DON'T TAKE CHANCES.

In order to guard against the spread of contagious diseases all dwellings should be thoroughly disinfected after every case. If moving into an old house, you know not what disease germs may be lurking in the place. Protect yourself and family by having the place disinfected. Formaldehyde is recognized by the scientific world as the most powerful disinfectant known and when used judiciously will destroy all known bacteria without injuring furnishings in the room. Experience is required to do the work properly. Half way measures will not avail.

W. D. Hoover, at Howe's Furniture Store, is provided with a Formaldehyde Generator of the latest and best pattern, and is prepared to do disinfecting by the most approved up-to-date method.

BLACKLEG IN CATTLE

Is prevented by vaccination before the germ of the disease has entered the system. The success of vaccination depends upon proper dosage. Too large a dose will produce the disease while too small a dose will not render the animal immune. This problem is solved by Parke, Davis & Co. in their new vaccine in pill form which is injected through the skin. No mixing, filtering or time wasted and you don't have to spend a fortune to vaccinate your cattle. P. D. Co. book, "Blackleg and its Treatment," free.

Hine-Brunk Wedding.

On Wednesday evening Feb'y. 12th at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride occurred the wedding of Miss Edna, youngest daughter of R. R. Hine, to Joseph F. Brunk of Myrtle. At the appointed time the wedding march was being played on the piano when the bride appeared on the arm of the groom, followed by Miss Gertie Hine as bridesmaid and Carson Robinson as best man. They took their places in the parlor and in the presence of twenty-four invited guests the contracting parties were united in marriage by Rev. Greenlee of this city. After congratulations were over, all present entered the dining room where a sumptuous supper was served in courses. The bride was dressed in white Persian lawn and wore roses in her hair. The groom wore regulation black. The bridesmaid was attired in light blue silk mull, the best man in black. Many useful presents were left for the young couple in the shape of linens, china and silverware. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. Brunk, father and mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Smith of Cheyenne, Wyo. After supper an hour or so was spent in games and social amusements after which all returned to their respective homes wishing the bride and groom many happy congratulations.

Boilermaker's Ball.

The local union of Boilermakers will hold its fourth annual ball on the evening of March 31st, the evening following Easter Sunday. The boys expect to make the ball quite a swell event.

Decide Land Contest.

The U. S. Land Commissioner has rendered a decision favorable to Anna Brown in the land contest instituted against her claim in Cottonwood precinct by Martin Jepsen. This land is well improved, commands the outlet to a large body of grazing land and is therefore quite valuable. The contest was warmly fought before the local U. S. land office, and a decision rendered in favor of Anna Brown, and this decision is sustained by the commissioner. H. S. Ridgely was the attorney for the defendant and he feels well pleased with the result.

A program of tableaux and patriotic songs will be rendered. The public is cordially invited.

The committee of arrangements consists of Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Shaner, Mr. and Mrs. Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wafer, Mrs. Warnock, Mrs. Dow, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Reynolds, and the personnel of this committee insures a very successful event.

Evangelist Services.

Evangelist J. E. Daly and wife of Omaha began a series of evangelistic meetings in the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, which it is expected will be continued at least two weeks. Mr. Daly is a noted evangelist in the Baptist denomination, and has preached in England, Scotland, Australia, Canada and other countries. Mrs. Daly is also a successful evangelist and preaches and sings the gospel. Meetings will be held every evening except Saturday at 7:30 and the public are invited to attend.

The White Slave.

"The White Slave," Bartley Campbell's masterpiece, will be rendered at the opera house Saturday evening, Feb. 15th, by a company of unusual merit. The play is one which touches the heart, appealing by turns to the sense of fun and pathos, which are acutely developed.

The plot of the play, it will be remembered, turns on the pitiful tale of a southern girl who is made a slave on the supposition that she is an octoroon. Her trials, the insults and degradations inflicted upon her, the flight with her lover from a cruel master who is the villain of the play, and the happy denouement when her identity is revealed, have won the sympathy of millions for years, and the plantation scenes, with the wide fields dotted with the cabins of the field hands, the plantation songs, etc., present a past and gone phase of life in this country to which will always cling a touch of sentiment and a shade of romance.
