

The North Platte Semi-Weekly Tribune.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

NORTH PLATTE, NEBRASKA APRIL 16, 1901.

NO. 24.

SUTHERLAND SAYINGS.

Everett Mower has been in town the most of the week fixing up a camping outfit for Taylor's sheep ranch near Elsie.

The league social held at the residence of James Buchanan was slimly attended on account of the bad weather, but the few that ventured out report a better time than usual, which disproves the old adage "The more the merrier."

F. A. Carpenter has secured a ten days lay-off and will visit relatives at St. Paul, Neb.

Howard Miles of Paxton, spent part of the week in Sutherland.

A. F. Beeler of Hershey, hauled hogs to this point on Friday.

Thos. Titterington lost about a dozen head of cattle in Shoup's corn stalks the past week.

Joshua Cox received a fine lot of Carolina poplars from Arlington, Neb., on Saturday.

Milton Raney is again chief push at Richards livery barn, his brother Dee having gone out to the ranch.

J. A. Robb expected to ship out a car of cattle and one of hogs on Monday.

J. E. Linn of Paxton was in town Saturday.

Frank Vogau who left this county a couple of years ago is once more a citizen of Sutherland.

Chris Paulsen of North Platte has been looking after his cattle interests in this vicinity the past few days.

Mrs. Kate Pierson and family have moved into their house in the west part of town.

Lon Owens is spending a few days with his family.

County Clerk Holtry was in town Thursday.

Wilson and Gilbert from west of Paxton delivered hogs in town Saturday.

Eben Dotson severed his connection with the ditch company last week.

Messrs. Donelson and Richards, who have been sheep herding at Keith's ranch on the Birdwood, graduated and returned to town the last of the week.

J. A. Robb is building a small addition to his dwelling.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

W. H. Hill, J. M. Dwyer and Everett Ware took in the live bird shoot at North Platte Monday.

Tom Ireland of Moorefield was was up in this locality the fore part of the week looking after parties who had horses and mules for sale.

J. M. Dwyer of Hershey, has pure Yellow Dent seed corn for sale.

Geo. Hackney, who has spent the past year in different parts of the wild and woolly west, is visiting old time friends at Hershey.

Wm. H. Sullivan and J. V. Robinson were both at North Platte Saturday after ground feed for their stock.

Miss Annie Schwaiger, one of the Hershey teachers, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends at the county metropolis.

We understand that Dick Shinkle will cultivate about forty acres of corn on old canal company's land just west of the Staple's farm this season.

Mrs. J. K. Eshleman and daughter Bessie were shopping at the county seat the latter part of last week.

County Clerk Holtry of North Platte, was shaking hands with his many friends up this way one day last week.

W. L. Brownfield on the Max Beer ranch transacted business at the county capital Saturday.

Owing to the carelessness of those who have charge of the F. & M. canal it washed out the bank in two places recently, one break being just west of Nichols and the other just east, and flooding the country in that vicinity to the depth of several inches. A stitch in time saves nine, but they don't seem to work on that theory.

Will Dowhower, who has been in the county seat recuperating for a week or more, has returned to work on the Paxton ranch.

We are told that J. M. Dwyer recently sold his team of bay drivers to Lee Newport of the county capital for a good price.

The hills and valleys begin to look fresh and green once again which will be highly appreciated by large herds of cattle and horses.

Fred Cole and a couple of other parties are at this time cleaning the rubbish out of the F. & M. canal.

G. M. Smith, who has charge of a ballasting crew near Sidney spent Sunday with his family at Hershey.
