Joyce Escapes from Sheriff.

Jack Joyce, the alleged horse thief who was arrested in this city and held until the arrival of Sheriff Goodall of South Dakota, escaped from that officer Friday afternoon at South Omaha. Goodall left here Friday morning with his prisoner unshackled, and took a seat in a chair car. The Sheriff did not regard his man as a bad character, hence did not put him in irons. Just as the train was leaving South Omaha Joyce asked the Sheriff's permission to step to the front of the car as he wanted to buy a magazine of the news agent. The officer saw his prisoner talking to the news agent, and a moment later, when he looked again, the former had disappeared.

Goodall had approached the agent and asked: "What became of the man you were just talking to?" "Why" said he "I opened the trap door of the vestibule and let him out on the platform".

Further conversation along this line brought out the fact that the agent didn't know Joyce was a prisoner, and granted his request to open the trapdoor as he would that of any other passenger. He was very sorry it had occurred.

The annual meeting of the Mutual building and loan association will be held at the court house Saturday evening, and the annual election of officers by the shareholders will be held. The live bird shoot at Cozad between Tappan and Miles Maryott resulted in the latter killing twenty-five straight, while Tappan killed but nineteen.

John Crouch sold his 400-acre farm five miles northeast of Lexington last week for eight thousand dollars, the purchaser being Mrs. Mary Middlekauff of Sioux City.

The Sidney Telegraph says that the report published in the State Journal to the effect that Carnegie had offered Sidney a gift of fifteen thousand dollars for a public library was only a pipe dream of a correspondent.

D. Newman & Co. of Gothenburg gave a bill of sale of their entire stock of merchandise last Wednesday to the People's State Bank, from which the firm had borrowed several thousand dollars. The bank will close out the stock.

Curtis has a few light cases of small-pox, and as usual the surrounding towns are greatly magnifying the number of cases. This is done to frighten people from trading at Curtis, and thereby increasing the trade of the towns circulating the reports.

Lexington is preparing for a warm political campaign. The no-license people have nominated E. A. Cook for mayor, while the people leaning to the other persuasion are marshaled under the banner of G. W. Fox. Will the Cook skin the Fox or the Fox kettle the Cook is an interesting question.

The Union Pacific steel gang, composed of seventy five men, were busy laying the new steel rails through town Thursday. The track will be newly equipped from Brady to Cozad by another week, giving the Union Pacific Railway Co. a track ballasted with gravel, equal to the Pennsylvania Central, which is ballasted with crushed stone.—Gothenburg Independent.

L. S. Deets gave his experience at the farmers' institute at Riverdale last week and told what he had done with five cows. Last year he sold 950 pounds of butter at twenty cents a pound. Besides this his family of eight strong, robust people were provided with all the butter, cream and milk that they could use. He said these five cows were fed nothing but alfalfa, excepting pasturage during the summer.—Kearney Democrat.

Fire broke out at Callaway at half past one Friday morning in Osgood's restaurant and an entire block of buildings was consumed. Moran's big store, Bocock's drug store, Hopkin's cash store, a butcher shop, a jewelry store, a vacant building and the office of H. H. Andrews, formerly the Seven Valleys bank, were burned. Kearney was aroused at half past two and the fire department held in readiness, but firemen could not have got there in time to be of service.

It is rather early to talk about the next presidential campaign, but the newspapers are at it just the same for Bryan is credited already with throwing out feelers for a third trip. Gossips say that McKinley will not be averse to standing the third term, but the gossips are wrong this time. There is serious talk to the nomination of Mark Hanna but Mark says it is "tommyrot." There is abundant opportunity for speculation.—Ex.

The German army in China persists in going out for fight every day or two, notwithstanding that "peace" is signed and the emperor is invited to come back to his capital and enjoy himself. They pitched onto an encampment of the Chinese army the other day that was apparently attending strictly to its own business, and killed a hundred men and captured four guns. And they were probably guns that the poor devils of Chinese had paid a German manufacturer a big price for not more than a year or two ago. The moral is that the Chinese army must get off the earth peace or no peace.—Journal.
