

Local News in Brief.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated at the Lutheran church next Sunday. Preparatory services will be held this Friday evening.

A fine horse and rubber tired carriage arrived Tuesday from Armstrong, Kas, being the property of the new division foreman J. H. Stubbs.

The tent revival meetings still draw a fair sized crowd and are quite interesting. The talks made by Mr. Atwood are short and to the point.

W. T. Wilcox and family will leave about August first for a trip to the Buffalo exposition, going by boat from Chicago. Enroute home they will visit relatives in Ohio.

Upon complaint of Maggie Fay Albert Petzke was taken before Judge Baldwin on Tuesday for being drunk and disorderly and was fined $5.00 and costs.

H. Newberry was in the city on Thursday enroute to his home in McPherson county from his farm in the valley where he had been harvesting a very good crop of small grain.

Miss Mamie Edmonds is prepared to do typewriting for those who desire such either at her home or at law or other offices. She uses her own machine. Those desiring her services can leave word at the U. S. land office or may call at her home.

A little daughter of F. L. Rork stepped on a rake the first of the week, one of the teeth penetrating entirely through the foot making a very painful wound. The injured foot is getting along as well as could be expected but it will be some time before it is healed.

The D. of H. social given in the building formerly occupied by The Fair Store Wednesday evening was well attended and as a result of their efforts the ladies cleared $35. The attendance was much larger than expected and although a large amount of ice cream had been prepared the supply was exhausted early in the evening.

The lawn social given by the ladies of the Lutheran church on Tuesday evening was exceedingly well patronized. The crowd was so unexceptionally large the cream and cake were consumed early in the evening and many could not be served at all. Mrs. C. F. Scharmann delighted the company with an enjoyable solo while the mandolin club rendered choice music throughout the evening.

Ruskin once said, "The great question is not so much what money you have in your pocket, as what you will buy with it." If the esteemed authority had written that after Doolittle went into business we would certainly have thought that he had in mind that beautiful line of stringed instruments, at the most reasonable prices, at Doolittle's Music Store.

The initial concert for this season given by the Gordon Silver Cornet Band at the court house park Wednesday evening was enjoyed by a large crowd. The boys rendered an excellent program of up-to-date music and show that they have devoted much time to practice. Citizens as well as business men should contribute liberally to purchase music for the band as the concerts are one of the most enjoyable features the town possesses and the boys deserve all encouragement. They are willing to practice and furnish concerts free of charge and no one should begrudge spending a small sum to furnish the necessary music.

A deal was completed yesterday whereby Messrs. Ginn & Weingand disposed of their furniture store to A. C. Howell of Platte Centre, Neb., who will take possession August first.

Messrs. Ginn & Weingand have been engaged in business for over a year and by constant effort have built up a first-class trade, only disposing of the stock because they received an excellent offer from Mr. Howell; who was in the city for several days recently. The two gentlemen have not as yet decided in what business they will engage but as they are both hustlers and excellent business men we predict that whatever they undertake will be a success.

Mr. Howell is said to be a first class business man and we predict that he will make as good success in his business venture as did the two former proprietors, who conducted the business in an excellent manner.

Good Minstrels Here.
The introductory performances of the Beach & Bowers' minstrels at the Grand yesterday afternoon and night was a pleasant surprise. Although the press had been rather favorable to them, there was some disposition here to take them on probation; and the audience at the matinee was, though fairly large, by no means equal to the crowded house of the evening. The matinee show had established the Beach & Bowers' minstrels in favor in Butte, and the evening attendance was the harvest of the good sowing in the afternoon. Throughout the entertainment is smooth. It is good everywhere, yet there are features that are exceptionally fine.—Leadville Chronicle.
