Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan, of Grand Island, came up last evening to attend the May Party and are visiting friends in town today.

W. E. Price, who left for the west a few days ago, is now installed as Union Pacific watchman in the Ogden yards. "Bill" is of that physique that strikes terror to the heart of the average hob.

A. Howard and wife spent the early part of the week in Cheyenne, and enroute home stopped in Ogalalla yesterday to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Howard's parents.

All our young ladies should hear Mrs. Carpenter's free lecture at Baptist parsonage tomorrow afternoon at 3 and Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Union Pacific has issued a little booklet entitled "A Thrilling Ride by Moonlight," which is a story of a ride on an engine of train No. 5 from Omaha to Grand Island. It is an interesting story and makes good advertising matter for "The Overland."

The people of Ogalalla are considerably stirred up over the license question. Last Saturday the village board met and granted a license to Mans Sheffield, but as the two weeks granted by law for filing a remonstrance had not expired the action of the board was premature. A remonstrance has now been filed and a merry war is in progress.

A Crowning Success.

With due recognition of the many successful social functions that have been given in North Platte in the past, THE TRIBUNE pronounces the Twentieth Annual May Party of Division 88, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, given at the opera house last evening, the crowning success of them all. In point of attendance and superb electrical decorations was this especially true. Never before had such a large crowd of spectators and dancers assembled in the opera house, and never before had the ball presented such a brilliant appearance. The result attained was well earned; it was the culmination of days of active work of brain and hand on the part of the arrangement committee consisting of Messrs. Hosler, Ell, Austin, P. A. Norton and Douglas, aided by the resourceful Fikes and others. They began the work with one end in view—the production of the most elaborate public function ever given in this city. That they attained the coveted goal is unquestioned.

In planning the electrical decorations the committee was assisted by Manager Walker of the electric light company and the color scheme was most excellent. Extending from the center of the ceiling to the galleries on both sides were dozen colored streamers or arches thickly studded with red, white and blue incandescent bulbs, and in the center hung a large globe covered with tri-colored bunting and on which were placed nearly one hundred white lights. The stage had been transformed into a horizontal pyramid made of black cloth, the front opening of which was the size of the stage opening. At the farther end of the pyramid were the letters B. of L. E. made of white globes, and extending from the opening to the apex were also rows of lights. This made a beautiful view, especially from the galleries.

From eight until nine o'clock Hart's orchestra gave a concert, and the half dozen selections were rendered in such a manner as to call forth applause. The dance music rendered throughout the evening by this organization proved highly satisfactory.

The grand march was called shortly after nine o'clock, and with Miss Orta Tracy and Master Harry Smith as leaders executed a number of forms, at the conclusion of which quadrille sets were formed, and from that hour until 3:30 o'clock this morning the twenty-six dances followed each other closely with the exception of the hour taken for supper at midnight.

The attendance of dancers filled the floor rather closely, and more or less jostling resulted, but the participants were in a happy mood and took all interferences very good naturedly. Many handsome gowns were to be seen, flowers were in abundance, and the floor scene was a very pretty one.

Among the attendants were people from Omaha, Cheyenne, Grand Island and Kearney, and from them were heard many complimentary remarks relative to the decorations, the nicety with which everything was conducted and the apparent high social standing of those present.

Long will the Twentieth Annual May Party live in the memory of the attendants, and many have been the compliments extended to the members of the committees.

To Manager Walker of the electric light company is due much credit for his untiring supervision of the electrical decorations, and the success which was so creditable. The display he made certainly had a tendency to popularize electric lights, not only for such occasions but for all lighting purposes.

The presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew" on the evening of the 9th is a theatrical event of which North Platte people seldom have a chance to witness. The company should be greeted by an audience commensurate with the value of the play and the excellence of the company.

Beauty and Strength are desirable. You are strong and vigorous, when your blood is pure. Many—nay, most—women, fail to properly digest their food, so become pale, thin and weak, while the brightness, freshness and beauty of the skin and complexion depart. Remedy this unpleasant evil, by eating nourishing food, and taking a small dose of Herbio after each meal, to digest what you have eaten. 50 cents at Streitz's corner Drug Store.

