(Contributed.)
The tenth annual session of the Western Nebraska Educational Association held at Ogalalla Friday and Saturday was largely attended by teachers from the several counties embraced in the district, and the meeting was one of much profit to the attendants.

A reception was tendered to the teachers Thursday evening, at which Miss Burke of this city rendered a piano solo and Abbie Patterson gave a recitation and so well pleased the audience that another selection was demanded. The address of welcome was delivered by J. H. Wheelton and the response by W. A. Getty of this city. A light lunch was served by Ogalalla ladies.

The session opened Friday morning with a large attendance. Following an instrumental duet, Principal Cone of Paxton, spoke of the normal training at the Peru school and admitted that much of the training received there was not practical. J. C. Orr spoke on school government and strongly recommended athletic exercises on the playground. Prof. Clemen's opposed popular athletics on the ground that they led to gambling. The discussions on this subject was somewhat extended and at times heated. Among those taking part were State Supt. Fowler and Supt. Cary of Sidney. Principal Shuman of Brady read a paper on "Discipline," in which he said imperialism has no place in the schools, and that corporal punishment should be the exception instead of the rule. In the discussion which followed, Miss Babbitt of this city led, in which she inclined to strict discipline and reasoning processes. The subject of discipline was further considered Friday afternoon. At the afternoon session Miss Chase read a paper on "English Requirements for the High School" in which she assumed that there were defects in the present method of teaching English. The discussion on this subject was led by E. Lance Jones. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to papers and remarks on "Teaching Arithmetic," and remarks on reading, speaking and arithmetic by Supt. Fowler. The evening session was devoted to a lecture on "Day Dreams" by Rev. Wickersham. This session opened with a recitation by Abbie Patterson.

Saturday Mr. Carey read a paper on the "Object of the Public School," and this was followed by discussions in which Prof. Hart, Mrs. Mark Leonard, Mrs. Hastings, Miss Thoelecke, State Supt. Fowler and Mr. Bullard took part. This subject was treated from the standpoint of a teacher, a patron, a county superintendent, a state superintendent and a member of a board of education. The remarks throughout were extremely interesting. Saturday afternoon the girls' gymnasium club of this city gave exhibition drills without the clubs or dumb bells, the object being to show that these drills can be given without expense in the way of paraphernalia to a school district or the pupils. Drills with the clubs and dumb bells were also given in the evening. These exhibitions called for enthusiastic applause. The session closed with a lecture on "Fits and Misfits" by Prof. Preston of the Fremont Normal.

Isaac Stoddard, of Shenandoah, Iowa, who returned home about three weeks ago from a visit with his brother A. M. Stoddard at Spuds, came back again the last of last week. The large acreage of sugar beets that will be planted in the valley this season are well under way at the present time. The acreage to be planted after this week will be limited. Corn planting will soon be a thing of the past in this community. A large acreage is being planted. Outside of the Nichols creamery, there is not butter enough made in this locality to supply the home demand.

James McMichael and crew returned to North Platte the latter part of last week, having completed the carpenter work on W. H. Jenkin's new farm residence. Wm. Johnston of that city is plastering it at this time. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Goodwin took in the theatre at North Platte Saturday evening. Rev. W. M. Evans of Hershey is slowly recovering from his recent accident. J. C. Gyger, of the Nichols creamery, has been transacting business up the line lately. Several people from this section of the county were transacting business at the county seat on Saturday.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

A. J. Sheridan, who had lived in the vicinity of Paxton for a number of years, sold out last week and will take a trip to Montana and Idaho with a view of locating.

The city of Gibbon went dry at the recent election, but there is a contest on, the effort being made by the wets to invalidate the election because of the illegal handling of the ballots. It seems that after the count on election night the dry-wets were afraid that the wets would tamper with the ballots, so they took them to Kearney and put them in a vault at the court house. The wets now claim that the legal depository was the city clerk, and they want to have the election declared off.

Over near Ravenna some unknown parties with rather peculiar ideas of practical joking visited Adolph Kocherscheidt's home during the absence of the family a week ago last Sunday, and drove a lot of pigs into the kitchen and shut the door. When the Kocherscheidt family returned home in the evening they found the pigs in the kitchen, a sack of flour torn open, a pail of water upset, a dough wallow formed in the middle of the floor, and the swine were making themselves entirely at home.

A Custer county farmer has discovered that hogs in alfalfa fields are doing good work. As is well known nearly every field is infested with some kind of a worm—called by some people the army worm, but nobody appears to know for a certainty the exact breed. Well, this farmer found a pig industriously rooting in the alfalfa and at first thought the porker was doing injury to the growing crop. Investigation, however, showed that the animal was turning up the earth around the alfalfa bunches and devouring the large number of worms which his industrious snout brought to the surface.
