When You Buy Paint Buy Good Paint...

And that means SHERWIN & WILLIAMS' PAINT. We have been handling this make for many years and have found that it gives excellent satisfaction in every instance. It may cost a trifle more per gallon than inferior paints, but it's cheapest in the end. It sticks and holds its color longer than other paint.

We can furnish you any color or quantity.

Death of George McEvoy.

George, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McEvoy died in an Omaha hospital at ten o'clock last Friday night from the effects of appendicitis. George was first attacked with this trouble just before last Christmas, and later had three other attacks. When he had sufficiently recovered from the last, he was taken to an Omaha hospital and on May 22d was operated upon. He passed through the operation and for a week thereafter was pronounced to be doing well. Last Wednesday, however, he began failing and Friday night with his father, mother and a brother surrounding his bedside, he passed to the beyond.

The remains were brought home Saturday night and the funeral held at the Catholic church yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large audience of sympathizing friends.

George McEvoy was born Jan. 26th, 1878, at the barracks at old Ft. McPherson southeast of this city. The following year the family moved here and have since continually resided. George attended school until about sixteen years of age when he entered a blacksmith shop to learn the trade and at which he had since worked. He was a young man of excellent habits; honest, sober and industrious, and as the oldest of a large family of children felt that much depended upon him as an exemplar for the younger. His sturdiness, kindness and disposition to aid his parents as a dutiful son should, placed him in a position where his death is all the more keenly and sorrowfully felt by the family, all of whom placed great dependence upon him. George was the first to be called of a family of twelve children.

The deceased was a member of the American Order of Protection and also of the fire department. These as well as the members of the graduating class and individual friends sent handsome floral pieces. To the family is extended the sympathy of our people.

In speaking of the failure of the People's State Bank at Gothenburg, the Independent says: "So far no demonstrations have been made and the depositors all seem to think that Mr. Lloyd will put up a bond to guarantee the payment of the depositors, and open up the bank and collect the assets. Others think this will not be done and that a receiver will be appointed to close up the bank's business."

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

Mrs. N. B. Spurrier and little son Freddie spent Memorial Day at Fort McPherson, going down on No. 102 and returning on No. 101 the same day.

The club dances at the Nichols school house are meeting with no small amount of opposition.

L. E. Jones and W. R. Brooks of Nichols were Sutherland visitors on business last Saturday.

Small grain of all kinds never looked more promising in this vicinity than at the present.

Chinch bugs are said to be damaging small grain in the hills to some extent at this time.

A few from this vicinity took in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at North Platte last Saturday night.

C. C. Wetzel informs us that he did not sublet the Guthrie land north of the railroad at Hershey as was reported.

While the grasshoppers in this part of the county are quite numerous there are not one-tenth as many as there were last season at this time and no damage to speak of has been done by them up to date.

Parties who patronize creameries and do not depend entirely upon raising grain for a livelihood are those who do not suffer materially from the grasshoppers, because there has never been a time but that those who had cattle for that purpose could, if they felt so disposed, secure feed for them both winter and summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brown of the county metropolis visited at Nichols the fore part of this week.

Everett Ware the Hershey merchant was a county seat visitor on Sunday, this week.

At the Nichols creamery the test at this time is about four pounds of butter fat to one hundred pounds of milk, which is a good test for this season of the year, and goes to show plainly that the patrons are taking good care of their milk and are also endeavoring to get all they can out of it by so doing.

G. E. Turner, who has taught in the O'Fallon school for the past two years, has returned to his former home in Iowa, where he has accepted a position in a bank.

C. C. Wetzel, an old railroad man at Hershey, has lately been given a position as section foreman by the U. P. and is now located at Hanna, Wyoming.

The recent warm weather has given corn a big start and a healthy color.

Alfalfa hay stacks are becoming quite numerous in this locality.

Chas. Toillion has about ten acres of the finest rye ever grown in the valley up to date.

A few farmers are putting up their first crop of alfalfa for seed, thinking perhaps that the "hoppers" may damage the second and third crop to such an extent that it will not do for seed.

Mrs. Kate Sullivan of Nichols received a letter recently from Boulder, Colorado, stating that her sister Miss Linda Layton who is there for her health is, not any better.

Leonard Laubner has lately lost five head of hogs from some unknown cause.

J. K. Eshleman assessor for Nichols precinct has returned his books to the county clerk, who found them in first class order.

Friend Carpenter who has in about twenty-five acres of sugar beets on old canal company land near Hershey informs the writer that they are looking fine and that he is thinning them out at the present time and getting them in shape to cultivate.

J. M. Dwyer did not dispose of his household effects as was stated but has sold his farming utensils and cattle. The latter fifty-three in number, he sold to James Ware on the Pawnee ranch. He also sold his grey saddle horse to Mr. Ware. He delivered them all at North Platte last Saturday. Mr. Dwyer accompanied by his brother-in-law Isaac Thoms of Oregon, who had been visiting him for a short time, left the first of the week for Colo-

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Chappell is making arrangements for a big Fourth of July celebration.

One night last week coyotes killed and carried away a litter of seven pigs belonging to Joseph Burke living north of Lexington.

Postmaster Cerrick of Cozad has been notified that he will be re-appointed, at least he has a letter from Senator Millard to that effect.

The people of Ogalalla are raising a justifiable howl because train No. 4 will not stop at that place unless it is necessary to fill the engine tank with water.

Twenty-eight young men and women graduated from the Lexington high school last week. For a town the size of Lexington the class was certainly large.

Eighty-five thousand acres of land in Keith, Deul and McPherson counties is owned by the Ogtalla Cattle company. The company recently sold sixteen quarter sections of hay land.

Wiley Davis age six, residing with his parents southwest of Sidney, was accidentally shot and killed by his thirteen year old brother last Thursday. The two boys were alone in the house, and were playing with a 32-calibre revolver, when it exploded, the ball entering the center of the younger boy's forehead.

Link Millburn, a prominent farmer of Dawson county, declares that one quail will devour thousands of chinch bugs in a day, and that many other birds will do the same, and for that reason believes that all insectivorous birds should be protected, and that farmers should see to it that they are protected. Beyond a doubt the birds are among the farmer's best friends.

A son of John Highstoe of Ashland lost two fingers in a peculiar and painful way Wednesday evening. He was tying a horse in a barn and had a loop in the rope poked through a hole in the manger when the horse lunged backwards, catching the boy's two fingers in the loop and pulling them clear off the hand.

A disciple of Dowie, the fake, blew into Auburn and found a cripple there by the name of Perry Stafford. The disciple made Stafford believe one reason he was a cripple was because of the unbelief of his wife. He shipped her, though they had been living happily together. He then went to Chicago to be treated by Dowie and being too poor to contribute to the Dowie "Zion" he was soon pronounced incurable and returned to Auburn. He is now estranged from his wife, poor and homeless and has gone to the poor house
