

Local News in Brief.

Lutheran Supper.

The Lutheran supper announced for last evening was postponed on account of the wet weather until this evening. Remember, therefore, that this excellent supper will be served this (Friday) evening in the room formerly occupied by the Fair Store.

The Episcopal people are discussing the advisability of building an addition to the church.

Fred Wright has sold his property in the south part of town to C. P. Ross for nine hundred and fifty dollars. Mr. Wright and family will leave town.

J. W. Turner yesterday sold to Chris Brodbeck the house and lot on Front street west of the David Jones residence for a consideration of six hundred dollars.

For Sale or Trade—John Deere Riding Plow. Apply to M. Carrier.

The trustees of the Lutheran church will hold a meeting in a few days and consider the question of enlarging the parsonage. Some favor putting on an additional story.

J. A. McMichael has already completed two houses this spring, has the contract for five others and is making estimates on others. Mr. McMichael is certainly a hustler.

A letter received in the city this week from Congressman Neville states that he has about recovered his health, but that he and Mrs. Neville will not return to North Platte until the middle of next month.

The delinquent taxes on the Durkee property on the corner of Fifth and Locust street were paid to the county treasurer yesterday by W. A. Paxton. The amount was over one thousand dollars.

All parties indebted to me will please call and settle with Mrs. Meyer, who will be found at I. A. Fort's office over Hub grocery store. VICTOR E. MEYER.

Mrs. W. V. Hoagland and Mrs. York Hinman were to have entertained the young married folks club this evening at the home of Mrs. Hinman, but the affair has been postponed until next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Stamp received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of her aunt, Mrs. Frick, at Waynesboro, Pa. The deceased was the wife of the president of the Frick Co., one of the largest manufacturers of steam engines and threshing machines in this country.

Dr. Woodbury, of Council Bluffs who married Miss Bessie Conklin, has purchased the Hingston property on west Fourth street. This purchase has given rise to the report that Dr. Woodbury will locate here, but of the truth of this report we cannot say.

Sweet Pea Seeds in bulk at McGlone's, Foley block.

George McEvoy returned yesterday from Omaha, Doctors Jonas and Allison made an examination and found him suffering from light case of appendicitis, but they think he will probably be able to overcome it. Should it grow worse they advise that he submit to an operation.

Arthur Rush, who was operated upon for appendicitis several weeks ago, arrived home last evening. He is feeling first rate, but of course is yet a little weak, and it will be some time before he gains his usual strength. Mr. Rush's condition at the time of the operation was such that the case was one of the worst that had come before the physicians, and that he will fully recover is a source of much gratification to himself and friends. Mr. Rush is a popular young man and his return is gladly welcomed.

North Platte is pretty well represented on the program of the Western Nebraska Educational Association to be held on April 25, 26 and 27 at Sidney. On the second day Miss Thoelecke will read a paper on "Is Reading a Lost Art?" and Rev. Beecher will deliver an address on "Paganism in the Public Schools." On the last day J. C. Orr will discuss the elective course in the high school; Miss Adda Kocken will read a paper on "Primary Reading," Miss Jessie Robb will discuss practical arithmetic, little Abbie Patterson will give a recitation, and Miss Minnie Sorenson will render an instrumental solo.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Col. Scharmann will return tonight from Lincoln.

H. V. Hilliker spent Wednesday in town attending the sessions of the Kearney Presbytery.

Mrs. Ed. Weeks, who had been visiting her parents for a week, returned to Omaha yesterday.

Fred Fredrickson has gone to the east part of the state to look after some real estate he owns.

Mrs. David Hunter, who had been spending several days in town, returned home last evening.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Irwin, now stationed at Wood River, have been in town for several days visiting friends.

County Clerk Holtry spent yesterday on his ranch near Sutherland looking after the needs of his bunch of cattle.

Mrs. Forbes of York and Mrs. Warman of Julesburg, mother and sister respectively of Mrs. E. R. Plumer, have been visiting the latter this week.

I. W. Turner, a former North Platte resident but now engaged in the hardware business at Beaver City, spent Wednesday in town looking after his property interests.

The Kearney Presbytery, which was in session in this city Tuesday evening, Wednesday and yesterday was not attended by quite as many delegates as usually attend. The greater part of the time was devoted to routine work. On Wednesday evening H. T. Armstrong was ordained a minister, and will go to Persia to enter the missionary work. Following this ordination Rey. Thos. Marshall, field secretary of the foreign missions, delivered an address along the line of the results of foreign missions—whether foreign missions pay. Dr. Marshall has traveled in nearly all foreign lands, and spoke from personal observations and experiences. He showed that by sending Missionary Whitman to Oregon the section embraced in that state and Washington was saved to this country, and through it we virtually secured Alaska by purchase. The missionaries entered the Sandwich Islands when the inhabitants were semi-cannibals and they opened the way for civilization, and the final annexation by this government of those islands. Japan owed much of its enlightenment and commercial advancement to the advent of missionaries; and through all the history of missionary work is seen the excellent effect of the efforts in that direction—not only in the advancement of civilizing influences, but in the saving of precious souls. The missionary work is certainly worth its cost. This address throughout was most interesting, and it is regretted that the wet and stormy weather prevented a larger attendance.

HARRINGTON & TOBIN

Chas. H. Boyle and his company will be the attraction at the opera house next Monday evening, in "The Star Boarder." This farce comedy has been constructed entirely for laughing purposes and for the introduction of many vaudeville features. Judging from the press notices the piece has received enroute to the coast, "The Star Boarder" evidently pleased the people and fulfills its intended purpose. The company selected to support Boyle is largely composed of well known people, whose specialties, individual and collective, form the chief portion of the entertainment. The action of the piece is decidedly swift and everything goes with snap and vim that is so necessary to the success of a farce comedy. Chas. Boyle is a comedian who is already well and favorably known to theatre goers as a farce feature. He is also the author of the piece in which he is starring. Miss Sue Belle Mead is one of the leading members of the company and a songstress of considerable repute. Viola Bennett is another valuable member of the aggregation. It was she who composed and arranged all the musical numbers, songs and medleys in "The Star Boarder."

Harry Corson Clarke.

Harry Corson Clarke, the comedian, who will be seen here Saturday evening, April 13th, in "What Did Tompkins Do?" is not only one of the most gifted comedians in the world but a physiological wonder, who has baffled the skill of the most learned physicians of the United States and Europe. It is now more than one year since this remarkable comedian has tasted solid food or taken into his stomach a swallow of water. After having spent hundreds of dollars with physicians and enduring months of agony, about 18 months ago Mr. Clarke created a sensation by inserting in one of the most prominent New York newspapers an advertisement offering to pay a reward of $10,000 to anyone who would suggest a remedy to cure him of dyspepsia. He was immediately deluged with replies, and he tried many of them, meanwhile suffering more and wasting away to a shadow. Finally a council of the leading physicians of the East was held, and after a thorough discussion of his case he was pronounced incurable. But Mr. Clarke is of a sunny disposition, and was not to be put down by a fatal verdict, even from such distinguished authority. He too, had been thinking and taking observations and had formulated a treatment. He began on it warily, grew more confident as time went on, and he felt improvement under it, and finally embraced it boldly and made no secret of his progress under it, and to-day he is without a physical ailment and shows a gain of over forty pounds in weight.