The Christian church has secured a pastor and he will commence his work July 1st.

C. P. Rose, who has the contract for building a big irrigation ditch on the Paxton ranch north of Ogalalla, has about fifty teams at work and about one-third of the excavating has been completed.

F. Lawrence Walker, manager for Chas. B. Hanford, is in town today completing arrangements for the appearance of the company in this city on the evening of the 9th. North Platte is the only town in which the company appears between Cheyenne and Omaha.

We learn that about one-half of the peach trees on Dave Hunter's farm north of Sutherland were winter killed. Mr. Hunter had the finest peach orchard in Lincoln county and had not such a large percentage of the trees been killed, he would have been able to supply the greater part of the late peaches needed in this market.

El Loveland, who is working a number of teams on the U. P. grade at Lookout, Wyo., came down last night to look after business matters. He says that while the average laborer only remains about ten days on the work, no difficulty is experienced in keeping the teams supplied with drivers. He will return to Lookout tomorrow.

The precipitation last month was but ninety-two one-hundredths of an inch, which is an inch and a half less than April, 1901, and nearly two and one-half inches less than in April, 1900. The average precipitation for the month is 2.16 inches. So far this year there is a deficiency of seven-tenths of an inch as compared with the average for twenty-seven years past.

Save the Loved Ones!
Mrs. Mary A. Vilet, Newcastle, Colo. writes: "I believe Ballard's Horehound Syrup is superior to any other cough medicine, and will do all that is claimed for it, and it is so pleasant to take. My little girl wants to take it when she has no need for it." Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the great cure for all pulmonary ailments. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at A. F. Streitz's Corner Drug Store.

Dashing Roystering Petruccio.

Manager Lloyd has given evidence of his desire to please the best class of theatre-goers in this city by booking Charles B. Hanford in the scenic revival of "The Taming of the Shrew," which will be seen at the opera house on May 9th. This play is regarded by authorities as the most amusing of Shakespeare's comedies. There is no modern farce which equals it in respect to genuine fun. Nearly every line in the play conceals a laugh and every situation is a mine of merriment. As the dashing, roystering Petruccio Mr. Hanford has scored, it is stated, the most conspicuous success of his career. The role of Katherine will be portrayed by Helen Grantly, who has already won golden opinions for her portrayal of this character both in Great Britain and in this country. Included in the supporting company are Marie Dronah, Emma Hayner, William J. Shea, Irving Knight, Roland Gibson, P. A. Nannary, Harold Fiske, Paul Anderson, R. O. Meech, L. W. Browning, John C. Davis and other well known Shakespearian artists.

Fun is Fast and Furious.

It is an agreeable change to turn from the farces of the present day to the immortal comedies of William Shakespeare. In the latter class "The Taming of the Shrew" is perhaps the best. Its fun is fast and furious and once seen it is not easily forgotten. There never were a pair of lovers whose actions have created as much amusement as Katherine and Petruccio. It is a pleasure to note that the well known Shakespearian star, Charles E. Hanford, is appearing this season in a revival of this delightful old comedy. Mr. Hanford should be admirably suited to the role of Petruccio. Miss Helen Grantly, who is a stranger here but whose fame has nevertheless reached this city, will be seen as Katherine. The production will be given at the opera house on Friday evening, May 9th. A complete scenic revival is promised by the management, the James B. Delcher Company, and the supporting company is said to be one of the strongest on the road this season.

Chairman Ridgely, of the republican county central committee, is sending out letters to the members of the committee advising them of a meeting of the committee on May 10 to select a date for the county convention. It is probable that the convention will be held on June 7th, ten days ahead of the state convention, and that the necessary delegations to the state, congressional, senatorial and representative district conventions will be named at that time; and a county attorney also be nominated. This will do away with the necessity of holding two conventions. The nomination of a county commissioner will probably be made at a convention to be held at some convenient point in the commissioner district.

E. R. Smith tells us that the subscriptions to the Gandy-North Platte telephone line which he received in this city assures the completion of the line; and that the material will be ordered immediately. We have reason to believe that the construction of this line will prove beneficial to the commercial interests of North Platte.
