A Pretty Wedding.

Lawrence Hayatt Daingerfield and Miss May Francis McNamara were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on east Third street Wednesday evening, Rev. C. P. Wimberly of the First Methodist church officiating in the presence of members of the family, relatives and a few intimate friends.

The rooms of the residence were profusely decorated with cut flowers and foliage plants. At 8:25 Miss Hannah Keliber began playing the wedding march and a few minutes later the bridal couple, attended by Miss Blanche and Chas. McNamara, entered the parlors and took a position in the archway 'neath a floral emblem. The bride wore a handsome gown of white organdie trimmed with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was costumed in white with pink roses and carnations, and the groom and best man were attired in the conventional black. The ring service was used, and the ceremony was very pretty.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The table was profusely decorated with cut flowers, the piece de resistance being a fruit pyramid trimmed with roses. At each cover was laid a piece of bride's cake tied with baby ribbon. This wedding menu was very elaborate. Mr. and Mrs. Daingerfield were the recipients of many handsome presents, the gift of the groom to the bride being a very pretty ring set with opal, the bride's favorite stone. The couple left on the midnight train on a trip to the groom's parents at Albany, Mo., stopping enroute at Omaha, St. Joe and other points. A large crowd of friends assembled at the depot to bid them good-bye, but in this they were partially disappointed, for the couple entered the rear Pullman from the Locust street entrance to the depot.

The bride is so well known to our people that but few words of introduction is necessary, suffice to say that she has been one of North Platte's most highly esteemed and popular young ladies. She is refined, educated, pleasant and always agreeable and the groom is to be congratulated upon having secured for his life companion a lady possessing so many excellent qualities.

Mr. Daingerfield is an exemplary young man who holds a position in the U. S. weather bureau at Cheyenne, and for a time was stationed at the bureau in this city as assistant to Observer Percy. He is possessed of a strong character, excellent morals and is every inch a manly man. Acquaintances have nothing but good and kind words to say of him, and he deserves the high esteem which he holds.

The TRIBUNE unites with a large circle of friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Daingerfield a long and prosperous married life.

A. M. Darling bought a stock of goods at Minneapolis and shipped it to Osceola. They were left in storage until he could find a location and when he came to open the boxes he found that nearly all were empty. He estimates his loss by this legerdemain to be something like $5,300.

It is encouraging to everyone to watch the progress of all kinds of crops and stock in this neighborhood.

J. H. Hershey of North Platte has been devoting much of his time during the past two weeks to looking after business on his ranch in the valley.

Quite a tonnage of alfalfa that had been cut prior to the late rains and left on the fields has been more or less damaged.

Section foreman Erickson, who was injured at Nichols last October, and was incapacitated for work for about eight months, carried a policy in the Woodman Accident Co. of Lincoln, Neb., and lately received $352.84, the full amount due him. Mr. Erickson highly recommends this company to any wishing to take out an accident policy.

The creameries operating at West Point, Albion, Norfolk, Columbus, Tilden, Atkinson, Waterloo, Newport, Bazile Mills and other north Nebraska points, will consolidate and do their churning all at Omaha, where it is expected the combination will manufacture three million pounds of butter a year.

General Thayer has just presented to the State Historical society two swords of historic value. One was presented to him by the officers of the old First Nebraska, of which he was colonel and which distinguished itself at Donelson, Shiloh and other bloody struggles. The other sword was given him by the Omaha Light Artillery.

The farmers in the vicinity of Tekamah have formed a company with a capital stock of $30,000 which is to handle the live stock and grain of the members and also buy lumber and other material for those who belong to the company, furnishing it at wholesale prices.

A train crew on the Omaha road had a fight with two tramps who refused to get off the train when ordered. In the fight the tramps were pretty badly used up and then locked up in a box car until the train reached Dakota City, where they were turned over to the officers.
