John Combs Injured.

A letter received this morning from W. M. Baskin states that John Combs was seriously injured last Saturday, the extent of which was not fully known when the letter was written.

Combs had roped a steer while riding a horse at a rapid pace when the horse becoming entangled in the rope fell throwing Combs to the ground with great force. He was rendered unconscious by the fall and at the time the letter was written had not regained consciousness. Dr. Eves was summoned immediately after the accident, and upon his arrival found no bones broken, but that the unfortunate man had suffered a concussion of the brain and was apparently paralyzed. Under these conditions Mr. Combs is certainly in a critical condition.

An Omaha paper states that an advance of fifteen cents in anthracite coal will be made this week, another advance will be made in November and a still further advance about January 1st. These three advances will result in a raise of about one dollar over the present price making the local price about thirteen dollars per ton.

Chicago forecast for North Platte and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday, slight changes in temperature. The maximum temperature yesterday was 65, one year ago 62. The minimum temperature this morning was 45, one year ago 26 and was the coldest day of the month.

We Are Ready For The Verdict.

The speeches of the lawyers are not so important as the verdict of the jury.

Advertisements are the evidence. Our ads are to induce you to examine the evidence.

The special evidence we would call your attention to is our line of Dress Goods, Underwear and Blankets.

All dry goods stores carry these lines but prices and quality are not alike in all stores.

We submit our growing list of satisfied customers as the strongest evidence that can be produced except the quality you always get here for the money you pay. Did you ever realize that you were paying some one else's debts as surely as though the bill was presented to you, when you buy goods of stores that do a credit business. It may be the amount of differences is only a few cents but it counts into dollars because it happens often. Don't be blind, examine the evidence, let your judgment be the jury.

We are ready for the verdict.

Store open evening until eight o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

We predicted that Rev. Geo. A. Beecher would say something to men that would help them and he did. We believe that every man hearing him Sunday went out resolved to live cleaner lives. Such meetings and talks as we have from Sunday to Sunday in the Y. M. C. A. help to make North Platte a better place to live in.

You can buy tickets for five splendid entertainments for $1.50. See the committee. First number on the 24th of this month, dramatic reciter, Louise Manning.

Every man that attended the Bible class last Friday evening was delighted with the study. The lesson for that evening was The Book, how we got it. Next Friday evening the third lesson will be Our God, The Father. All men are cordially invited to come up Friday evening at eight o'clock.

Did your membership ticket expire October 1st? If so hasten down and see the secretary.

Death of Edmund Peale.

From the Laramie Republican, Sept. 30th.

Edmund Peale, who came to Laramie in 1877 from North Platte, Neb., when he was engaged as head painter in the shops of the Union Pacific until they were closed down a few months ago died at his home, 703 Seventh street, at 1:40 this afternoon, of inflammation of the stomach, producing heart failure. He died surrounded by the members of the family, and although unconscious most of the day, regained partial consciousness a little while before the end came and nodded his approval of a prayer offered by Dean Cope, who was at his bedside.

Mr. Peale was taken with cramps about noon Saturday, while canvassing for a book called "The Life of President McKinley," and was barely able to get home. A physician was summoned, but his services could not avail, and death came to day. He sank to rest with practically no struggle.

Edmund Peale was born in Philadelphia, Pa., December 11, 1842, and learned the trade of a carriage and piano painter. At the outbreak of the war between the states he and his father and only brother enlisted, Edmund joining Company A. Seventy-first Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, and was mustered out with his comrades in 1864. He was wounded in the leg by a gunshot at Gettysburg and was in an accident at Chicomauga.

On June 12, 1870, he was married to Miss Olivia H. Reed in Grace church, Philadelphia, and she survives him. To them were born ten children, eight of whom are living, Edmund R., Charles, Clifford, Misses Jennie and Grace, Mrs. James Mathison, Mrs. George McAllister and Mrs. Oliver Walters of Denver. His brother Franklin resides at North Platte, Nebraska.

Mr. Peale came west in December, 1870, and located at North Platte. In 1877 he came with his family to Laramie and for the past twenty-four years has been a resident of this city, a good citizen, a kind and loving husband and father and an honor to the community.

His long service with the Union Pacific is remarkable, and shows in its way his sterling integrity and thorough honesty. He was a man whom it was a pleasure to know and one whose loyalty had come down as a heritage from the war of the Revolution. It is said that Mr. Peale had an ancestor in every war waged by this country, and their loyalty to the country was proverbial.

A great uncle, Jacob Creamer, served under General Washington in the war of the Revolution, and he was a great-grandson of Charles Wilson Peale, the noted Philadelphia artist, who was a painter of some of the most noted Washington portraits.

Deceased was a member of Custer post, Department of Colorado and Wyoming, Grand Army of the Republic. He also belonged to Albany lodge No. 7, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Damon lodge No. 3, Knights of Pythias and was a consistent christian member of St. Matthew's cathedral.

C. M. Newton orders THE TRIBUNE sent to his address in Kansas City, from which we infer he will be located there for a time.
