"What Did Tompkins Do?"

In a criticism that covered the better part of a column, the Portland Oregonian spoke as follows of Harry Corson Clarke, his new play, and his supporting company, December 25, 1900.

"Harry Corson Clarke pleased a good Christmas eve audience at the Harquam last night in his new comedy, 'What Did Tompkins Do?' and his many friends in Portland were glad to welcome him once more in a frame of silver hair and side whiskers, the same being the earmarks of the gay old boy in whose portrayal he excels. The play is of the rollicking farce-comedy sort, and is refreshingly free from Frenchy situations. Mr. Clarke has much to do in the part of Col. Tompkins, and he does it well. Anne Hathaway of pretty face, graceful figure and sweet voice, won the hearts of all as Daisy Plant, and wore some gowns that were dreams. Rose Swain as Widow Plant is also well provided with stunning clothes, and Rose Evans (Gwendoline Gwynne) is an actress of experience, and her easy stage presence made her the star of the feminine contingent. Max Steine makes a great deal of his part. Josiah Plant and his German con song were received with enthusiasm. Forrest Seabury did an excellent piece of character work, and the excellence of the minor parts all aided in making a finished performance." Mr. Clarke, the play and the company will be seen here at Lloyd's opera house Saturday evening, April 13th.

In the campaign last fall the republicans promised that Deitrich would make a good governor for the tax-payers. The manner in which Governor Deitrich has used the pruning knife on appropriations shows that the promise is being carried out.

The legislature passed the measure giving a commission authority to compromise the Bartley bond measure, and the two parties appear to equally share the responsibility or credit, as the individual may view it. Of the fifty-three votes in the house for it twenty-six were fusionists and twenty-seven republicans. Of the twenty-two who voted against it ten were republicans and twelve fusionists.

The president is credited with the opinion that in case the situation in the Philippines continues to improve it will not be necessary to enlist the full 100,000 men authorized by the army bill. No one of judgment really believed the stories circulated for political effect in the last campaign and during the session of congress that it was the first step in creating a great army which would be forever saddled upon the country. If it can be done safely there is no doubt the president would thus take advantage of the first opportunity to demonstrate the falsity of the charge by declining to enlist the full number.—Omaha Bee.

He Kept Hi Leg.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poisoning set in. For two years he suffered intensely. For Eruptions, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no equal on earth. Try them A. F. Streitz will guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Only 50 cents.
