Superintendent Baxter Denies Reports.

Today's Omaha Bee says: Superintendent Baxter denies that there is any foundation for the report in the Kearney papers that a change is to be made on the Nebraska division of the Union Pacific, whereby Grand Island and North Platte will be cut out as division points and a new division established at Kearney. The superintendent says that such a change has not even been contemplated by the Union Pacific officials and characterizes the reports as nothing more than hot air. "If such a change were to be made," adds Mr. Baxter, "I would certainly know of it."

Fred Waltemath Married.

Fred Waltemath was united in marriage Wednesday evening last to Miss Sophie Siemiller, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John F. Siebert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waltemath in the presence of the members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Waltemath are now located in the house owned by the groom in the south part of town, and which had been furnished prior to the ceremony. To them we extend our best wishes.

Heavy Washout at Paxton.

The vicinity of Paxton was visited by a very violent rain storm about nine o'clock last evening and the water from the hills swept down with such force as to wash away about three miles of Union Pacific roadbed and track. Word was at once sent here, and all the section gangs west of here were hurried to the washout. A large force was also sent up from here early this morning.

East bound train No. 4 due here at 11:45 last night was tied up at Ogalalla and westbound trains No. 3 and No. 5 at this station. The wrecking outfit cars well supplied with provisions for the workmen was sent up at eight o'clock this morning.

Railroad Notes.

The carload of mail which was held for fumigation was sent east Tuesday.

Division Foreman Stubbs is looking after Union Pacific business in Kearney today.

The tie-up of trains No. 3 and No. 5 here today gave a couple of hundred passengers an opportunity to see a first class western town.

Chester Fawcett, a former employe of the local U. P. shops but of late working at Grand Island, has been in town for a day or two visiting friends.

The steam pile driver, with Jim Dowd as engineer, has been here for a few days driving piles for the new eighty ton scales which are being put in the railroad yards.

Plans and specifications are now being prepared at the Union Pacific headquarters for 1,000 steel and 1,500 other freight cars. These cars will be delivered the early part of next year.

Wm. Connor, formerly road master on the western district of the Nebraska division, has been appointed to a similar position on the Womig division, his territory extending from Rawlins to Green River.

As a rule freight trains have been covering the distance between here and Cheyenne in from fourteen to sixteen hours, and several engineers say that if they continue to get over the road in that time they can stand the 225 mile run fairly well. It is expected, of course, that at times trains will be delayed and longer time will be required to make the trip.

We trust that the statement of Supt. Baxter, which we publish elsewhere, will tend to quiet those nervous people who had alarm tremors over the reports that North Platte would be discontinued as a division terminal. We have contended all along that no such move has been contemplated by the Union Pacific, and that contention was based upon authority that could not be questioned. The statement made public by Supt. Baxter is in keeping with statements made privately by officials who are higher up than Mr. Baxter. If the nervous people of North Platte will devote as much energy in building up the city as they do to circulating pessimistic reports, we would in a few years rank as the sixth city in the state.

The Presbyterian Church.

There will be services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath at 10:30 a. m. and at 8:00 p. m. Preaching by the Rev. J. A. Gerhard. The subject in the morning is: "Is Life Worth Living?" The subject for the evening is: "The Moral Uses of Books and Reading." You are cordially invited to attend.

Judge Ray transacted legal business in Maxwell Wednesday.

Arthur McNamara began house-keeping today in the Keith house on west Fifth street.

Frank Fonda leaves tomorrow night for Lafayette, Ind., where he will attend a commercial college.

The present local price of Pennsylvania hard coal is $11.90 per ton, which is probably a dollar less than it will be sixty or ninety days later.

T. C. Patterson writes that the bath treatment at Hot Springs, Ark., is apparently doing him much good. Mr. Patterson will be home about the 16th.

Efforts are being made to have a teacher of vocal music locate in town. Such an instructor has long been needed and his services would no doubt be greatly in demand.

John Neary says that farmers should sow a large acreage of fall wheat. The fall season will be propitious for its growth, thus going far to insure a good crop next season.

A belated citizen was followed several blocks last night by two suspicious looking characters and the citizen was momentarily in fear of being held up. He breathed more freely when he reached the inside of his premises.

The potato crop in Lincoln county is very short and the bulk of those used in the city will be shipped in. One potato grower at Lexington has 15,000 bushels the receipts from the sale of which will give a cool twenty thousand dollars.

M. C. Harrington returned last night from Kansas City where he went to investigate the hay market. Mr. Harrington says the drought has rendered the country between St. Joe and Kansas City the most desolate looking he has ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McFarland returned last night from Cedar Rapids, Neb., where they attended the marriage of Miss Mabel Barston who was married to W. J. Fenlon of Colorado. Miss Barston visited in town on several occasions and was well known by many of our people.
