but if Rush lived it would be a miracle, for the position and condition of the appendix made the case a most critical one.

Harvey Hillyer, who for over twenty years lived at the old Miller ranch southwest of town, recently died at Wellsburg, N. Y., to which place he went last fall. The paper from which we learn of his death, says his demise was due to consumption. Hillyer came from an excellent family and served with distinction in the civil war. Following the war he was a valued employe in the circus business for Dan Rice. The deceased was fifty years of age.

W. C. Elder returned Saturday morning from a week's stay in Lincoln watching the progress of the senatorial fight. He says that the legislators are attending to legislative business and are not allowing the senatorial fight to interfere with their duties. Very little excitement is resulting from the contest for senators, and the members say that they will elect two senators before adjournment. Mr. Elder is inclined to believe that some two men not now in the contest will be finally selected.
