UGLY MAN CAPTURES AN HEIRESS

Incident Which Proves There Is No Accounting for Tastes.

Rosa Romblinski, a strikingly beautiful young Polish heiress of millions, who eloped at Vienna the other day, must have curious tastes. The girl, who is only 17, was whisked away from her home by her mother, who found out that she was carrying on a flirtation with a man much beneath her socially. The two women went to a hotel in Vienna, but the other morning the girl got up at 5 o'clock, slipped down stairs, dodged the porter, who was dazing in the hall, and jumped into a cab in which her admirer was waiting. Then they drove off and could not be traced. It is now said that the heiress' swain is over 50, that he is short and ugly, squints, has a crooked nose and red hair, and dresses wretchedly. Some time ago he was thrown from a horse and fell on his face, which is covered with repulsive scars. He isn't even rich.

Characteristic of Cecil Rhodes.

A story of Cecil Rhodes is related by the daughter of a well-known portrait painter. Mr. Rhodes was in the artist's studio, preparing to sit. "How are you going to paint me?" he inquired with undisguised anxiety. Before the artist could reply Mr. Rhodes added determinedly: "if you don't paint me full face, you don't paint me at all, unless it is the back of my head. Why does a man want to paint you side face, when all honest men look you straight in the face?"
